Foster Hewitt Visit Recalled

By NORMAN MacDONALD

We were playing a record today which was cut of an interview John McNeill, fellow columnist, and I held with Foster Hewitt some ten years or more ago at the R.C.A.F. station. At this season when local sports are pretty much in eclipse, we thought it might be a good idea to give some of Foster's views, expressed in answer to our questions. We reminded him that, though he managed to remain fairly neutral, his voice held added excitement when the Leafs were pulling off a brilliant play. Foster said the crowd reaction had a lot to do with this. He automatically put more sound and excitement into his voice to keep above the crowd noise. He thought that N.H.L. games, because of the few mistakes are often not as exciting as junior hockey, which in his opinion is a stand-out as a spectator sport.

was out there on the ice. But he and Sid Smith were the best players he knew to deflect the puck into the net. There's a certain amount of luck in this manoeuvre, he said, but Drillon did it too often to be lucky.

WHO DID BROADCAST?
Speaking about the remarkable similarity between him and his son Bill in their broadcasting techniques, he said he used to stay home and listen to Bill's broadcasting of junior hockey games, and he sometimes had to answer the phone to settle a bet as to who was doing the broadcasting, he or his son Bill. His greatest thrill was the play-off game when little Ken Doraty scored a sudden-death overtime in the wee, small hours of the morning. The teams had played three games in Nov. He referred to world amateur hockey as "basketball on skates."

FOSTER DISAGREED
Regarding the belief of many old-timers that the old days in hockey were better and produced better hockey, Foster disagreed. He said any present sport is better today than it was years ago. The Olympics prove this pretty well, he said. For records are being continually broken. His pick for hockey's first line was Schmidt, Dumart, and Bauer, the "kraut" line. They were tops, he said, both on and off the ice. Foster took time out to remind young players that they were on show both on and off the ice and should behave themselves accordingly.

He said Gordie Drillon was a great hockey player, but not a good showman. He looked as if he were on holidays, when he

CONGRATULATIONS
Congratulations to Mike Kelly on his trial with the St. Louis Cardinals organization. We saw this boy strike out 18 batters on the Manitoba All-Stars in Winnipeg last summer, and after that saw his slants prove too much for our Summerside Juniors. Though the Charlottetown club had a lot of smart ball players this boy Kelly was a pretty big cog in the machine, and Summerside may fare better this year without Mike tossing them in against them.

We're all bewildered. Dick Noonan, Jack Murphy and Clem Gallant kept assuring us that there were only two sides — the Habs and the Hab notes. What happened?

Dawes Advised To Quit IOC

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor
TORONTO (CP) — A former director of the Canadian Olympic Association called Thursday for the immediate resignation of Sidney Dawes of Montreal as Canada's member on the International Olympic Committee.

Jack Dalton of Toronto, a COA director from 1959 to 1965, said in an interview: "I feel that the best thing that could happen to the Olympic movement in Canada is that Dawes should quit right now."

"My only regret is that I didn't speak up before this. I fully intend to write Dawes and tell him to get out."

1972 Games. The COA endorsed Banff's bid and Dawes then told the meeting: "You'll be sorry that you closed out the Garibaldi bid. Mark my words."

"Well, it's come home to roost now."

"At a COA meeting in Toronto last year when we backed Montreal's bid for the 1972 summer Games but gave priority to Banff's bid, I told the meeting that Dawes does not relay or carry our opinions or decisions to the IOC with any degree of enthusiasm and it was time we admitted it."

His comments, made in a telephone call to The Canadian Press, were made two days after Banff, seeking the winter Olympics for Canada, was turned down by the IOC for the third time. In Rome on Tuesday the 77-year-old Dawes, on the IOC since 1947, declined to say how he voted.

He told reporters: "I don't think how I voted is of interest to Canadian newspapers."

Banff had made a token bid in 1959 for the 1964 Games and lost.

Sponsors of the Alberta site went back to the IOC in 1964 for the 1968 Games and lost to Grenoble, France. They went again this week for the 1972 Olympics and lost to Sapporo, Japan.

