Amnesty International

An Invitation to Join Us

Amnesty International is concerned with human rights. When people are deprived of basic rights by their governments, members of AI all over the world write in protest. As you can imagine, there is no shortage of human rights violations just now! Amnesty International in Canada is active, well organized, and growing. Our advanced level of communication technology enables us to respond quickly to human rights violations, sometimes within 48 hours.

The local chapter of Amnesty International meets on campus the first Monday and third Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in Lecture Theatre A of the Atlantic Veterinary College. New members are always welcome. We usually begin meetings with letter writing in support of human rights, then discuss projects and news pertaining to AI's goals around the globe. For more information, please call Heather DeMille in the evenings at 892-5821.
