

P.E.I. Fish And Game Ass'n Annual Meeting

Mr. Ott Hicks, President of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Association was guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the P. E. Island Fish and Game Association held at Sandy's Restaurant last evening.

Mr. Hicks, who had recently visited the various Fish and Game Associations in the New Brunswick affiliation, in addition to several in the New England States, said that he was particularly struck with the similarity of the problems of the Association throughout the entire area as well as here. He stressed the need for a greater membership throughout in order that the united objective of "conserving, propagating and protection" might be achieved. He cited the activity of a mainland club starting from scratch and without funds, which in three years reclaimed a lake, erected a by-pass and stocked trout which are now really big, at a cost of $5,000.

He referred to seven Wild Life Shows operated in Moncton in co-operation with a community club in which all members play a part. $54,000 was raised in four years through this movement.

Mr. Hicks ended his address with a stirring plea for an increased membership with a view to making firm and well-supported advances to governments for consideration in matters of interest to sportsmen. He also stressed the need of education among children of school age regarding the use of fire-arms and the laws governing fish and game.

The speaker, who was thanked by President H. R. Found, was followed by Mr. C. B. Carter, Dominion Wildlife Representative, who expressed his pleasure at being in attendance and commended the Association for the work being done. He urged the members to communicate with him regarding broods and habits in order that his office may function as a distributing centre for all concerned.

Mr. Wilfrid Saunders of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada who is in charge of the trout investigation at Ellerslie was grateful for the co-operation of the Dept. of Natural Resources and the Association. He said it was difficult to say at this early date in his survey just what was taking place. "There are many questions being asked that we are unable to answer, but there are many large trout moving out of the pond for some unexplained reason, and they continue to do so," he said. "Twelve thousand trout have been tagged and we hope next year to be able to make a report on their growth," Mr. Saunders concluded.

Mr. F. A. S. Jones, President of the Maritime Wild Life Federation spoke briefly touching on local conditions and announcing the probability of a Maritime and New England get-together next fall on the "Abegweit".

Predicts Good Shooting

Provincial Police Constable Spurgeon Jenkins reported that conditions point to a game season equal to and possibly better than last year. Pheasants and Huns are coming along good, he said. "This has been the greatest summer for big trout in years, and the rivers everywhere are getting their share of them." "Unfortunately," he continued, "this situation has developed a greater activity on the part of jiggers and netters, but there is also a sense of duty and fair play coming to the top in the minds of sportsmen and I am hoping that through their co-operation this practice will be curtailed and eventually stopped."

Mr. P. A. Murrughan, Deputy Minister, Department of Industry and Resources, answered several questions dealing with by-pass ponds and said that generally

LITTLE SPORT

THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN

JULY 16, 1953

There was a famous ball player of a few decades ago and we believe his name was Ty Cobb who once said that his better to have a boy stealing bases than stealing purses. We don't know the circumstances that surrounded the remark but we imagine the boy who was lamenting about the hours that the young boys in the neighborhood spent playing ball. Evidently it was before the age of Little League Ball especially as we know it now when kids in the leading centres and communities of Canada and United States play ball under the supervision of competent instructors.

Little League Ball has grown in such stature throughout the two leading countries of this continent that it is now regarded in the same light as a course of studies. And there is no more worthwhile sports project taking place in the United States than are approximately 225,000 youngsters between the ages of nine and twelve giving forth with their imitations of major leaguers and there are countless thousands of kids in Canada doing the same thing.

There is a lot more to Little League Baseball than pitching and throwing a ball and learning to steal bases. Baseball is not the entire end of the project, but rather it is an end towards another end and that is the development of the boy's physical, moral and mental capabilities so that he may mature into a useful citizen in his community. Of course there is always the hope that a boy may develop into a Mickey Mantle or Stan Musial and every means is taken to see that he does.

In some centres where Little League ball has been in existence for a number of years and possibly in all centres where there is Little League activities the players are signed to contracts. These contracts contain 11 points not found in the documents of the majors but they are points important to the boy's physical and mental growth.

The contracts read as follows: "Each player understands that he will: 1. Brush his teeth at least twice a day; 2. Keep his entire body neat and clean at all times; 3. Drink plenty of milk, eat wholesome food and be a gentleman at all times; 4. Never use profane or abusive language; 5. Attend school regularly and strive to improve his education; 6. Respect the rights and properties of others; 7. Never display temper and maintain a fine sense of honor at all times; 8. Follow the rules of good sportsmanship and fair play in athletics and in all other activities; 9. Respect, cooperate and try to understand parents and supervisors at all times; 10. Work for leadership in clubs and organized activities in school, church and neighborhood; 11. Never feel inferior or discouraged; pray, attend church regularly and always have faith in God."

