So Thought a Quebec Man Until Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him of Bright's Disease

Quebec, April 23.—Narcisse Mangy, of 109 St. Anne Street, this city, considers himself an extremely fortunate man. He has come through the ordeal of Bright's Disease alive.

Bright's Disease is a extremely fatal disease of the kidney. The sufferer lingers on, growing weaker and weaker, slowly and miserably dying. Once it fastens itself upon a victim there is only one hope to save him. Dodd's Kidney Pills. But they never fail.

Narcisse Mangy says: "I have endured Bright's Disease for over five years. Doctors told me I would never get well. I thought my time had come. A friend told me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have just finished the fourth box and am cured."

Death is natural, beautiful, progressive. There is small doubt it is treated far too sentimentally

A CHOSEN FRIEND

Harvard Bronchial Syrup is the chosen friend of our best singers and most noted public speakers. No other cough remedy has such a widespread reputation. It quickly stops the worse cough, banishes hoarseness and clears the throat and bronchial tubes. Druggists and dealers recommend Harvard Bronchial Syrup.

An artist is not to be blamed for making an exhibition of himself.

Babies Have Croup.

No disease comes so suddenly and treacherously upon its victim as Croup. Happy is the mother who has at hand Dr. Chase's Syrup of Turpentine when the dear ones awake in the night coughing and struggling for breath. Of Special Interest To Our Farmers

HOW CAN WE INTEREST THE BOYS IN FARM WORK?

The fact that the time is drawing near for the annual emigration of young men from the farms of our province to the cities of the United States may well lead us to consider whether there is nothing which can be done to check this exodus. It is no doubt true, as some one has said, that we are building up a great nation to the south of us, and this may be very gratifying in its way, yet "charity begins at home" (or ought to) and I firmly believe this annual exodus is one of the greatest problems before us today.

The question of why farm life is not more attractive to boys is about on a par with the one "Why doesn't farming pay?" and perhaps the immediate cause will not be the same in any two cases. Yet there are a few underlying principles governing this, just as we find underlying principles in farm practice, and the application of these principles must be varied to suit the individual needs. I believe that one very important way in which farm life may become more attractive to boys is to make the farm itself more attractive. I know that boys are not, as a rule, the most orderly things in the world, yet there are few boys who do not appreciate the difference between an orderly, well-kept farm and the opposite. True, they may not be able to tell just what the difference is, but they realize it nevertheless. The man who allows his pigs to investigate his garden at their pleasure; whose front yard is adorned by a calf or two browsing upon the weeds growing there; while the wires on his pasture fence are so loose that his cows walk serenely into his neighbor's cornfield, must not complain if the boys go through the fence also.

Another thing which will encourage boys to remain on the farm is to allow them to earn some money for themselves or rather to pay them some of the money that they do earn, and it is along this line that I wish to make a suggestion to the farmers of Nova Scotia. I would suggest that in all the fruit-growing districts of the Province the farmers should allow their sons to each choose one tree in the orchard, the fruit from which tree shall be allowed to have for their very own, to dispose of as they see fit and spend the proceeds as they like. And let the boys choose the trees for themselves; don't give them some old seedling tree which seldom bears fruit, and then such as is only fit for cider, and poor cider at that. Allow the boys to take full charge of this tree and perform all the operations necessary, pruning, spraying and cultivating it, and you will find that you can give them a stronger liking for orcharding than by any other method you can adopt. I am so firmly convinced that this is a fact that I want to do what little I can to help test it; therefore, if any boy who secures a tree in this manner wishes further information as to the best treatment of it in any way, and will write to me, I will endeavor to give him the desired information or to secure it for him. And those farmers who do not live within any of our fruit districts I would urge to go and do as near "likewise" as they can. Give the boys something for their own and encourage them to do the best they can to make it a profitable venture.

I do not wish anyone to infer from what I have said that I believe the fathers in the past have not done their duty by their sons. Perhaps they have; perhaps they have done all that could be reasonably expected of them to encourage the boys to stay on the farm, though I am inclined to fear that there has been too much of that form of encouragement which consists in giving the boy a pig which becomes his father's hog. But however this may be, let every father make at attempt the coming year to give his sons more encouragement, both financial and otherwise, and I believe that the result cannot but be for the best interests of this fair province of ours, the finest bit of country the sun shines on today.

The CHARM OF BEAUTY

Not in the Features so much as in the Grace and Vitality of a Healthy Body.—Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve and Blood Pills make Women Beautiful.

There's a certain charm of beauty in the graceful, elastic movement and clear complexion of a healthy woman in which the features do not play an important part.

The pale, sallow complexion and dull leaden color of the skin, dark circles under the eyes, headaches, pains in the back and sides, dull eyes, weakness, nervousness, despondency and low spirits are symptoms of weak, watery blood and improperly-nourished nerves.

No woman can be beautiful until the blood is enriched and the nerves strengthened. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is a food for the blood and nerves.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food restores the energy and strength to a run-down system. Note your weight before using them, and the increase week by week as the brightness returns to the eyes, the color to the cheeks and the firm rounds out with firm, healthy flesh, the natural result of rich, pure blood and a healthy nervous system.
