

FOOTBALL GAME.

The Abegweits Defeated by a Narrow Margin.

The most ardent admirers of the Abegweits did not expect their favorites to defeat the famous Wanderers on Saturday afternoon, for they well know that the Islanders are not as strong this season on the forward line as in former years. It was not unexpected then, the victory of the Haligonians--by the narrow margin of one "try" which they converted into a pretty goal,--at any rate, it was looked upon as a foregone conclusion before the contest. But a few minutes after the commencement of the game, when the Islanders by clever work slowly but surely pushed their opponents back to their own fifteen yard line, it was confidently expected that the wearers of the black and blue would come out on top when the final whistle blew. But the "Abbies" displayed poor judgment, especially in the second half of the game. Had they reversed their methods of play in the two "halves" they would doubtless have done better, for in the first half with the wind and sun against them they made use of tactics which should have been employed in the second, while in the latter, with the wind in their favor, their close play was more appropriate to the first half. With the score five to nothing against them they should have risked all towards the close of the game. The strong wind was in their favour but the ball kept almost continually in the scrimmage and the half-backs were given no opportunity to display their kicking powers. It would have been much better to play "offside," thereby giving the Wanderers free kicks and thus obtain possession of the oval.

The day was not an ideal one for football. The wind was "hurricane-like," to say the least, and made matters extremely unpleasant for players and spectators alike. Almost three hundred people filled the stand when the ball was kicked off at 3.30. The Wanderers had won the toss, and chose the western goal with a strong wind and sun behind them. Bethune kicked off for the Abbies and before Russell could return he was brought down by the Abbies' forwards. Scrimmages followed, and the Islanders steadily gained ground. Short dashes by Trainor and Lou Macmillan and Duffy brought the ball far into the Haligonians' territory, and the hopes of the Abbies friends ran high. For twenty minutes the ball was kept well within the Wanderers' twenty-five yard line. Free kicks to the latter brought it out but it was immediately rushed back. McKinnon secured the ball from a dribble and had almost a clear field before him, but Dobbie downed him before he could get away. Another free kick brought the rubber ten yards from the Abbies goal line where it remained in scrimmage for some seconds. The Wanderers' forwards started a dribble. Moffat, Ruggles, McCurdy and Wood made a clever combination play. Bethune brought Moffat down but the latter passed to Ruggles. It was a forward pass but the referee did not see it. Ruggles passed to McCurdy who was tackled by C. McMillan. The ball went to Wood who scored a "try" and kicked a pretty goal. Score, 5 to 0 for Wanderers. Two minutes later the whistle sounded half time. During this half the Wanderers were awarded several free kicks while the Abbies were not so fortunate. The latter attempted some open play and the backs were given several opportunities to make short dashes which gained considerable ground.

The second half was uninteresting to the spectators. The ball was kept continuously in scrimmage and only half a dozen times did it reach the Abbies' "halves." The Abbies quarters attempted long throws in from touch, Ritchie and Bethune invariably securing the ball with a clear field before them; but for reasons best known to himself the referee called the oval back to scrimmage. Some of these passes may have been slightly ahead, but on two occasions they were certainly "all right" and should not have been called back. A high punt by C. McMillan sent the ball to the Wanderers' full back, who muffed, Ritchie was on him before he could recollect himself and a scrimmage took place two yards from the Wanderers' goal line. The Abbies made heroic efforts to score but the Wanderers kept the ball in the scrimmage, and the game ended with the ball far in the Wanderers' territory and without further scoring. During this half three of the players were slightly injured but soon resumed play. As in the first half the Wanderers secured several free kicks. The Abegweits put up a good game and showed themselves equal to their opponents in every respect. Had they used better judgment they should have won the game, but they have no cause to be ashamed of their work.

The line up was as follows:
WANDERERS.

Back--Gorham.
Half-backs--Russell, Bauld, Dobbie, Murray.
Quarter Backs--Grant, Harrington.
Forwards--McCurdie, DeMille, Norworthy, Moffat, Turnbull, Smith, Ruggles, Wood.

ABEGWEITS.

