Sugar Ray To Meet Tiger Jones In Bout On Jan. 19

CHICAGO, (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson makes the second start of his comeback campaign against Ralph (Tiger) Jones, Yonkers, N. Y., middleweight, at Chicago Stadium Jan. 19.

Robinson knocked out Joe Rindone in Detroit Wednesday night as he emerged from his retirement as middleweight champ. That bout was not televised, but Robinson's Jan. 19 bout will be on coast-to-coast TV.

Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club secretary, said Robinson's new manager, Joe Glaser, objected to Jones as "a little too tough for Robinson at this point."

Glaser was quoted by Gibson as saying Robinson still was rusty after being out of the ring for 30 months.

"If Robinson wants to box in Chicago," Gibson said, "it'll have to be Jones or nobody."

Boxer Suspended, Then Reinstated

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania state athletic commission Tuesday suspended middleweight contender Joey Giardello for 75 days and then, in the same breath, reinstated the fighter on payment of a $500 fine.

Frank Weiner, chairman of the commission, said that Giardello's actions outside of the ring were detrimental to the best interest of boxing. However, Weiner said:

"In this case there is a difference between Joey Giardello and an ordinary boxer. Giardello has been set up as an example to the youth of America, and since he is a very young man, he can still become a very useful citizen by showing repentance and by resolving to show the people of this nation, where he is widely known, that his escapades with the law are ended."

Weiner said that the commission had decided to give the boxer an opportunity to prove himself and to continue in the ring, by allowing him to pay a fine in lieu of his suspension.

Giardello's suspension and fine resulted from an assault on a gasoline-station operator last Oct. 29. He is to be tried on assault charges. Giardello denies that he was involved in the brawl.

Horse Scratched After Scuffle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dixie Style, the 7-to-5 favorite in the first race at Tropical Park Tuesday, was scratched by stewards after a scuffle in the horse's stall and detention of a former jockey.

John Kelly, brother of Dixie Style's trainer Tom Kelly, reported he saw Frank Truschka, the former jockey, in the favorite's stall at 12:40 p.m., 50 minutes before the horse was to have gone to the post.

Kelly told stewards William Almy Jr., James G. Catlett and Dr. W. W. Davis that a scuffle ensued, and he overpowered the diminutive Truschka and searched him. He said he found a hypodermic syringe on Truschka's person.

The stewards summoned Truschka for questioning. Later they ordered Dixie Style scratched, and turned Truschka over to Jack Loomis, chief of the enforcement detail for the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Association.

Loomis said he and members of his staff were still questioning the former jockey and had not placed a charge against him.

Italian Red Sees Trouble

ROME (AP)—Italy's chief Communist, Palmiro Togliatti, opened his party's national convention Sunday with an assertion that Europe faces catastrophe and the prospect of collapse in Italy.

In a 3½-hour speech launching the convention, Togliatti said communism is confronted with a "more serious and bitter situation," both inside Italy and abroad.

He described the projected Western European Union as a "new and heavier military pact imposed on the shoulders of all European peoples and sanctioning the rebirth of aggressive German militarism."

The seven-nation pact, now in the process of ratification, provides for controlled rearmament of West Germany in alliance with Italy, France, Britain, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The Red chief blasted the Italian government's recent anti-Communist measures as "illegal and shameful." He said the country's economic situation is "worrying and in part even desolating." Italy's prospects are "gloomy" and the present trend of Premier Mario Scelba's government may lead to "collapse and civil war."

Bad Memory Saves Cash

OTTAWA (CP)—Odd the way a Canadian Chinese can suddenly forget his English—at the right moment. Take the case of Seto Tensang, manager of a midtown restaurant.

Recounting the incident to police, Seto told of how a well-dressed young man came into his restaurant, ordered a meal and when it came time to pay, slipped Seto at the cash register this pencilled message:

"Give me all the money you have in the cash register. I have a gun."
 The Chinese face went blank. "So sollee," he recalled replying. "I no savvye."
 "You monee," said the young man trying to make the Chinese manager understand. "You monee. I have gun. I have gun."
 Still the same puzzled look. "So sollee. No savvye."
 The young would-be thief, frustrated, started to make for the back stairs.
 "So sollee," Seto called out. "Checkee pleasee."
 The thug paid 85 cents and left.