FEELS LET DOWN
Dalton, bitter over the setbacks, said he "wouldn't be surprised if Dawes voted against Canada when the IOC ballots were taken for both the 1968 and 1972 Games because he is so vehemently opposed to Banff."

"Dawes supported Banff prior to 1960," he said. "Then people in British Columbia wanted Garibaldi Park as Canada's site and Dawes was made a director of the Garibaldi Olympic Development Association. This had to be a conflict of interest because both Banff and Garibaldi went to the Canadian Olympic Association for endorsement."

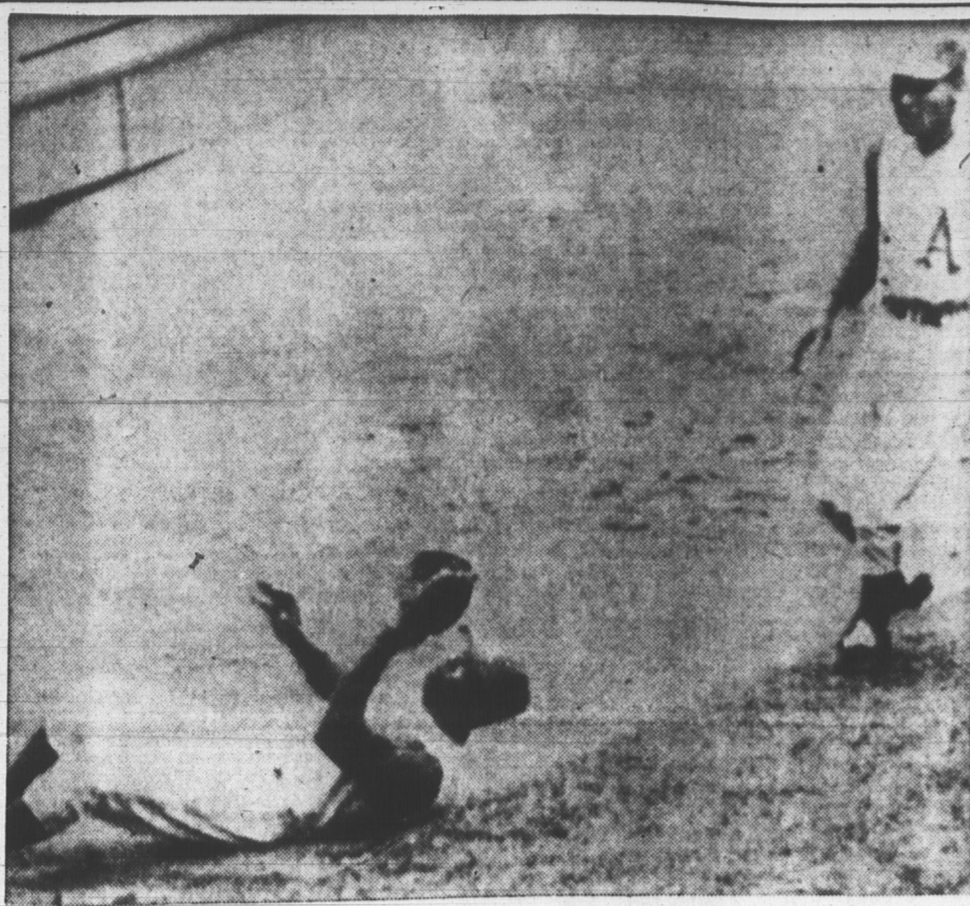

"In September, 1964, the COA met in Montreal to approve either one as the site for the

Bowling Action Is Concluded

A bowling banquet was held in the RCAF Association club room last night concluding winter bowling activities for the association teams. Following the banquet a business meeting was held in which a new executive was elected. His Worship Mayor Walter Cox presided.

During the banquet trophies to teams and individuals were presented. Mayor Cox presented the Cox Trophy to the winning team of the regular schedule. Arnold Callbeck presented the Callbeck Trophy to the winners of the final and Byron Burns presented the Burns Trophy to Gordon Batt for the most improved player. Recipients of other trophies included: Vic Williams, high average; Roy MacDonald, high triple; Herman Buell, high single; Blanchard Mahon received a trophy for low score.