Back--F Blake.
Half backs--H Bethune, C McMillan, Dr P F Duffy, H Ritchie.
Quarter backs--LB McMillan, T Trainor.
Forwards--D McKinnon, B McQuillan, G Kehoe, D Cameron, C McQuillan, J Darke, L Sellar, O McEachern.

Mr. Archibald, of Truro, was referee, and the touch judges were Messrs R. P. Forbes, Halifax, and J. M. Sullivan, Charlottetown.

NOTES.

It is probable that the Abbies will play St. Dunstan's on Saturday.

The Wanderers have played the Abegweits on three occasions. The Islanders have won two games and Saturday's game is the first they have ever lost to the Wanderers.

Wait for the whistle, Abbies! A call "offside" does not mean that the game has stopped.

Dr. Duffy strengthened the Abbies half-back line. He knows how to "check."

The Abbies forwards, considering their weight, did excellent work and gave their heavy opponents a difficult proposition. Four are beginners, but they are the right stuff.

ANOTHER FIGHTER.

SIR,—With three out of five of the Opposition candidates elected in the Dominion election—notwithstanding all the forces arrayed against us—I don't think that we should despair of routing the Government candidates in a Provincial election. I believe that the country wants to get rid of the Farquharson Government as soon as possible.

You have read of the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and you should have perfect confidence in its merit. It will do you good.

---Calculating from the receptions throughout Canada to returning volunteers, all the young men in the country will want to go next time.

---The joint contingent reception committee are requested to meet in the City Council Chamber Tuesday, Nov. 13th, at 8 p. m. Parties having accounts will please leave same with undersigned. F. D. Tanton, Secretary.

---It is the intention of the Executive to push the Ancient Order of United Workmen in this province. Judging by the personnel of the charter members of Premier Lodge, a large membership is probable in Charlottetown. The Grand Lodge holds its next regular session in this city. The Order, it is said, offers something new in its plan of fraternal insurance. Its members now number 435,000, over 50,000 of whom have been admitted this year.

---The labor commission instructed to investigate the condition of Mongolian labor in Vancouver, B. C., and its effects upon the white labor market, has just reported that of 206 journeymen tailors employed in local shops, 125 are Orientals. Japanese and Chinese shops have no regular hours of work but keep on often late into the night and often disregard the Sunday observance law altogether, and work for less than one-half the amount the Canadian workman asks for.

---At the police court this morning two thirteen-year-old boys named Albert Hughes and Edward Hurry, jr., were arraigned on a charge of stealing a few sticks of chewing gum from Mr. J. A. Farquharson. They were each sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment. This being their first offence the Magistrate gave the boys a chance to attend school, promising to enforce the sentence the first day they are reported absent. The teachers have been instructed to report the boys absence to the Magistrate.

---An inquest in view of the body of Patrick Gormley was held on Saturday night before Dr. Conroy, coroner, and a jury. The witnesses examined were Edward Shepherd, the lad who found the body, Policeman Hooper who empannelled the jury, and John Gormley, son of the deceased. Young Gormley said his father arose about ten o'clock on Friday morning and after having his breakfast went out of the house and did not return. Witness last saw his father about a quarter after twelve o'clock on Friday, but understood one of his sisters saw him about seven that evening on Queen Street. His father was sober when he saw him. After hearing the evidence of these witnesses, the jury returned a verdict of "death by drowning." The deceased was buried this morning. A goodly number of people attended the funeral.

---There were some strange bets made in the United States in connection with the Presidential election. A really novel and amusing bet was that between two enthusiastic partisans of McKinley and Bryan in Minden, Nebraska. In case of Bryan's election the McKinley advocate was to march to the foot of a steep hill which rises for more than a mile near the city limits. He was to be escorted by the Republican campaign drum corps, by his successful rival, and as many of the townspeople as cared to attend. Arrived at the bottom of the hill, the task before the losing politician was to roll a peanut from the base to the top of the hill with a toothpick. He was not to touch the peanut with anything but the toothpick, and had to stay in the beaten road during the entire journey. In case he did not get the peanut to the hilltop in a single day's work he was to sleep on the ground under guard and begin again in the morning. The same penalty was to be paid by the Democrat if Bryan was defeated.
