Fish From Nova Scotia Keeps Plant Operating

GEORGETOWN—Four trucks, two of which were large trailer trucks, and two of a smaller size, arrived here on Sunday and unloaded 120,000 pound of fish at Gulf Garden Foods Ltd. plant. The fish were caught by the company's trawlers, now fishing out of Shelburne, N.S., and are an excellent run of codfish.

This system assures employment for Island workers in the Georgetown plant at a season of the year when gulf ice would normally curtail operations in fish processing in this province. The trucks which unloaded the fish on Sunday left for Shelburne yesterday.

LONDON (AP) — Caschovaida has complained to Britain about pop music jamming its radio frequencies. Officials here are just as anxious to end the broadcasts. They come from "Radio Caroline," an unlicensed station on two ships in international waters, so far successfully defying government action.

Air Career Ends For Iona Native

At a recent ceremony, Sergeant Louis A. Daly received his Certificate of Service from RCAF Station Greenwood's Commanding Officer, Group Captain E.L. Baudoux. This culminated 25 years of service with the RCAF.

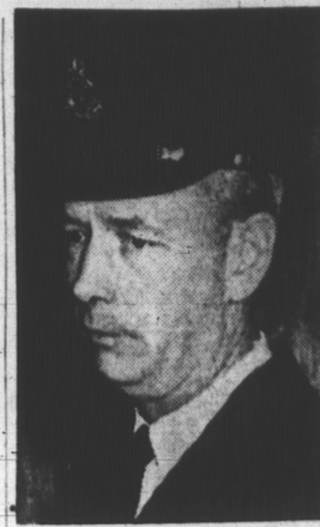

Sergeant Daly was born in Iona, P.E.I. in January, 1921 and is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James E. Daly.

Joining the RCAF in January, 1941, as an aero engine technician, he has served during the war at RCAF Station Uplands and Rockcliffe, Ontario. After the war he continued service at Rockcliffe with No. 412 Transport Squadron and No. 406 Photo Reconnaissance Squadron.

In August, 1957 he was transferred to 107 Rescue Unit in Toronto, Newfoundland, and then came to RCAF Station Greenwood in July, 1960. He has served at Greenwood with No. 405 Maritime Patrol Squadron and with the Ground Support Equipment Section.

During his service career, Sergeant Daly has had some interesting assignments. While with No. 412 Transport Squadron he flew with prime ministers, government officials and others visiting every state in the Union and many countries overseas.

During the Korean War, Sergeant Daly was engaged for a time with flying Korean air evacuees from McCorr Air Force

Rotary Club Hears Reports

The annual midyear club assembly was the program presented The Charlottetown Rotary Club members at their weekly luncheon yesterday at The Charlottetown Hotel.

Directors who gave consolidated reports of committee activities for the year to date were: club service, Capt. Claude Hunter; vocational service, W.J. Hancock; community service, Hugh Simpson; international service, John Evans.

Following the reports, president Randolph Manning reviewed the first six months (Rotary year starts July 1) and outlined detailed projects for the balance of 1966.

Seymour Gordon, Wolfville, N.S., was the only visiting Rotarian and James Long, Toronto, was guest of the club.

ARMERS GROW MORE — Malayan farmers doubled their production of animal products to $100,000,000 worth in 1964.

HALIFAX (CP) — The weather office says the weekend storm that narrowly missed the Maritimes was located well south of Newfoundland late Monday night. However, it was producing a strong northeasterly circulation of very moist air over the Maritimes, resulting in over-cast skies and a few snowflurries in all three provinces. Some freezing drizzle was falling in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Southern New Brunswick.

The storm will move off to the east today. However, very moist air will continue to flow into the Maritimes and little change in the weather is expected today. Some freezing drizzle is expected, but it should end in the morning.

Drier and colder air should arrive Wednesday to bring some measure of clearing.

Regional forecasts: Northern Nova Scotia, Eastern Shore, Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island, Eastern New Brunswick Counties: Overcast, a few snowflurries; little change in temperature, northeasterly winds 20; temperatures remaining steady at New Glasgow and Goshen near 30, Sydney near 32, Charlottetown near 30 and Moncton near 28. Outlook for Wednesday: Variable cloudiness and colder.

High tide today at Charlottetown 12.33 a.m. and 1.48 p.m. at Rustico at 10.08 a.m. and 8.12 p.m. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 7.28 a.m. and sets at 5.23 p.m.

RECEIVES WORD OF KIN'S DEATH — Mrs. Laura Nolan, formerly Laura Kirby of Murray Harbor, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albion, Springhill, N.S. Word of the death has been received by a cousin, Miss Reta Sharm, Murray Harbor. Mrs. Nolan was in her 88th year.

CRITICIZES CORP. — Mrs. Jean Wadds (PC-Greenwood-Dundas) criticized the government proposal for a Canada Development Corp., calling it "a financial fantasy" that would waste badly-needed capital on extravagant gambles.

The corporation, which would amass public savings to be invested in Canadian industry, would certainly not be free of government influence as promised. The government would be its biggest shareholders and appoint its first slate of directors.

