MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MARTIN

Lohengrin's 'Wedding March' Greets Bride At Cathedral

Baskets of mixed flowers created a pretty setting at St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown, on Sept. 7 for the marriage of Joan Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selem Korrey, to Robert Winston Martin, son of Mrs. Bessie Martin and the late Hugh Martin. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Ven. J.R. Davies.

The bride entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March" and the choir sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie with scooped neckline, long lily-point sleeves, and a bustle and slight train at the back. Embroidered lace accented the neckline and waist. Her bouffant shoulder length veil was held in place with a wedding ring band trimmed with pearl sequins. She carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

Miss Janet Korrey, sister of the bride, as maid of honor and Miss Catherine Shams, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore identical dresses of turquoise nylon over peau de soie with scooped neckline and a chapel train falling softly at back. They wore matching shoes and wedding ring band headdresses. They carried bouquets of shasta daisies.

Bruce Martin was best man and Eugene Korrey, brother of the bride and Paul Lea, cousin of the groom, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheath dress and winter white hat trimmed with black, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a flowered blue dress and jacket, a blue velour hat, black accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at Montgomery Hall. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mr. Davies proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Miss Norice Weatherby circulated the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to Massachusetts the bride wore a three piece beige linen suit with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of bronze roses.

Out of province guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hartley and Bruce Martin, Halifax, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lea, Moncton, N.B.; Mrs. George Alick, Springhill, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacPhee, Concord, Mass. U.S.A.

UCW Session Held Jointly

The Lot 16 United Church Women were hostesses to the three units of the Princetown UCW with Mrs. Ralph Johnston at the manse for their September meeting.

Mrs. Kenneth MacLean was the leader for the worship service with the theme "Beginning Again" and was assisted by Mrs. Larry Yeo who read the Scripture passages.

Mrs. Clarence Carr was pianist and accompanied Miss Maybelle Carr who sweetly sang two selections.

"Faith is for children too," an article in two parts, was read by Mrs. Jack Yeo, and Mrs. A.K. MacGregor.

The various groups met separately for their business period.

It was decided to contact the Wilmot Quartette to see if they would be available for a Thankoffering service and members were reminded to renew their subscriptions to the Observer at next meeting.

Mrs. Everett Bearisto will entertain the members for the October meeting which will be held on the second Thursday if weather is wet; if fine, on the third Thursday.

A social hour was enjoyed and lunch was served by several of the women.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Dampened clothes awaiting ironing invite mildew. If you can't iron dampened articles within a few hours after sprinkling them, put them in the refrigerator. Wrapped in plastic, they will stay fresh in the refrigerator for several days.

Cleaning cupboard shelves? To anchor shelf paper without using thumb tacks, apply small pieces of freezer tape or masking tape at strategic spots. It peels off easily without leaving gummy marks when you remove it.

Use a rubber scraper to separate bacon slices for cooking without tearing them. Just slip the edge of the scraper under one or more slices and gently loosen them intact.

White accessories add a fresh cool look to a room. In this line consider white bowls, white place mats, white containers for cut flowers or plants, white lamp shades or a bowl of white flowers.

Trying to teach your toddler to eat tomatoes? Maybe an occasional snack of cherry tomatoes will do the trick. These little tomatoes appeal to children.

SUMMER ENDS

Summer was officially over at 1:24 p.m. EST, Sept. 23—the time of the autumnal equinox.

MR. AND MRS. FRANCIS P. FOWLER

St. Paul's Church, S'side Setting For August Vows

The wedding of Patricia Eileen (Patty) Grant, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A.R. Grant, to Francis Paul Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Fowler of St. Johns, Newfoundland, took place at St. Paul's Church in Summerside.

Rev. Father Lawrence Landrigan of St. Dunstan's University performed the double ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass which was served by Noel Fowler, brother of the groom.

Miss Virginia MacDougall and Miss Eileen Grant, class friend and cousin of the bride, sang during the ceremony and were accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Steele.

The church was tastefully decorated with assorted potted chrysanthemums and white bows marked the guests' pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white organza mist featuring a bateau neckline and tapered lily point sleeves. Satin roses and petals were appliqued throughout the modified dome skirt and cathedral train. Her circular Queen Anne veil was of tulle illusion edged with scalloped Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses and white feathered carnations with English ivy gracefully trailing.

Miss Peggy Grant, maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Margaret Fowler, Miss Frances MacDougall, and Mrs. Ann Boyle, bridesmaids, wore gowns of white Chantilly lace over blue taffeta. Their pillbox hats and picture hat of the maid of honor were styled by Adella's. The maid of honor carried a semi-cascade bouquet of Shastas and the three bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets, all in blue tones blending with their gowns.

The groom was attended by his brother, Ronald J. Fowler, and the ushers were J. Roy Grant, Dr. Kenneth C. Grant, and Thomas T.V. Grant, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Grant chose a two piece melon shantung sheath with matching hat and sapphire mink stole, her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

The mother of the groom was attired in a two piece mint Shantung ensemble with matching hat and black sable stole. Her corsage was of yellow Sweetheart roses.

