MANTLES A SPECIALTY.—Beef Bros.

THEATRICAL.—McClord & McVillie's "Will of the Wisp" Company are to revisit the Province in August next. They expect to perform three nights in Charlottetown, presenting a new play each evening.

CHERRY DEPOT.—Mr. T. J. Dillon, Dairy Superintendent, has rented a portion of the Welsh & Owen building, corner of Queen and King streets, for a cheese depot, and not the Merchants' Bank building on Water Street, as stated a few days ago.

GOOD CATTLE.—The following cattle were weighed on the city scales to-day for W. Seller, Mr. Green—one cow, 1,882 lbs. and one ox, 1,010 lbs. Mr. Macdonald—four oxen, weighing, respectively, 1,020, 1,085, 1,000 and 915 lbs. Mr. McLane—one ox, 800 lbs.

THEY HAD TO ELOPE.—A love match, which had for some time existed between Mr. Yates, aged seventy-five, and Mrs. Sawyer, aged seventy, of Bellevue, Ohio, was so opposed by the children of both parties that the old couple had to elope and wed on the 5th.

A WORD IN SEASON.—An exchange says: The most difficult feat in the world—and one that has never been successfully performed—is to conduct a newspaper to please everybody. It makes no difference what is in it, or what is not in it—some one will criticize. So the only way to do is to suit yourself, and trust to the intelligence of your readers for the remainder.

HAD A GOOD CASE.—In Cochrane, Ga., a citizen found in a pond of strictly fresh butter, a note from the maker there, of who professed herself young, handsome and matrimonially inclined. The citizen looked her up, found she had married twice and died since making the butter, after which he insisted upon a refund from his grocer for misrepresentation of goods.

MISS E. E. ERNST, optician, will be in the city for one week—May 14th to 19th. Miss Ernst holds a diploma from Spencer's Optical Institute, of New York. She has had a year of successful practice in Lunenburg, Mahone, Bridgewater, and other leading towns of N. S. Defects of vision successfully remedied. All work guaranteed. No charge for examination of eyes. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., at Cloud Hill's Studio.

REWAY.—On Sunday evening, the 6th inst., as Mr. Columbia A. McDonald and Mr. Campbell, of North Lake, Lot 46, were out driving, their horse suddenly took fright, opposite the residence of D. Fraser, Esq., and started to run. Mr. McDonald, with unusual presence of mind, tried to check the horse's speed, but in vain. The infuriated animal ran onward in his mad career for a few paces, then turned suddenly, throwing Mr. Campbell to the ground. Mr. McDonald managed to keep his place, but lost control of the reins, and the horse, finding himself free, dashed off like the wind and never halted till he reached West Lake, a distance of several miles. Both men luckily escaped injury.

WOMEN WAGE EARNERS.—There are said to be 250,000 girls and women in New York earning their own livelihood. Of this number 10 per cent. are married women and 90 per cent. are widows or wives divorced from their husbands. The wages vary, according to the statistics, from $1.50 a week, the price paid cash girls, to $18 a week, which is paid the stenographers. The higher professions do not seem to have been investigated. In Chicago, of 6,099 women workers in 1892, filling 474 different occupations, over one-half earned from $4 to $7 per week, 659 earned less than $4 a week, and 1,429 earned from $7 to $25 a week. Of this number 2 per cent. were married, and 3 per cent. were widows or divorced wives.

WOMEN OF ECONOMY.—This story was told to a Sun reporter yesterday: At a recent meeting of the W. C. T. U., held not many miles from St. John, the ladies were discussing things which might assist in household work. One lady said she always tried to economize in her strength and allowed everything to remain unused in the house which it was not absolutely necessary to do. Continuing, she stated that she ironed her sheets on one side only, thus saving herself and avoiding pains which she would certainly have suffered if she had ironed the sheets on both sides. Another lady, evidently not of the same way of thinking, declared that she once knew a lady, the mother of seven daughters, all of whom were content with sheets ironed on one side only. These daughters, as well as their mother, she explained, died young.—St. John Sun.

FIX JUBILEE SINGERS.—There is no denying the fact that the Fix Jubilee Singers are a drawing card. They have sung their way into the hearts of all lovers of good old melodies and the Southern plantation songs. They gave concerts yesterday afternoon and last night. The vast auditorium was filled with people. Nature has done much for these singers and practice and culture has rounded out and made their voices blend as do the colors of the rainbow into one harmonious arch of harmony. The Fix Jubilee Singers will draw a crowd when all other attractions fail. The human race loves the simple songs the best, and the rhythm that all negro melodies seem to possess, have a special fascination about them.—Lake Madison, S. D., Chautauque, July 5, 1893. Already a big advance sale for Fix Jubilee concert by the Jubilee Singers. Plans at Johnson and Johnson, Queen Street, and Hazard as by Moore. Reserved seats are 50 cents each.

