Congress Is Annoyed By Canada

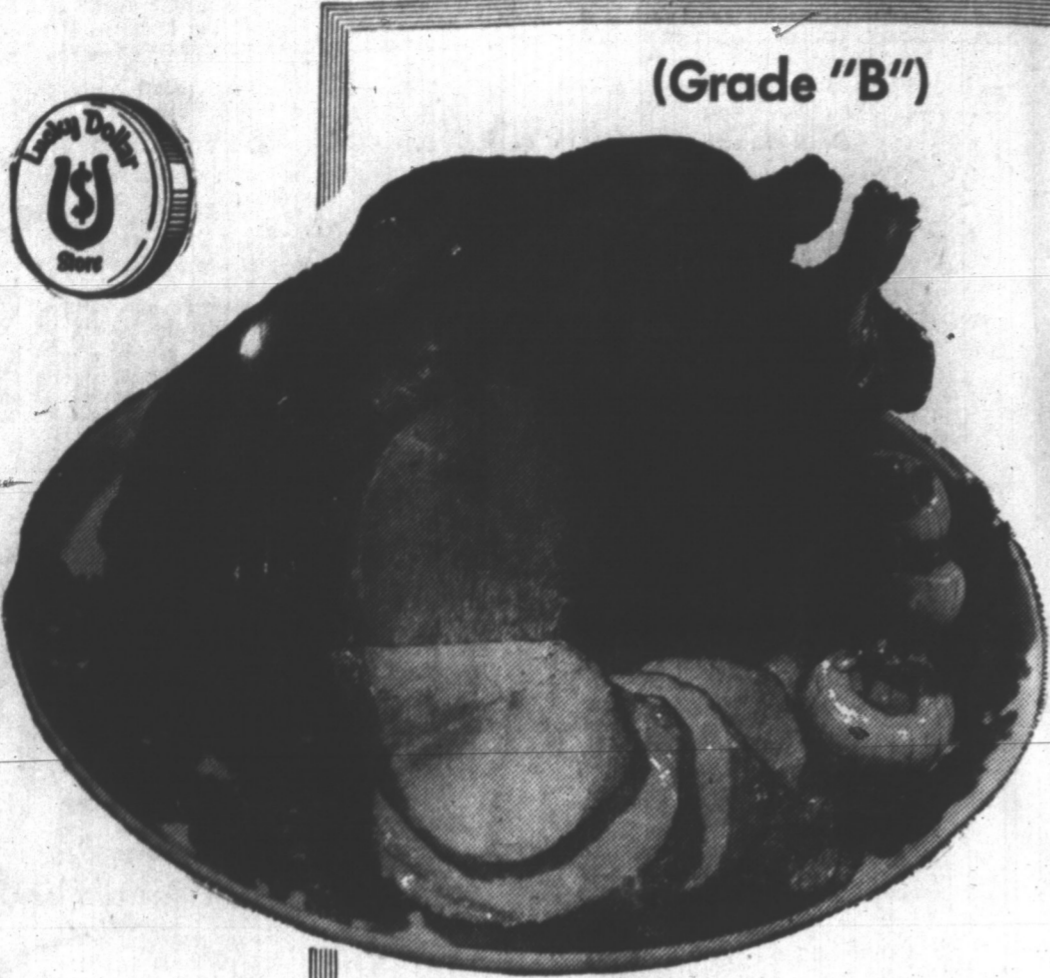

By HAROLD MORRISON
WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada's decision to maintain commercial trade relations with Cuba despite the United States trade embargo has stirred some resentment in Congress.
Senator Kenneth Keating, New York Republican, said he is "very disappointed" with Canadian policy.
"I think Canada is making a great mistake in not co-operating with other American states in imposing economic sanctions on Cuba," Keating said in an interview.
A member of the Senate internal security subcommittee and the Senate judiciary committee, Keating has been critical of Western trade with Communist countries. He has criticized Britain for selling commercial aircraft to Communist China and has called for a tightening up of the Western ban on shipment of strategic goods to Communist countries.

Cut Is Refused In Royal Grant

LONDON (Reuters) — British treasury official Sir Edward Boyle refused in the House of Commons to change the legislation under which the Royal Family is given more than £600,000 a year.
Opposition Labor party legislator William Hamilton, a frequent critic of the cost of keeping royalty, made a bitter attack on the legislation which he said was "a gold-plated assistance board."
But Boyle, financial secretary to the treasury, rejected any change.
Queen Elizabeth receives £475,000 a year for herself and her household.
Queen Mother Elizabeth gets £70,000; Prince Philip, the Queen's husband, £40,000; the Duke of Gloucester, the Queen's uncle, £35,000; Princess Margaret, £15,000.
All grants except that to the Queen are taxed.

Nfld. Gov't Has Emergency Site

OTTAWA (CP) — A site 28 miles west of St. John's has been chosen as the Newfoundland government's headquarters in case of wartime emergency.
The prime minister's office said tenders will be called shortly for construction at the site near Holyrood.
Newfoundland is the last province to complete emergency provisions for governmental operation.
The sites are designed to provide operational capability for a small group of federal, provincial and military personnel. While they are not designed to give protection against nuclear explosion, they are constructed so operations can be carried out despite the presence of nuclear fallout.
PAPAL ELECTION
"Conclave" is the official title of the meeting in Rome at which cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church gather to elect a pope.
