B-K Visit Results In Furious Row In British Labor Party

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON (AP)—Soviet leaders cut a long-standing socialist campaign argument—that a Labor government could negotiate better with the Russians than a Conservative regime.

STARTED AT DINNER
The bickering arose from a private dinner party given by the labor party for Bulganin and Khrushchev at which Hugh Gaitskell, the Labor party leader, raised the question of imprisoned Social Democrats and Jews in Russia and the satellites and offered to supply a list of 200 still in jail. Social Democrats are political comrades of the Laborites.

Khrushchev angrily accused Gaitskell of talking "nonsense." He said there were no Social Democrats in Russia and what happened to them in the satellite countries was none of his business. His remarks upset the Kremlin appeacart as far as the present aim of forging united fronts with west European socialists is concerned.

Gaitskell has denounced the uncurrent campaign being waged by some Conservatives.

IN MEMORIAM

In remembering the death of Adrian MacInnis of Souris on March 23, a former R.O.P. Inspector for the Maritimes for 27 years, it is difficult to realize that a man so active and apparently healthy should be called to his eternal reward after a brief illness of two weeks in the Charlottetown Hospital at Charlottetown, P.E.I. All that possibly could be done to restore his health by medical attention and fervent prayers was unavailable and he passed away with the same patient submission to God's Holy Will, and fortified by the consoling Sacraments of his beloved church, which sustained him so well during his life.

His numerous friends throughout the Maritime Provinces, but particularly his beautiful family to whom he impressed the value of education and christian living as well as his old comrades of the 8th overseas battery will ever remember his pleasing personality, his genial companionship, his home loving principles, and enduring christian character which endeared him to so many until such time as they themselves answer the summons to the "Great Beyond."

He was born at Red Point, P.E.I. on September 10, 1884, the eldest son of Hugh and Flora MacInnis and received his early education at the local public school and after leaving he became interested in the manufacture of dairy products and enrolled at the New Brunswick Dairy School at Sussex from where he graduated in May, 1906. During the following years he was employed as cheese and butter maker at Red Point-Souris, Govan Brae in P.E. Island and at Antigonish N.S. A number of awards were presented to him for his superior quality products at many of our Maritime Live Stock and Farm Products fairs. He spent a short time in the U.S.A. where he was employed as conductor on the Boston Elevated Railways, returning to Souris where in 1912 he married Miss Lorella MacDonald a successful school teacher.

He enlisted in the 8th Siege Battery in May 1916 at Charlottetown and served with that unit overseas and through the severe and critical days and battles at Vimy Ridge, Armentieres, where he was severely gassed in 1917, at Passchendaele, Amiens, Hindenburg Line, Arras, Dinant and Valenciennes and at all times he gave his best by his devotion and integrity to the great cause of freedom and christianity. He returned to Charlottetown in May 1919 where he received his discharge. It was in this unit he cemented so many enduring friendships by his devotion to duty, his elevating example and his pleasant and encouraging personality all of which had such an edifying and uplifting effect especially upon the morale of the many younger boys so far from home and living under such extreme circumstances.

Truly, "At the going down of the sun, and in the morning" they shall remember him.

There are left to mourn his beloved wife, four sons and one daughter, Dr. Frank MacInnis, Dr. James MacInnis, Lloyd MacInnis and Wendell MacInnis. His daughter Miss Mary MacInnis a public Health Nurse for P.E. Island. Also he leaves two sisters and one brother, Mrs. E. J. Kelly (Agnes) and Mrs. Thomas Grane (Jean) of Roxbury, Mass. A brother Michael resides at Souris, and to all of these the sympathy of his friends and neighbors is extended.

On Saturday March 31st, at 2.30 P.M. his loving family and host of friends and neighbors who were always so welcome at his happy home accompanied his remains to his parish church St. Mary's at Souris where the requiem prayers were intoned and final blessing was administered by his beloved pastor Monsignor J.A. Murphy. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Edwin Steele and Rev. W.M. Simpson. He was tenderly laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery by six of his old friends and loving comrades, Alphonus MacDonald, Harry Leslie, D.R. Mac-dared to raise the subject of the imprisoned Social Democrats we have in any way prejudiced our relations as the next British government with the Soviet government is quite ridiculous," he said. "It is a contemptible piece of anti-Labor propaganda."

The Soviet press has kept hammering at the "anti-Soviet" attitude of Labor party leaders since Premier Bulganin and party boss Khrushchev returned home.

George Brown, outspoken Labor member of Parliament who sparked the clash at the private dinner given the Soviet leaders, has been heckled at some party rallies since. Brown explained to voters in his own constituency in a speech that he objected to certain charges Mr. Khrushchev made against this country. "The Soviet Communist boss was reported to have blamed Britain's pre-war policy for forcing Moscow to make a pact with Hitler."

Cormack, Hugh Campbell, Theodore Ellis and J.J. MacDoanid. The many Mass Cards, messages of condolence and personal expressions of sympathy will console the bereaved family by helping them to realize, perhaps more fully, how much their husband and father was appreciated and his memory revered by so many who had the pleasure of knowing him and calling him "Friend."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Adrian MacInnis wish to sincerely thank Dr. Lea, the clergy, Sisters and nurses of the Charlottetown Hospital, kind relatives and friends who assisted in many ways during their recent sad bereavement. Also to those who sent floral tributes, Mass cards, spiritual bouquets, enrollments, cards, and letters of sympathy.

Artist's Resemblance To Own Painting Of Christ Censured

TORONTO (CP)—An unhealed artist's one-man show has set citizens of suburban New Toronto seething.

They protest that 52-year-old Zoltan Rakos has used himself as a model in several portraits of Christ.

There, they say, are Rakos's slightly-battered nose and trim moustache on the ace of the Lord. Said Rev. A. N. Tomlinson of Alderwood Presbyterian church: "We can't fool around with a serious thing of this nature. I think the artist was ill-advised."

SERIOUS THING

Rev. E. C. Dyer of Century United Church added: "I don't know of any human being perfect enough to portray Christ. It's a serious thing morally. I am afraid the paintings will impress youthful minds that Christ was just another man."

Officials of the Lakeshore Players, an amateur theatrical group which sponsored the show in New Toronto secondary school, said they are stunned by the reaction. Said Mrs. Vera Mason: "If everyone who telephoned attends the show from now until Saturday we'll have to call the police."

FIRST EXHIBITION

The 24-week exhibition, Rakos's first since he immigrated from Hungary in 1928 and set up a studio in his father-in-law's home, is scheduled to open Friday. Certain community leaders were invited to a preview Wednesday night. They left aroused. There are several self-portraits in the show.

He jumped bail of $50,000.

man, says about his portraits of Christ:

"This is my spiritual feeling and I can explain to no one. When I start to do a painting of Christ I must depend on my imagination—can I ask for someone to model? And that is how it comes out. "It happens that I have a resemblance to the paintings of Christ done over the last 2,000 years. My friends have told me this. Is that my fault?"
