

NOTICES

Due to the fact that we have had a nice, long vacation in Miami, we have much news to tell the world.

First of all, we would like to congratulate Danny MacNeill (Schwarz) on getting the APENS award. (Good drinking money, eh, Dan?!)

The U.N.B. trip held the first weekend of February was a success. The TUNS tour was held on March 11. These tours are to provide engineering students with the opportunity to see both campuses and to help them decide where to continue their education.

As a reminder to all third year engineering students, deadlines for applications for diplomas are March 15. As a special treat, we even get to pay for them.

Now on to more exciting news. Engineering Week is being held from March 14 to March 19. A lot of fun and enjoyment are in store for you. Teams of five people can be made for the entire week. Points will be awarded for participation in each event. And here are some of the events. There is to be a pool tournament, curling, scavenger hunt, bowling, skiing, egg drop contest, pub crawl, plus many other exciting event. For those and other details concerning engineering week, see the Engineering Society executive.

The annual Engineering banquet will be held in April. All engineering students keep that in mind.

To help those people who can't make up their mind to go to U.N.B. or TUNS, we came up with a list of things they may want to consider:

1. The proximity of the university to the bars.
 2. The density of the bars close to the university.
 3. The cost of living. For example, how cheap are the BEvERages?
 4. How close to home are you? In case you run out of money for those wonderful necessities, like ethanol.
 5. How often does it storm? (To estimate how many days off you will have.)
- 6.7.8.9.10 Let your parents worry about the rest.

Quote of the Week: If you consult enough experts, you can confirm any opinion.