Over a hundred girls wrote notes to the editor warning him to refrain from using their names or surnames, the consequences.

MR. COCKER DEAD.—Very many persons in Charlottetown and its vicinity throughout the Province will bear with regret that Mr. C. R. Coker, late inspector of hulls, passed away at the general hospital, St. John, N. E., on Thursday evening. The deceased, who was 68 years of age, was a native of Portsmouth, England. In the naval dockyards of that place he received his early training. He came to Canada as Lloyd's agent at Quebec, in which capacity he was transferred to St. John. He was then appointed inspector of hulls at that port, which position he held to within a few days ago. Mr. Coker was a genial, straightforward man, and he was much liked and respected by all who knew him. He was unmarried, and has no relatives in this country.

CANADIAN HAY IN ENGLAND.—An Ottawa despatch says: The Department of Agriculture to-day received from the Canadian Government agents in London, the following quotations of the price of hay on the 28th ult: lbs. clover, £6 12s 6d to £6 15s; meadow grass, £5 10s to £5 13s 6d. He states that owing to the recent rainfall there is now every prospect of a large hay crop in England, which may affect the prices, and holders of hay are beginning to sell at any price. Since the above quotations were in print at Bristol dealer received an invoice of ten tons of good Canadian hay, free on the wharf, at £4 12s 6d, and another lot, slightly damaged, was offered at £4. He reports another lot of one hundred tons purchased under £4 per ton and said to be Canadian, but which he strongly suspects to be South American grass sold as Canadian.

Queen Victoria is a regular attendant at divine service, writes Arthur Warren in an interesting sketch, profusely illustrated, of "The Woman's Side of Queen Victoria in the May Ladies' Home Journal. Prayers are held every morning in a private chapel. The services which she attends are very simple, for she is not a High Church woman. She makes a point of going at least once every autumn to the little parish kirk near the castle at Balmoral, where the service is very plain, but very impressive, and very Scotch.

HOW SOME OLD SAYINGS ORIGINATED

(Harper's Young People.)

It seems strange to speak of the United States as "Brother Jonathan," and the wonder is how it ever began, but on inquiring into the matter we find that the custom arose from an ordinary remark made by General Washington at the beginning of the Revolutionary War. On going to Massachusetts to organize the army, he found it scant of ammunition and all means of defence, and no one could suggest any way out of the difficulty. Something must be done at once for the public safety; and General Washington, who had great confidence in the judgment of Governor Jonathan Trumbull, of Connecticut, said in this dilemma: "We must consult Brother Jonathan on the subject."

"Brother Jonathan" was equal to the occasion, and supplied many of the lacking necessities, and afterward, during the war it became the custom in any emergency to say, "We must consult Brother Jonathan." In time the name became applied to the whole country, and it is pleasant to know that the great Washington himself was the originator of it.

"Robbing Peter to pay Paul" was first used when Westminster Abbey was called St. Peter's Cathedral. Money being needed to settle the accounts of St. Paul's Cathedral, it was taken by those in authority from St. Peter's, quite to the dissatisfaction of the people, and the cry "Robbing Peter to pay Paul?" Over two hundred years afterward the saying was again used in regard to the same churches at the death of the Earl of Chatham, the city of London declaring that so great a statesman should be buried in St. Paul's, while parliament insisted that one so noble in every way would be more properly placed among the dates of kings in Westminster Abbey, and that not to bury him there would be for the second time "robbing St. Peter to pay St. Paul." The Abbey very justly carried the day.

"There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip" is a very old saying, and was first uttered to the King of Siam, an island in the Grecian Archipelago. This King, Anous by name, planted a vineyard and treated the slaves who cultivated it so badly that one of them told him he would never live to taste the wine made from it. When the wine was ready and a cup of it poured out for the King, he sent for the slave who had prophesied his death, and asked him what he thought of his prophecy now. The slave replied, "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip"—and just as he had spoken the words Anous received warning that a wild boar had broken into his vineyard and was ruining it. Putting down the wine untried, he rushed out to attack the boar, and was killed.
