

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 6, 1883.

Bathing Houses.

Canadians, it appears, are paying more attention, of late, to the matter of bathing. The public bath at Wellington bridge, Montreal, was opened last week, and the following figures show how it has been appreciated: On Monday there attended 582 boys and 46 men; and on Thursday 1,120 boys and 182 men, or a total in four days of between four and five hundred men and three thousand boys. A sum of money has been given by a citizen to provide a public bath for Hamilton; and this week the Winman baths are open in Toronto bay.

So says the Monetary Times; and we are pleased to know it. It has often occurred to THE EXAMINER, that, living as we do, right at the water's edge, with every facility for bathing within easy reach, it would be a first rate thing were we to have such things as bathing houses here. Indeed, THE EXAMINER on more occasions than one has ventured to suggest that these bathing houses might possibly be of some advantage and convenience to the general public. But this suggestion, well meant as it was, and timely as it might have been, met with such a cold reception from those in authority, was received with such blank contempt from those whose duty it is to see that the laws of hygiene are not neglected, that it is only with the greatest hesitation and misgivings we allude to the subject at the present time.

During the hot days of summer, regular bathing is something more than a luxury—it is absolutely essential to perfect health. This fact, everyone ought to know; and, knowing it, should make an effort to accomplish it.

But the great drawback is the absence of proper bathing houses. The law forbids swimming around Government shore between daylight and dark and consequently if one wishes to indulge in a good health bath, he must do it at dead of night, and run the risk of catching a severe cold, or else, in early morn, when bed seems to be more preferable.

We hope the Council will take the matter in hand, and, following the example of larger cities of the Dominion, build suitable bathing houses for the accommodation of the public. There need be no large expense incurred, as material and labor are now very cheap; and if a small amount be charged for the privilege of bathing in them, it would not be long before they would more than repay their original cost.

—The election in Monaghan, which resulted in the return of Healey, was a "three-cornered one." The candidates polled, Healey, Home Ruler, 2,226; Monroe, Conservative, 2,011; Pringle, Liberal, 270. In the course of his address to the electors after the result was known, Mr. Healey said landlordism had been trampled under foot, and the election represented the demand of Ulster for speedy reform in the land laws. He had little doubt that before many years every farmer in Ireland would be the owner of his holding.

—A Canadian who visited the Royal Academy in London says:—"By comparison, our Ontario exhibition is, of course, small and very much behind in merit, but with all due respect for English artists and their academy, I must say, for the encouragement of our native artists, that our exhibition contained some pictures that would bear favorable comparison with the bulk of those I saw, excluding probably, a hundred or so of the very best of them."

—The Canadian Gazette says that special efforts are being made this summer to promote emigration from Wales to Canada, and that it is probable that arrangements will be effected by which delegates from the Welsh farmers will visit the Dominion early in the autumn for the purpose of reporting upon the capabilities of the country.

In the Imperial Parliament, on June 14, Mr. O'Donnell asked the Prime Minister if he took any steps to ascertain the opinion of the Canadian people or Government before nominating the Marquis of Lansdowne as Governor-General of the Dominion. Mr. Gladstone replied as follows:—"The hon. member is probably aware that Her Majesty's Government are of necessity engaged from time to time in the nomination of Governors to very important colonies, and to Canada itself. I do not, however, recollect that the Government has ever been asked if it had taken steps to ascertain the opinion of the Canadian people or Government or the Canadian people; and I am not aware that it has been suggested that a precedent should be set in the case of Lord Lansdowne. The Government have not taken, nor do they intend to take any measures of that kind in reference to his Lordship; but I believe that in his case, as in every other case, Her Majesty's Government has ample means of ascertaining what are the general sentiments of the colonists in regard to the sort of person they wish to receive, and making sure that they will be well received. (Hear, hear.) I should have thought that if a gentleman happened to be of high station and character, and great ability, those characteristics would go a long way towards ensuring him a proper reception; and I think that few men in this House would deny that those requisites are possessed in an eminent degree by Lord Lansdowne. (Cheers.)"

The quickest time on record between Sandy Hook and Queenstown was recently made by the steamer Alaska, which traversed the 2,800 miles in twelve minutes less than the complete week, and the same steamer made the voyage from west to east, which is always more favorable, in a less time.

Death of Father McGillivray.

