They will go into camp at the Exhibition grounds on June 20th and break camp on June 28th. This unit has a splendid record in the past and everything points to an exceptionally satisfactory nine days' training this year.

THINGS OF BEAUTY—Two fine enlargements from photographs taken by Capt. A. R. B. Duck, of the wooden cross recently unveiled and decorated by returned soldiers on Queen Square, are being shown in Mr. Craswell's Studio window, Great George St. Wreaths of flowers at the foot of the cross show in the pictures very beautifully.

CIRCUS COMING—Mr. Frank McGuire, Advance Agent, of the John Robinson Circus, was in the city yesterday making arrangements for a visit of his Company here on June 29th. Mr. McGuire has selected Mr. Hughes' field, corner of Highland Avenue and Spring Park Road for the site of the great entertainment. John Robinson's Circus is the oldest and one of the largest in America and this is the ninety-ninth year it has been on tour. Mr. McGuire, who was formerly with the Haag Circus, knows the Island pretty well having visited here in 1913. On present occasion the Circus will show in Charlottetown only.

VALUABLE GUIDE—Bullinger's Postal and Shipping Guide for the United States and Canada for 1922 has just been received. It is a most comprehensive work, giving names and locations of all Post Offices, shipping ports and railway connections in the United States and Canada. It is a volume of 1240 pages, neatly bound in cloth, conveniently arranged and a correct guide. A copy of this valuable work should be in every business man's office.

FAR AWAY HILLS—People of Charlottetown need go no further than Marshfield to see what kind of roads the Bell government Highway scheme has developed. This road is positively dangerous to automobiles and according to the Bell government it is the automobilists who are paying for the alleged improvements. Car owners are most indignant at the state of this road over which there is heavy traffic daily. The Patriot has been boasting of the good roads far away from Charlottetown, but judging from local experience it must be case of far away hills looking green to the disappointed sojourner at home.

Rich Costumes Worn in Siamese Dance in Picture "Fool's Paradise"

A million stitches for twelve two thousand set of jewels; sapphires, emeralds, rubies and rhinestones. Counting fifty stitches to each jewel, it can be seen that the original estimate for the twelve costumes is conservative.

That's what it took to make the gorgeously bejeweled costumes on the Siamese Dancing girls in one episode of Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount Picture, "Fool's Paradise" which will be shown at the Prince Edward Theatre Wednesday May 24th, and at the Strand Thursday May 25th.

These costumes, perhaps the most ornately beautiful ever designed for the screen were created by Claire West, special costume designed for Cecil B. DeMille production. The twelve dancers appear in reproduction of famous Temple Dances. The weight of their costumes is considerable as each garment is decorated with at least

And these costumes were for dancers only and to gain a special effect. Going into the costumes of the principals is another story. Marvelous sable cloaks and ermine negligees, startling jeweled Japanese costumes and a succession of interesting Spanish gowns place this newest DeMille picture at an exceptional point of feminine vesture.

Playing the principal roles are Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Magle, Theodore Kosloff, John Daivdson Julia Faye.

BILL'S COW SETS UP DRINKS TO PAIR OF BLACKSNAKES

WESTPORT, Con., May 22—Bill Bedient came to town today with two long rolls of butter and a tall story. The town swallowed the story, but Bill had to take his butter back to his farm.

Bill has a cow named Lucinda that always has been a prime milker, but, lately Lucinda hasn't been doing her full duty by the milk pail. Yesterday afternoon, shortly before the hour when he calls the cows for milking, Bill and his dog peter went up into the back pasture to investigate.

They found Lucinda reclining in the shade of a maple in the company of two black snakes, each of which was gorging itself on Lucinda's milk.

At Bill's involuntary ejaculation of surprise Lucinda scrambled to her feet looking sheepish, while the thieving black snakes went wriggling off, oozing milk from the corner of their mouths.

Bill chased one snake and Peter the other. Each of them had a long run, for the snakes, though full of milk were lively. Bill caught his and killed it and then helped Peter out, the dog being reluctant to tackle a fivefoot reptile. Bill skinned the snakes and found that owing to the rapidity of their flight each had churned his supper into butter. There was no market for the butter when Bill told its history.