OPPOSES YOUNG BARMAIDS

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Barmaids would be more than 60 years old and wear black dresses to discourage men from staying too long in hotel bars, L. C. Jordan suggested in the New South Wales Legislative Assembly recently.

Jordan was opposing the state's new liquor bill, a provision of which is the lowering of the minimum age for barmaids from 21 to 18.

Snow Crushes Roof Of Rink

MCADAM, N. B. (CP)—Snow and ice on its roof caused the Canadian Legion memorial rink here to collapse at 3 a. m. Saturday and become a total loss, estimated at $40,000 with no insurance.

No one was in the building at the time. It accommodated a large number of skaters Friday night and would have been well patronized Saturday.

The rink also was used by the McAdam curling club, which suffered a heavy loss. McAdam has no other rink for skating or curling.

Opened in February, 1950, the building was 220 feet long and 100 feet wide, with an ice surface 185 by 85.

Disc Jockey Tries Experiment

MONTREAL (CP)—A Montreal disc jockey who wanted to prove people tire easily of "hit parade" songs made his point Friday night.

Lloyd Chester, on the late radio program Lloyd's Lobby, played a new release 18 times entitled "I Gotta Get My Baby." After each three-minute playing Chester identified the next tune by another name but repeated the same record.

Within 15 minutes listeners began calling the radio station (CFPE) and a few minutes later a telephone exchange capable of handling 50,000 simultaneous calls was completely jammed.

Some listeners telephoned police and several patrol cars were sent speeding to the station.

The record, recorded recently in the United States by Theresa Brewer was reported to have sold some 500,000 copies within 48 hours of its release.

On that basis, Chester told his listeners, the recording is a hit parade candidate "I've saved you three months of effort."

"You're tired of the hit parade record right now—all in one night."

New Assistant Fisheries Deputy

OTTAWA (CP)—Samuel V. Ozere, 52-year-old Austrian-born lawyer, has been appointed assistant deputy minister of fisheries.

Mr. Ozere, who has been director of legal services in the fisheries department, succeeds George R. Clark, who recently became deputy minister when former deputy Stewart Bates was made president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

The new assistant deputy, who came to Canada as a child, has been with the department 10 years. He has acted as legal adviser on several international delegations since then.

At the time of his new appointment, he also was legal adviser to the fisheries price support board and the fisheries research board.

FLY WITH THE FLEET — two worlds to conquer

Your day may begin with a dawn patrol. Or a spell of duty as Officer of the Watch. The Navy's Officer Pilots and Observers get the best of both worlds. They combine the thrills of flying with those of the sea. Their lives are full, exciting, absorbing.

These are hand-picked men — men who have proved their ability during intensive training. They do a vital job. They command their own planes on convoy protection and anti-submarine patrol. They give fighter cover for the ships. On them may depend the whole course of a vital action.

Each day is full for these men of Naval Aviation—full of adventure, full of excitement. Their day can be your day. Their career yours.

FLYING TRAINING—The Navy's Aviators get complete flying training at land bases before they spread their wings at sea.

OFFICER OF THE WATCH—On the bridge, the Naval Aviator is thoroughly trained in seamanship as well as airmanship. This Naval Pilot takes a bearings.

PRE-FLIGHT CONFERENCE—The Pilot-Observer teams of the RCN check details before a flight. Teamwork is a keyword in the Navy.

TOUCHDOWN—Judged to a hairsbreadth at 90 knots, the Naval Pilot cuts his engine for a perfect landing on the carrier's deck.

SMOOTH SAILING—Wings folded in repose, the Avenger and Sea Fury aircraft nestle on deck while the men who fly them enjoy a well-earned rest under tropic skies.

IN SHOOTING—SCORING—The Navy emphasizes physical fitness. The flight deck of an aircraft carrier makes an ideal playing field in mid-Atlantic.

GRAND BLAM—Dinner and a rubber of bridge in the Wardroom for Naval Aviators tonight. Tomorrow, a Fleet Exercise begins.

A SERVICE TO BE PROUD OF
 The Naval Aviator is a Naval Officer who flies with the Fleet. Above the gold lace on his left sleeve are the wings of the Pilot or Observer. Today he is flying—tomorrow he may command a ship. He serves Canada both in the air and on the sea.
