Provincial Red Cross Operation Is Studied

This week the Red Cross in Prince Edward Island has had an interesting and interesting study visitor in the person of Ferdinand Gibler of Vienna, Austria.

Ferdi, who is just 21 years of age, speaks English fluently in addition to German and French. At the present time he is a student at Vienna University of Technology where he is studying electronics. When he graduates in four years' time with his doctor's degree, he will join the staff of the Austrian Red Cross where his qualifications will serve him well in the duties he will have to perform. The Austrian Red Cross, as one of its many activities, maintains an ambulance service involving some 300 ambulances all equipped with intercommunication systems.

Mr. Gibler came to Canada the end of July as an adult leader at the International Junior Red Cross Study Centre held at the University of Toronto during August. Since the conclusion of this Study Centre, which Ferdi describes as a wonderful experience in international understanding he has been getting first hand information about Canadian Red Cross activities by visiting the Red Cross divisions in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, P.E.I. and Nova Scotia.

LAST YEAR'S Rural Youth Fair produced one of the most unusual photographs of the season when Winston, Jimmy and Charlie Lund, members of the Mt. Herbert-Calf Club won the showmanship championships with their prize winning Ary-shires. Scenes like this may well be repeated at this year's two-day fair which will be opened officially this evening.

The new members of royalty will be officially crowned by last year's King and Queen, Eugene Donohue, Cornwall Calf Club, and Linda Paoli, of Notre Dame Homeyembers Club, Charlottetown.