The reception was held at the Summerside Golf and Country Club where the beautiful background formed a setting for this lovely August wedding.

The reception was held at the Summerside Golf and Country Club where the beautiful background formed a setting for this lovely August wedding.

Luncheon was served to upwards of 150 guests at which the bride's table was decorated with crystal candelabra, tall, slender tapers. Pink Sweetheart roses encircled the three tiered wedding cake.

C. Merritt Crockett, cousin of the bride, was toastmaster. The celebrant, Father Lawrence Landrigan, proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. During the dinner soft music was played by Lowell Huestis. Assisting in serving the guests were: Miss Michelle Gillis, Miss Wendy Grant, Miss Betty Jean Grant, Miss Vernita Gallant, Miss Ernestine MacDonald, Miss Peggy Shea, Miss Marilyn Hughes and Miss Ellen Reddin, all cousins and college friends of the bride. Miss Barbara Fowler, sister of the groom, circulated the guest book.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip through the New England States, the bride wore a periwinkle blue suit with white mink collar, black accessories, and corsage of pink Delight roses.

The newlyweds now reside in Halifax where the groom is a Dalhousie Law Student and the bride is employed as a biochemistry technologist at the Pathology Institute.

Out-of- province guests included: Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Fowler, Miss Margaret Fowler, Miss Barbara Fowler, Master Noel Fowler, Miss Nora Bragg and Miss Andia Sinnott, all of Newfoundland; Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rumble, Toronto; Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Grant and sons Martin and Jeffrey of Ottawa; Thomas Grant, Miss Gisele LaMarshe, and Mrs. Marilyn Hughes of Montreal; Dr. and Mrs. T.E. Grant, Donald E. Grant, Dr. and Mrs. N.C. Grant, Miss Wendy Grant, Miss Betty Jean Grant and Dr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Grant, all of Saint John, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gosse, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hunt, Windsor, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond MacKay, Brooklyn, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. George Lavers and Mr. John Reyno of Halifax, N.S. and Mr. and Mrs. Gill Collins, Quebec City.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Frosty Finger Of Autumn Touches Delicate Blooms

"And my drip-dry shirt, don't forget to pack that, Dear! And, of yes, that new bow-tie, you gave me last Christmas. And..." we overheard Papa Starling say this morning.

"and "this was Mama's voice "I must take those new books, especially that one which treats of child-rearing. The opening pages— I just glanced at them, promise it will be both interesting and informative. Written by a bachelor, it was. And such a handsome man! His photo is there. The introduction says he made this his study to get his degree. He believes children should..."

"...and my best cuff- links, Dear, I'll need them. I can't find 'whip nor stitch' of them, though I've searched high and low. You didn't by any chance stow them too safely away?"

We chuckled, reminded of James' remark the other day, and the rather forlorn expressions on the faces of the listening small ones, when he searched for some article, we knew for a certainty we had not put as he now suggested "in some safe place until we needed it."

"Ellen" he said gravely "there's no mistake about it; We're going to discover many a lost article after you've gone —things you've stored away and forgotten where you stowed them!!"

"He believes — this author does — in the anything- for-peace method of rearing one's offspring" Mama Starling continued. "In that way they will never have any frustrations, nothing to bother their blood-pressure. As a matter of fact, given time, that anxiety of earth will vanish completely. And won't that be a benefit to the race? So many nowadays . . . Well, you, yourself know how it is."

Papa's voice held an edge of impatience.

"Were on earth" be questioned, "have those links got to!!! You're sure you didn't..?"

"Haven't I said so?" she replied calmly.

"Well, there's this to it— and it's a pity too, because I would say there'll be more north than west in the mind of today, and so, it would be pretty well at our backs — we can't possibly leave before I've found them!"

And there was a sound of a chair creaking, from accepting his dead weight We chuckled again. At Alderlea when the search is on for some elusive article mislaid: an axe maybe, or a hammer, a shovel or a fork or cuckilke. It is usual for a youngster, shrugging thoughts of thrift aside, to remark lightly, "Lost eh? Well, what of it! They still keep them in stores, don't they? Let's jump in the truck and go and get a new one!"

And another, whose face was momentarily beclouded, will nod and smile.

"Sure!" he will say. "why not? And let's get us some coco-cola too!" We spread the last of our wash to the nice morning, and picked up the clothes-basket to return to the house. There had been frost in the Saturday-night's stars, we could see now. Autumn has touched coldly the more delicate flowerings own here by the old millstream.

"I notice the dahlias got more than a touch of frost" James commented coming by. "It comes early here, doesn't it?"

We nodded.

"Never mind, Ellen— don't feel badly about it. There'll come another summer!" he smiled.

Until tomorrow — Diary — Good-night.....