FUNERAL SERMON

PONTIFICAL HIGH MASS

AN IMMENSE PROCESSION

The funeral of the Rev. Father McGillivray this morning was, without any doubt, the largest that ever took place in Charlottetown, and testified to the deep affection entertained for him by his people, as also the respect in which he was held by the whole community. From 8 o'clock the people were thronging in large numbers to the Cathedral, and at 10.15 o'clock, when the service commenced, the vast edifice was filled, but as admirable arrangements had been made, there was no confusion.

Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by His Lordship, assisted by the Very Rev. Dr. McDonald, Rev. Jas. McDonald, V. G., Rev. Jas. Phelan, and Rev. Dr. Grant, Master of Ceremonies. Most of the Priests of the Diocese were present in the Sanctuary. The body which, from yesterday afternoon, enclosed in a handsome rosewood casket, had lain in state in the Chancel, was, robed in his sacerdotal vestments, and covered with a profusion of flowers, placed on a catafalque before the High Altar.

The Rev. Father Wissel preached an eloquent funeral oration, at the close of which the absolutions were pronounced by His Lordship, and at 12.30, p. m., the mournful procession wended its way to the new Cemetery, whose first occupant he was destined to be. The following was the order of the procession:—

- Platoon of Police.
- St. Vincent de Paul Society.
- St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society.
- The Benevolent Irish Society.
- The Clergy of the Diocese.

John A. McDonnell, Hon. W. W. Sullivan, Hon. A. A. McDonald, Jas. Reddin, Esq., P. Blake, Esq. M. P., Thomas Handrahan, School Children, Citizens on Foot, Carriages.

Immense crowds thronged the streets, and business was entirely suspended as the funeral cortege which, it is computed was fully a mile and a quarter long, slowly passed—the stillness broken only by the mournful tolling of the bells from the Cathedral, St. Peter's Church, the Market House Tower, and the King Square Engine House. Arrived at the Cemetery, the last rites were performed, and there was laid to rest that was mortal of Father McGillivray, the much loved Priest, the high minded Christian Gentleman, and the genial friend of all. He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him.

Upon the return of the Benevolent Irish Society to their Hall, the following Resolutions were on motion of W. C. DesBrisay, Vice President, seconded by Judge Reddin, adopted:—

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, in His Providence, to remove by death the Rev. ALEXANDER MCGILLIVRAY, Parish Priest of Charlottetown,

Be it Therefore Resolved, That we desire to express our sincere regret at the loss which has thus been sustained, not only by the Catholics of this Parish, but also by the whole community, as well as by this Society, whose steadfast friend he had ever been.

To those committed to his spiritual charge he proved himself a faithful and kind pastor, untiring in his labors for their welfare. As a citizen, he enjoyed the respect and esteem of all classes, and was always ready to co-operate in every good work. Though not a member of our Society, still, in its benevolent intentions, he was one with us, and gladly gave his services at our religious celebrations. His sermons on these occasions were replete with earnest exhortations to follow the bright example of our Patron Saint, and his vigorous words will live the greener in our memories, as we call to mind that the voice which spoke them is hushed in death. We have to-day performed the sad duty of laying in his last resting-place a noble-minded and generous hearted man—a faithful and devoted Priest of God.

St. Patrick's Total Abstinence Society, upon motion of Richard Walsh, seconded by Daniel Sullivan, passed the following Resolution:—

Whereas, Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call from amongst us the Rev. ALEXANDER MCGILLIVRAY, Priest;

Be it Therefore Resolved, That we desire to place upon our records our deep sense of the great loss we have sustained by his death, as well as to testify our veneration and affection for him as our beloved Pastor and Spiritual Director. His talents and many virtues entitled him to a warm place in the affections of the people he loved so dearly, and for whose welfare he was so unremittent in his labors, in the promotion of the cause of temperance, not only in connection with this Society, but abroad among the people, he was ever active and his labors in this respect were crowned with abundant success. Called away at so early an age, in the midst of the service to which he had consecrated his life, how beautiful to him now the reflection that it was at a time when God had been pleased to accomplish such a glorious work among his flock. His place in the hearts of the people it will be difficult to fill, who pray to God for the repose of that soul who loved them so fondly on earth, and whose intercessions, they know, will still arise for them to the Eternal Throne.

Our Advertisers.

The directors of the Hudson Bay Company, in their report recently presented to the shareholders, say that there are indications of an improved demand for land in British Columbia and Vancouver's Island, and that they have instructed their officers to dispose of various sections belonging to the Company, if satisfactory prices can be obtained for them.

The Markets.

OATS are quoted in Halifax at 45 cents per bush.; in St. John at 47 to 48 cents per bush., and are selling slow. A good many lots are held here yet. They are quoted from 42 to 43, as to quality.

