

"Sorry,
ah, we would like to again apologize for our previous front cover page, which can be found on the front page.
It was quite awkward, but remember, it was also meant to be a joke. We would also like to apologize for this back cover, which is simply not quite as untactful as one would have hoped. Oh, ah... and it is our hope that you at least found the rest of this issue quite awkward, and very untactful indeed. This will be the last, ah... cover page.
Thank you.
Um... Again.

Chastity McDunn
Head of the... well I won't say it here - not on this cover, no way.
