

MARY HAWORTH A Mature Character Developed By Freedom

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Some months ago you wrote about young people living near their fathers when first married. You stated, as I recall, that mature young people are able to adjust to married life even though they may reside near their families, whereas those who find it necessary to move a great distance away were perhaps not ready for marriage.

I believe that was the gist of your thinking. Would it be possible for you to re-publish the substance of that article? DEAR A.B.: In many instances a correspondent was patting her on the back for advice and her husband had given a young couple years ago on the eve of their wedding day.

The gist of their advice was: "Live at least 50 to 100 miles away from relatives during the early years of marriage, until patterns of independence are well established."

Her report continues: "Years later they told us that ours was the wisest, most practical number they ever received and they tributed much of their success in marriage to its principles."

In effect I said if a young couple marries in a mature adult character at the time of marrying, it may be necessary to their further growth if they start their new life together at a distance from old familiar haunts.

On the other hand, responsibly minded young men and women, excited emotionally, weaned from parental leading strings, might select long comfortable

Turkey Supper Is To Be Held

The general meeting of the U.C.W. of the Bideford Pastoral Charge was held in the Conway Church with the president Mrs. James Burchill, of the Bideford unit in the chair.

The U.C.W. Purpose of the meeting was in charge of the Lot 14 unit, led by Mrs. Angus MacLennan. Scripture reading, and prayers were given by Mrs. MacLennan.

The business portion of the meeting was opened by singing the "Home Hymn", "Lead Us O Thou Greater Leader".

It was agreed that all the units would join together to sponsor a hot turkey supper in the new Christian Education Centre.

The supper is to be held on September 30.

Mrs. Herman Dymal gave a thought provoking talk on "The Sabbath".

The next general meeting will be held the last Monday in November at Lot 14 with Conway in charge of the devotional period and Bideford the program.

Following the benediction a lunch was served by the Conway members followed by a social hour.