POTATOES—Old stock is not quoted in Boston or New York. Late shipments have turned out very badly—in many cases only realizing freight and duty. There are large quantities still held by farmers here for higher prices, but there cannot be any further demand for them this season.

CHEESE—Montreal and New York quotations are from 9½ to 10½; Island factory cheese are offering at 12c to the trade.

FLOUR AND PROVISIONS—Our Montreal Circular says:—There are no very noticeable features in the situation at present, beyond the fact that there has been some foreign enquiry for the better grades, but no important results are yet reported. Business is on the whole only moderate. Prices are as follows: Superior Extra $5.00 to $6.00; Extra Superfine $4.80 to $4.85; Spring Extra $4.65 to $4.70; Superfine $5.25 to $4.50; Canadian Strong Bakers $5.15 to $5.25; American ditto $6.20 to $6.25. Bran $14 to $16; per ton; granulated Oatmeal, $5.75 to $6; ordinary $5.45 to $5.60.

Pork does not move actively, and prices are less nominal; Canada Short, $22.50 to $22.75; Western Mess, $21.50 to $21.75; Hams, 14 to 14½; Bacon, 13 to 14c; Lard has sold at 13½ to 13¾ cents in pails; Eggs are easy at about 16 cents. The Butter market is dull, there being scarcely any shipping demand, and farmers holding on to their make; creamery brigs about 21 cents; townships, 18 to 19 cents; western, 15 to 17 cents. Cheese is unchanged at 9½ to 10½ cents.

The Lowell Regatta.

HANLAN VICTORIOUS.—EXCITING CONTEST FOR SECOND PLACE.

The regatta at Lowell, Mass., on the 4th inst., was witnessed by fifteen thousand people. The principal race and great attraction was the professional single scull free for all; distance three miles. Five men started, Hanlan, Hosmer, Hamm, Conley and Gaisel.

First money had been universally awarded to Hanlan, but there was a prospect of a close contest for the second place by Hamm and Hosmer. Spellman, of Halifax, has been coaching Hamm and Conley, and there was a rumor prevalent that they would combine and beat Hosmer, if possible, to get square with him for the Chicago race. The start was made from a point near the Dracut shore. Hamm has the best position; then came Conley, Gaisel, Hanlan and Hosmer. Hanlan broke the water first at the word go, and got the lead which he held to the finish. The other men started even, except that Hamm was farthest from the starter, and did not hear the word so quickly. Hosmer kept well up to Hanlan on the first quarter but after that lagged behind.

HAMM AND CONLEY

pulled hard for third place, leaving Gaisel away behind, forcing him to give up before going a half mile. The other four men kept on to the upper stake in the same relative position, Hanlan pulling easily. Hosmer was pushed hard by Conley and Hamm in the order named. Hanlan turned the buoy first and Hosmer second. Conley approached the buoy very leisurely and Hamm was around before him. The race to the finish was a mighty struggle with Hamm to pass Hosmer, but the latter seemed determined to hold the lead to the finish, making the race deeply interesting and wildly exciting. Hanlan, when he saw them approaching him, spurred ahead at a quick stroke, and let more daylight between him and Hosmer. Hosmer, who had the lead kept it, and crossed the line.

THREE BOAT LENGTHS AHEAD

of Hamm. Hanlan's time was 21.21; Hosmer, 21.24; Hamm, 21.34. Hanlan said the race between the two was the best he had ever seen and thinks Hosmer fairly proved his superiority. He believes that Hosmer is as good an oarsman as in America except himself. It is rumored that Hamm's backers offered to match him against Hosmer.

State Aid.

Some of the American papers are working themselves into a state of hysterical excitement over the action of the English Government in giving assistance to Irish immigrants. The New York Tribune, however, is unaffected by the prevailing rabies, and takes a calm view of the situation. "The acceptance of state aid," says that journal, "does not make a man a pauper. Many of the immigrants who arrive have very little money; but so it has been since the century opened. An Irishman who is able-bodied and willing to work ought not to be sent back simply because his passage has been paid by English agents, and he has only a few dollars in his possession. The discharged paupers and criminals ought to be sent back, but not every poor immigrant. For sixty years America has been receiving a vast horde from every nation in Europe—a great mass of ignorant, impoverished, and discontented exiles—and it has trained them in workaday habits, and in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. It offers to-day to the Irish immigrants whom England finds it impossible either to govern, reconcile, or feed, a home, a living, and a country."—Toronto Mail.
