A.Y.P.A. Holds Prov. Conference At Crapaud

The twelfth annual Labor Day conference of the Anglican Young People of Prince Edward Island was held at Crapaud Youth Centre Aug. 31, Sept 1 . 2. There was a record attendance with over 80 young people registered and guest speakers coming from Halifax and Charlottetown.

Following registration which was under the direction of Virginia MacKenna assisted by Marlene Birch games and sports were enjoyed by all until 5:30 p.m. when the conference chairman Clayton Mill and Deanery President Allsion Gill spoke words of welcome and outlined the weekend programme. At this time Deanery Chaplain Rev. G. R.F. Ebsary introduced the theme "This is the A.Y.P.A.". and expressed the need for leaders and greater witness in our motto "For Christ and the Church."

After the introduction of the theme an evening of recreation was enjoyed and the evening closed with family prayers led by the Chaplain. This was a time when one forgot the excitement of the day and concentrated on meditation with fellow members.

Sunday morning members attended Holy Communion at 8 o'clock with Rev. W.E. Ingraham officiating followed by Communion breakfast. Miss Catherine Greene Dioscean Youth Worker was director of the four sessions and based her talks and discussions on A.Y.P.A. principles.

The eleven o'clock service was conducted by the members. Lessons were read by Janette Banks and Catherine Greene. Wallie Vatcher led in prayer with Kathleen Ellis at the organ and Allison Gill who took as his text "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" gave the sermon.

After dining Joe Skerry Dioscean President told members of highlights at the June Dominion Conference in Vancouver.

The second session consisted of a panel discussion on organization and structure of A.Y.P.A. The third session was reading time in which each took a book from the Literature Table and concentrated on its contents. Each then returned to the hall and brief reports were given on the books read.

The guest speaker at the 1st anniversary banquet was Dr. George Fisher who took as the heading A.Y.P.A. in which he substituted awareness, yearn, purpose and action for the letters. He stressed that all our efforts would be in vain unless the first 3 words were put into action.

Evensong was held in the church with young people participating. At this service Rev. Ingraham officially installed the Deanery officers and Rev. Ebsary gave the sermon.

During the fellowship hour Miss Greene showed films on her trip to Europe where she visited many Young Peoples Groups. The evening closed with family prayers.

Monday's programme opened with service in the church. This was followed by the Fourth session in which the four principles of A.Y.P.A. were discussed and how we can best put into action the four-fold principles.

During the conference clergy from various parishes paid a visit which showed their interest in the group.

Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock competitive sports events were run off with the boys total point going to Allison Gilla and Clayton Mill as runner-up. Total points for the girls went to Marlene Birch with Lauretta Mill as runner-up.

The conference came to a close with supper and the presentation of a banner to New London parish for having the largest parish representation at the conference

O'Leary Lacks Sufficient Pupils To Open Grade Twelve

An application to have grade XII added to O'Leary High School was not granted yesterday when a delegation met with the Minister of Education, Hon keir Clark.

The delegation headed by Fred Ramsay, M.L.A. (First Prince) were seeking the addition of a grade twelve classroom for O'Leary School which at the present time has facilities for handling grade XI students

Mr Clark referred them to a minute of an order-in-council passed in August 1956 The delegation was shown that according to the minute the first requirement for the establishment of a grade XI or grade XII is to receive the written authorization of the Minister, (that is if they expect to receive financial assistance from the Government).

MUST MEET REQUIREMENTS

The Minister told them he was willing to grant such authority providing the other clauses of the order were complied with.

The other clauses read as follows:

"No district shall establish a new grade XI without an enrollment of 20 pupils in full time attendance or shall establish a grade XII without an enrolment of 15 pupils and no district shall maintain such grades where the number of pupils falls below 15 except on a temporary basis and with special permission from the Minister who must be satisfied that such enrolment is likely to be temporary and where the number of pupils falls below 15 in any grade, except as hereinafter provided, the Department shall pay on a proportionate basis the salary of the teacher concerned and the balance shall be paid to the teacher by the district.

"In districts employing more than one teacher the number of full time students enrolled in actual attendance shall not be less than the following:

(a) Two teachers, a minimum of either 15 students for each grade or a total of 35

(b) An additional 25 students for each additional teacher there after

"Every district having a grade XI or XII must have a separate classroom for each grade"

LACK NUMBERS

The delegation reported that they have at present 14 pupils attending grade XI while last year they had 19 The prospective number of students for grade XII this year is eleven.

Mr Clark pointed out to the delegation that not only did they lack the required number this year to start a grade twelve but with only 14 in grade eleven this year there would be little prospect for increasing the number in 1958.

The Minister offered transportation for any grade twelve students who wished to attend either Alberton or Tignish. He said that to let down the barriers would mean the establishment of highschools in many other areas where their existence was not justified Such procedure he stated would run the cost per pupil out of all proportion.

Teachers Discuss Problems At Convention In O'Leary

The O'Leary teachers convention met at the High School yesterday with an attendance of fifty-six teachers. Sessions conclude today.

The president, Mr. Robert Grindlay, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Blanche Crockette was nominated secretary of the convention.

The minutes of the last year's convention were adopted as read.

The president opened his remarks to the convention with a welcome to all teachers. He said the field of education had been ploughed in the spring and this year it was the duty of men and women of foresight to begin harrowing this field. The teachers in particular should occupy themselves with this task both individually in their respective communities and collectively through their Federation. The seeding could then be left in their capable hands so that the harvest would be an enlightened and intelligent people worthy of this wonderful country of ours.

Miss Estelle Bowness, the energetic and capable secretary of the P.E.I. Teachers Federation, gave a summary of the year's work. She commented in particular on the activities of the workshops in this area stressing the value of teachers meeting to discuss common problems in an informal manner. She encouraged teachers to submit articles for the Educational Horizon. Miss Bowness reminded the group that they should strive to hold high the prestige of the teaching profession.

Mr. Callaghan, the supervisor, advised the teachers to adhere to a definite time table for best results in accomplishing each day's work. He said that the first few weeks of school be given over to reviewing and testing the past year's work.

Dr. L.W. Shaw, director of Education, addressed the teachers during the afternoon session taking as his subject "Basic concepts in the teaching of social Studies". In teaching these subjects concepts or ideas must be developed in pupils minds by association with what they already know so that they learn more intelligently. He concluded with a discussion on the School Act and departmental affairs.

The slate of officers is as follows:

Resolutions, Mrs. Edith Palmer, Mrs. Doris Profit, Mrs. Blanche Warren.

Press, Mrs. Isabelle Campbell Mrs. Olive Atkinson, Mrs. Geraldine MacGregor.
