ELLEN'S DIARY

Changing Moon Brings Hope Of Better Weather

A morning of sunshine this day allowed, before a shadow crept between sky and farmlands from the thin cloud-cover, which lay over all: "If the sun would only shine again." the farm-folks said then, with a longing. And our hay awaited its return, in swath or unmowed.

"These times, it seems as though we're turning into sun-worshippers, aren't we?" a visiting farmer, commented with a chuckle.

"If they'd give up their experimenting with space" another offered "I'm sure we'd have our usual seasonal weathers again. Disturbing the elements —that's what they're doing!"

"It's Venus they're trying to contact now" the first nodded. "And why? I can't see. Isn't this planet the best of them? And big enough for all!" Big enough, indeed. And our corner of it, bounded by near and far green Island-hills is exceedingly lovely, both in sunshine, or when mists gather over it, these summery days. The flowerings we have. The same we have pictured when a winter -scene, also charming in its sparkling white loveliness was spread along the valley. The white of the daisies will be bright on that field when the summer comes, we said. Queen Anne's Lace, buttercups, vetch, cattails-in-the - making, will adorn the banks of the stream. Garden-flowerings we shall have then, roses instead of the bare branches at a window dotted at times with brownish sparrows, and cold. These things we have now: flowerings over all.

The summer days, even those which do little to encourage the haying, are not given to be wasted idly ... not, we think, the least segment of an hour.

For these, as we, shall not pass this way again! An unknown author reminds us of this. He reflects:

"I have only just a minute,
Only sixty seconds in it,
Forced upon me,
Can't refuse it,
Didn't seek it,
Didn't choose it,
But it's up to me to use it.
I must suffer if I lose it,
Give account if I abuse it.
Just a tiny little minute—
But Eternity is in it!"

"I must go and see how the field-garden back in the mangel patch grows" Jeanie, mother of the house across the lane planned this afternoon. And returned later with first offerings from it, to add tastefully to our current summer-fare.

"I forgot to tell you this" Alex smiled coming by this evening. "You may find the first three kittens mewing at your door one of these times! I saw them looking this way, this morning."

Night is there now. And a shower falls athwart the yard-lights. James hearing, looks up from his reading.

"Ellen" he says "find out on that calendar beside you when the moon changes. A new moon, it will be. Perhaps it will bring us settled weather."

Until tomorrow — Diary Good-night...

Blanchard - Shepherd Vows Are Pledged In Shawinigan

On Easter Monday, April 23, 1962 the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in Shawinigan, Quebec provided the setting for a lovely spring wedding when Carolle Anne Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blanchard, Charlottetown became the wife of Leo Earl Shepherd, son of Mrs. Ben Shepherd and the late Mr. Shepherd of Charlottetown.

Rev. Preston Hammill, St. Dunstan's Basilica, Charlottetown officiated at the ceremony. Serving the mass were Keith Blanchard, brother of the bride and Claude Boissoneault of Shawinigan. Msgr. M.J. Cieplak and Rev. R.J. Solan were present in the sanctuary.

For the occasion the church was decorated at the altar with Easter floral arrangements.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in an exclusive floor length gown of white nylon organza styled along bouffant lines and enhanced by a panel of Swiss embroidery in front. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion fell from a crown of satin, pearls and crystals. Her only jewellery was a strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet featured a single white orchid with nugget pompoms set on an ivory covered prayer book, which had neen carried by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Thomas Noonan, Richmond, P.E.I. on her wedding day.

The bride was unattended. Kelvin Dowling, Charlottetown, was the bestman and the ushers were John Bradley and Joseph Bower of Shawinigan.

Miss Marie LeBrun, organist accompanied Mr. Roger J. Martin as he sang "Regina Caelis", "Ava Maria" and "O Lord I'm Not Worthy".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Blanchard chose a navy blue suit of silk in a French design with a matching navy and white hat. Her bag and shoes were in matching shades and her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Shepherd was wearing a dress suit of cruiser gray with white hat and matching accessories. Her corsage of white roses complimented her ensemble.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the "Salon Cedre" of the Shawinigan Hotel where the bride and groom were assisted by their parents and Mr. Keivin Dowling in receiving the 100 guests who attended.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a gold cross and entwined wedding rings.

Mr. Dowling acted as master of ceremonies and called on Rev. Preston Hammill to propose the toast to the bride. Msgr. Cieplak pastor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church and Mr. J.R. Horgan, principal of St. Patrick's School in Shawinigan were also called upon for a few words.

For travelling on her honeymoon trip Mrs. Shepherd wore a beautiful navy blue suite with cape style jacket accented by contrasting accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have taken up temporary residence in Shawinigan, Quebec. The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy and Prince of Wales College Normal School and is on the teaching staff of St. Patrick's Elementary School in Shawinigan. The groom, a graduate of St. Dunstan's University, is on the staff of St. Patrick's High School in Shawinigan.

Following their stay in Shawinigan they will take up residence in Ottawa where the groom has accepted a position on the staff of St. Aloysius High School Gatineau, Que.

Prior to their marriage both the bride and groom were guests of honor at several social functions in Shawinigan.

Montague WI Meeting Held

The July meeting of the Montague Women's Institute was held at the summer home of Mrs. R.W. Beck at Brudenell with sixteen members and one visitor present. Mrs. Keir Clark presided and opened the meeting with the Mary Stewart Collect repeated in unison.

The correspondence and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary. The sum of $5.00 was voted towards CARE, and plans were discussed for assisting at the Adult Polio Clinic. Mrs. Lyle Boehner and Mrs. Albert Fraser were appointed to attend the clinic which is to be held at the Beaver Club. Tentative plans were also discussed for assisting at the Blood Donor Clinic in August. The president reported that she had represented the Institute at the school closing and was assisted by Mrs. Lester MacLeod in serving refreshments to the teaching staff at the close of the ceremonies. Mrs. Clark also gave an interesting and comprehensive report of the district convention.

Readings by Mrs. Roy Gillis and Mrs. George Preece, at the close of the meeting, were appreciated. At the lunch hour, the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Charles MacLure, Mrs. Elsie Waterworth and Mrs. Griffin. A delightful feature of the evening was a sail aboard the "Nancy II" on the Montague River.