Mrs. Wadds said the government should pay more attention to stimulating private enterprise and forget about the corporation.

She called for policies to increase the income of dairy farmers and avert the present decline in the industry. The number of milk cows in Canada was at a 45-year low and serious dairy shortages could occur if the trend was not halted.

Gerald Baldwin (PC-Peace River) criticized Prime Minister Pearson's stand that the government will consider defeat on a non-confidence motion as sufficient reason for a new election.

The people had made it clear they did not want another election forced upon them and Mr. Pearson was defying their wish by his attitude.

DIES IN AIR CRASH — INVERNESS, Scotland (AP) — William Logan, 52, a Scottish civil engineering magnate, was killed Saturday when a charter plane in which he was a passenger crashed into a highland village near here. The pilot was hurt. Logan was chairman of Duncan Log & Co. (Contractors) Ltd., of Muir-of-Ord in Morayshire. His firm built the $16,000,000 Tay Road Bridge.

THESE ARE THE Villagers, the internationally famed quartet of folk singers who arrive Tuesday to take part in the Prince of Wales College Winter Carnival. The group will perform Wednesday night at the Basilica Recreation Centre in Charlottetown. The Villagers have acquired a reputation internationally as one of the more important entertainment units.

Popular Folk Singers Here For PWC Winter Carnival

One of the most talented and popular folk singing groups to come to Charlottetown in years will arrive Tuesday when the internationally known "The Villagers" arrive for the Prince of Wales College Carnival, Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Ron McKinnon, lyric tenor and banjoist, was born in Dundee, Scotland, and emigrated to Canada shortly after the second World War. After years of study, he received his Bachelor of Education and shortly thereafter began singing rather than teaching.

James Farrell, tenor and guitarist, was born in Manchester, England. Jim followed a path similar to Ron's and after attending the University of Toronto moved into the entertainment field. Jayne Coutts, vocalist, was born in Barrie, Ontario. She attended Ryerson Institute of Technology while studying piano and voice.

Bruce Davidson, bass player and baritone, was born in Montreal, Quebec. Bruce attended Sir George Williams University while working on the week-ends with local dance and folk groups.

FORMED TRIO — Ron and Jim, the founding members of the original group, met while attending school in Toronto. They, plus a third member, formed a male trio and after having played in many of Canada's folk clubs, graduated to Europe's cabaret circuit where they played for nine months. After their return to Canada, the third member left the group and returned to his teaching career.

At this time Ron and Jim decided to add a female. Enter Jayne, stage right and smiling. And the three of them have been smiling ever since. They met with success and warm reception wherever they performed.

They were playing the club circuit between Toronto and Montreal and it was upon their arrival in Montreal that they met their fourth member, Bruce.

UNIQUE UNIT — In the months that followed, the group evolved as a unique entertainment unit and in the short time that has passed, has established a publishing company and a record production firm.

The group, at present, is acquiring a reputation internationally as one of the more important entertainment units. This year, they are scheduled to appear on CTV's "Let's Sing Out!" appearances at the Canadian National Exhibition, Iowa State Fair, Maryland State Fair and Calgary Stampede.

(Continued from page 1) there was a market for their products abroad. —Drawing up by the trade commissioners of a list of products Canadian manufacturers might market abroad.

SPONSORED MISSIONS —Sponsoring trade missions and a meeting of small businessmen across the country. —Devaluing the Canadian dollar to check imports and give Canadian exports a 10-per-cent competitive lift. Since then, this edge may have grown to 20- or 25 per cent.

Turning to finance, he said the Liberal government doesn't relax its tight money policy, it will have to take the responsibility for any "downturn in business."

Boiler Leak Gives Holiday

GEORGETOWN —A leak developed in the water boiler of the hot water furnace heating system in the Georgetown High School during Sunday night which forced cancellation of school classes on Monday.

James Jardine, a local machinist, has been engaged to take down the boiler and, if it is possible to replace the damaged end of it, classes should resume in a few days.

If it is found necessary to replace the boiler, a new one would have to be ordered and installed which could result in the suspension of classes for as long as a week to 10 days.

SUPPORTS MEDICAL CARE

Dr. Stanley Haidasz (L-Toronto Parkdale) said he fully supports the government's proposals for a comprehensive and universal medical insurance plan.

In his 15 years of medical practice in Toronto he found this to be one of the major social needs of the people.

Ottawa should prevail on the Ontario government to withdraw its "inadequate and unpopular" medical insurance plan which appeared to be designed to help insurance companies more than people.

Dr. Haidasz also spoke of the importance of a committee study of drug costs, proposed for this session, and urged a general switch to the metric system of weights and measurements.

Frank Fane (PC-Vegreville) criticized government farm policies, saying farmers "are the forgotten people of Canada when a Liberal government is in office."

Mrs. Jean Wadds (PC-Greenwood-Dundas) criticized the government proposal for a Canada Development Corp., calling it "a financial fantasy" that would waste badly-needed capital on extravagant gambles.

The corporation, which would amass public savings to be invested in Canadian industry, would certainly not be free of government influence as promised. The government would be its biggest shareholders and appoint its first slate of directors.
