UPEI Theatre Society Seeks Actors

It's audition time again for the fall theatre production of the UPEI Theatre Society. This semester's play is "Love Is Strange" (originally called "I Love You Anne Murray"), inspired by the case and trial of a Saskatchewan farmer who was obsessed with Anne Murray. First produced in 1984, this play is set on PEI.

All full-time and part-time studnets interested in acting are invited to audition for a role in the play. No previous acting experience is necessary.

Anyone interested in having an audition should contact Prof. Richard Lemm at the English Department office, or Prof. Lemm's office - Main 135, to schedule a time, or phone 566-0592.

Volunteer Bank:

Hitting our third week of school and already there is too much to do - study, classes, sleep, committees, the Barn... When is our next holiday?!

Now that we all have too much work to accomplish in any given amount of time, how's about getting involved with your own acitivites/committees; athletics?

All Frosh received a VOLUNTEER BANK INFORMATION SHEET in your Frosh packages. Everyone else got one on Registration Day in your Student Union packages. They were the very bright yellow sheet stating - VOLUNTEER BANK INFORMATION SHEET.

It is never too late to join a society or become a member of the student newspaper or CIMN. If you are interested but do not know where to join or to pick up a form, just drop inot "the Barn" and ask Betty or any of your most knowledgeable executive. (The latter has yet to be defined!?)

Get involved with your university...have some fun...meet some new people...

See ya around campus; at the Student Union (the Barn) or maybe even in the library!

Have a GOOD ONE!