In those eleven commandments of Little League ball we have the answers to juvenile delinquency and the reform school. It is small wonder that this Little League project has proven so popular in two countries and has won the approval of so many athletic and civic officials. Even if it never turns out a Mickey Mantle it will accomplish far greater results.

The most necessary requirement in the Little League programme is the proper leadership. Charities and town and Summerside has been fortunate in this regard. Johnny Carroll was very highly regarded as an exemplary leader of youth in Summerside last season and this year as well. The same is doubly true for Randy Edwards. Randy has been doing a terrific job with the kids who have been turning out for Little League practices and with the Junior Abbies.

He has not spared himself in the least to help the kids. Yesterday when the Little League practices were rained out Randy was busy devising methods to learn the pitchers control. He was also building stands on which the players could practice batting. Within a few days he will have a fairly elaborate set-up in Memorial Field for the Little League players and others.

Randy has a thorough knowledge of baseball and he has the happy faculty of being able to impart it to the kids. He should know the game because he had two chances at the big-time, the first as a pitcher and the second as a fielder. The story of his career as a pitcher in the Minor League has been told before in these columns. The story of his chances as a fielder has not been recounted.

After injuring his arm with Buffalo in the International League in 1946 Randy returned to College. In his Junior year with

Marciano To Defend World Title On Sept. 24 In Bout With LaStarza

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano, the shoe-maker's son from Brockton, Mass., will defend his world heavyweight title against Roland LaStarza, former college student, in the Polo Grounds here on Thursday, Sept. 24.

The contract for the 15-round bout was signed Wednesday. It will be held just a year and a day from the night Marciano lifted the crown from the aging Jersey Joe Walcott with a 13th round knockout in Philadelphia.

It will be the first outdoors heavyweight title fight in New York since Ezzard Charles took the championship from Joe Louis at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 27, 1951.

For that reason, promoter Jim Norris, head of the International Boxing Club, estimates that the gate receipts will reach "a half million or up", depending upon what arrangements are made concerning television.

Norris said the IBC is exploring the possibilities of both home and theatre television.

Marciano, as champion, will receive 42 1/2 per cent of the receipts, including TV and movies and LaStarza 17 1/2 per cent. Top price for ringside seats will be $30.

A supplementary contract provides that if LaStarza wins the title, the pair will meet in a return bout within six months with each getting 30 per cent of the gate.

The fight is a rematch of a highly controversial bout in Madison Square Garden in March 1950. Neither had been beaten up to that time. On that occasion LaStarza was floored but got up and boxed rings about his rival, but Rocky got a split decision.

Since then LaStarza and his manager have demanded the return match they said had been

Keen Interest In Trainor Spencer Title Fight

When it first became known that negotiations were in the making to stage a Maritime welterweight title bout in this city, boxing fans hereabouts showed an interest that could by no stretch of the imagination be classed as anything but genuine.

Rival camps, crammed with supporters, are sharply defined and no amount of argument will convince them their man is not the best.

Speaking to Ivan Doherty yesterday, Duck Trainor said "Spencer may choose to stand up and punch with me but he better be ready for the fight of his life."

Tommy "Gun" Spencer the 29 year old New Waterford policeman has been boxing since 1934

When he weighed only 84 pounds. Among the men he met and defeated are: George Ross, Joe Pyle, Roger Whyntott, Arnold Fleiger, Doug Carter, Harry Poulton, Kid Adshade, Gus Mell, Harry Hurst. Spencer held the Maritime title twice before.

In the ten round feature Gil Edwards, a 20 year old puncher with power in both hands, will be making his second start in Charlottetown against Henry Jordan, Atlantic City, N.J.

Jordan is Edwards most important opponent to date. Jordan is 29 years old and has met the best in the world.

Ivan Doherty also announced the signing of LeRoy Jones, colored featherweight from Halifax against this city's Bud Lund.

Also, in the 4 round preliminary Leo "Tiger" Steele will meet Garth McGuigan, two local boxers. Special arrangements are being made to handle a large crowd. Promoter Doherty said a special detail of police and ushers would be in attendance on July 24 to control the crowd and to look after seating facilities.