The executive for the ensuing year was: Eric Farquharson, president and Howard MacDonald and Garnett Buell, committee members.

LAYING DOWN ON THE JOB

Kansas City Athletics third baseman Ed Charles slides on his back as he waits for foul ball behind third base that Detroit Tigers Jim Northrup popped up in second inning of game in Detroit Thursday. Charles lost his footing on the wet ground as he raced for the ball with shortstop Campy Campaneris coming in behind him. He made the catch.

Pirates Win From Cubs 9-6

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Mazerowski's double, his third extra base hit of the game, touched off a four-run 10th inning that gave Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-6 victory over Chicago Cubs Thursday.

The Pirates put together four hits and two stolen bases in the big frame.

Mazerowski led off the inning with his double off reliever Cal Koonce and scored the lead run on Bob Bailey's single. Manny Mota's pinch double, Roberto Clemente's RBI forceout and Mota's steal of home on the front end of a double theft accounted for the other runs.

Ron Santo slammed two homers for the Cubs, the second with none aboard in the 10th.

Adolfo Phillips, recently obtained from Philadelphia, hit an inside-the-park homer for the Cubs with a runner aboard in the third. Mazerowski slammed his first homer of the campaign for Pittsburgh in the sixth.

Conservation People May Face Court Case

ROME (AP) — Canadian Olympic delegates said Thursday they are trying to collect enough evidence to take legal action against some wildlife and conservation people who allegedly torpedoned Banff's bid to play host to the 1972 Winter Games.

Banff, a winter resort 65 miles west of Calgary, was rated a favorite in Olympic corridors right up to the time the vote was taken here Tuesday. But Sapporo, Japan, was awarded the 1972 Winter Games on the first ballot, and Banff finished a poor second in the voting by 65 International Olympic Committee delegates.

Homer Features Tigers Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Don Wert's grand-slam homer and a three-run blast by Jerry Lumpe highlighted a seven-run fifth inning and carried Detroit Tigers to a 13-5 victory over Kansas City Athletics Thursday.

Avery Brundage, president of the IOC, read protest letters from the conservationists shortly before the vote. They feared the Games might have a detrimental effect on Banff National Park.

Al Kaline also hit a three-run homer and Jim Northrup contributed a two-run home run for the Tigers.

Hans Maciej, manager of the Banff Olympic campaign, said the letters were read when the Banff delegates could not reply. One Canadian Olympic official said he hoped to get copies of the letters to Brundage and other people from the wildlife groups to find out if the letters show "some of the conservationists have made untrue claims or written libellous sentences against members of the Olympic organizing committee in Banff."

Lumpe, who had three hits, singled home Detroit's first run in the third, and Kaline capped the inning with his homer.

Tiger starter Mickey Lolich left after the fifth inning but received credit for the victory. The Athletics scored their first run in the first inning on a two-out walk to Ed Charles and Dick Green's double.

One Canadian claimed that the points raised by the conservationists had been settled satisfactorily with the Canadian government when Banff was approved as the official Canadian site bidding for the Games.

"The government is the supreme body responsible for Canada's natural beauties," he said. "The government heard arguments from the conservationists and dismissed them as groundless."

Cincinnati Shut Out 3-0 By Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juan Marichal pitched his fourth straight complete game victory Thursday, shutting out Cincinnati Reds on four hits as San Francisco Giants defeated the Reds 3-0.

The triumph snapped the Giants' three-game losing streak.

It was the first shutout of the season for Marichal, who led the majors with 10 last year. The Dominican right-hander retired the first 16 batters he faced before Leo Cardenas notched Cincinnati's first hit in the sixth inning.

Third baseman Jim Hart scored the first two San Francisco runs off Sammy Ellis. He doubled in the second and scored on a single by Ollie Brown.

In the fourth, Hart singled and scored when Tom Haller tripled. Jim Davenport homered for the final Giant run in the sixth.
