CONDITIONS OF TRADE.

When considering the change of tariff and the abolition of every vestige of protection, as proposed by the Opposition, it is of the first importance to look to the conditions of trade as they now exist and as they now affect us.

Speaking generally, the whole civilized world is now under protection—except Great Britain. Great Britain's superiority in manufactures obtained by the help of protection, her immense merchant marine and her many great foreign investments—have so far enabled her to hold her own against a commercially hostile world, though several of her industries have suffered each injury that they are now on the brink of ruin. It is a fact to be particularly noted by the farmers of Prince Edward Island, and of Canada at large, that the farmers of Great Britain are at this moment in dire distress, bankruptcies among them being frequent by reason of Free Trade with the United States and other countries exporting agricultural produce. If, it may well be asked, the farmers of Great Britain, with millions upon millions of arisans and others at their doors to be fed, are unable to compete successfully against free imports from the United States, how do you suppose the farmers of Canada hope to do so?

It must be remembered, too, that reciprocity with the States cannot now be obtained. The States have completely reversed their policy concerning reciprocity. Their reciprocity treaties with Spain and South America have been abrogated by them. The policy of "reciprocity" has been condemned by the States. A reciprocity treaty with the States could not now be obtained by Canada except upon a discrimination against our Mother Country amounting to 40 or 50 per cent., and the almost certain prospect that it would, ere long, be followed by political union. Reciprocity, in short, out of the question.

This being so, in what position should we be placed supposing the protection now afforded our manufacturers, miners and farmers were taken away? It is evident that if the United States market is to be of any value to us, the prices in the States must be higher than ours by the amount of the duty they impose and the additional cost of freights and commissions. But how are prices in the States? According to the latest quotations of the Toronto Globe received to-day, oats are now selling in New York at 33 1/2 cents per bushel—considerably less than they are in Halifax and St. John! Sides of dressed beef are quoted at 7 1/2 cents per pound, dressed mutton at 6 cents to 7 cents, and dressed hogs at 5 to 7 cents. It is needless to say that we cannot export these articles, or any such articles as these, to the United States and pay the duties imposed upon them. We may at times do a little trade in potatoes and horses of the best quality. But so long as the States maintain their present high protective tariff—and it will be higher before it is lower—we cannot possibly do a large or very prosperous business by selling our produce to them. On the other hand, they will in the very nature of things, overrun our markets as soon as our markets are made free to them. At the present moment, oats are selling in Chicago at 29 cents per bushel, while in Montreal they are quoted at 36 1/2 to 37 cents per bushel. What more natural than that under the projected unbridled free trade there should be shipments of American oats and corn into Canada, filling the markets of Ontario and Quebec and forcing their oats upon the Maritime Provinces to the utter confusion and loss of our farmers? At the present moment pork is selling in Chicago at $9.95 to $10.15 per barrel; in Montreal the price is $14 to $15! Take away our protective pork duties and American pork will flood the Canadian market and reduce the price of pork by two cents per pound. In like manner, we should see "Armour Beef" in the markets of all our Maritime Provincial towns, instead of the beef that is produced by our farmers. The Patriot seems to be unaware of the revolution that has taken place in the trade of the Maritime Provinces. It is obvious of the fact that Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are now, with Newfoundland, the best markets that can be found for our oats, pork and beef, etc. Even in the midst of winter fresh beef is being almost daily shipped by the Stanley for sale in New Glasgow, Sydney and other towns which have been built up under the National Policy. If the present conditions be maintained, the demand of those markets will increase year by year. Every additional operative of the steel works of New Glasgow, or the iron works of Ferrisburgh, or the manufacturers of Truro, or Amherst, or Moncton or St. John or Halifax, is an additional consumer of the produce of the farm to be supplied in some part or degree by the farmers of Prince Edward Island, and to maintain the demand and keep up the prices. But take away the iron duties, as proposed by the Opposition, and what will happen? The iron works of Pictou and Cumberland, and the young industries dependent upon them, will collapse, and we shall be forced to go to England or to the West Indies with a large proportion of our surplus produce, and take lower prices than we now obtain at home.

The Patriot's ridicule of the idea that free trade, as proposed by the Opposition at the present time, will injuriously effect the people in respect to every hog and ox or cow they fatten, and every bushel of oats they raise, shows that the Patriot does not appreciate the changed conditions of trade in respect to Canada, or else that it is ready to insult the people in respect to a matter of vital importance. The Patriot quotes a lot of the statistics of 1893—the year of Canada's largest exports—to prove that Canada ships oats to the West Indies and horses and poultry to the States. That is a fact. We exported those things while the N. P. was in full force, and we shall probably continue to do so in the years that are to come. The N. P. will not hinder us. But the point to be considered is, will Free Trade help us in this regard? Will the opening of our markets to the United States' markets help us to sell an additional horse in Bangor, or an additional bushel of oats in New York, or an additional bushel of potatoes in Boston, or an additional goose or chicken in any part of the world? Let the Patriot prove that Free Trade will greatly swell our export trade and give us better prices than we now have, and it will have made one point in favor of the latest grit nostrum. In the meantime we maintain the position advocated by Mr. Richard Hunt and strengthened to-day by reference to the existing conditions of trade, that the proposed abolition of "every vestige of protection" will injuriously effect the people of this Province and of all Canada as to every hog, or ox, or cow, they fatten, and every bushel of oats they raise.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. Judging by letters received here and decided opinions expressed by influential Liberals, there is a strong feeling against the crowding out of Hon. David Laird.

The death of James E. Kelly, Esquire, of Fort Augustus, occurred yesterday and is announced to-day. Mr. Kelly was the eldest son of the Honorable Francis Kelly, and at one time Assistant Postmaster-General of this Island. He was widely known and highly respected.

We greatly regret to announce the death of Captain Thomas Walsh, an old and highly respected resident of Summerside. Captain Walsh had been unwell for several months. He was a brother of Captain James Walsh of the Marine Department, and father of Mr. Thomas Walsh, town clerk of Summerside.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Year since its inception have the meetings of the Teachers' Institute been as productive of benefit to the teachers as the meeting of this present year. This is owing very likely to the increased enthusiasm shown by the teachers in their work, and also to the practical turn which the discussions of the Institute have taken. Some time ago the School Board intimated that the results from the teaching of arithmetic in the schools were not as good as they might be. This was almost wholly due to non-uniformity in teaching. To counteract this the teachers decided to make a special study of a uniform method in both subjects and invited Supervisor Stewart and Principal McSwain to conduct the respective classes. It is unnecessary to say that these classes have been very successful, and the method thus obtained will doubtless be of great benefit in the school room. However, the meeting on Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A., was, perhaps, the most important in the history of the Institute. The committee appointed at preceding meeting to draft a revised course in arithmetic reported they had performed their work and then presented the report, which was unanimously adopted. It is designed on the principles adopted by the American High Schools, and its object is to make "thinkers" of the students rather than "workers" of mere mechanical rules. It may take a few years to carry it out to the letter in the schools, but the results anticipated will come in due time, and the desire of the teachers to put our schools on an equality with those of the principal cities in Canada and the United States will be accomplished.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

OPENING OF THE POST OFFICE DOORS. Sir,—I was one of the many persons who called at the Post Office last night after church to get my mail, and with the others was greatly disappointed in not finding both doors locked. I have lived in Charlottetown a good many years, and this was the first time I was thus disappointed. Understand that the keeper was acting within his order in keeping the doors closed. But whoever is responsible for the order should get a rap over the knuckles. The idea of keeping the doors closed on Sunday nights, especially when a foreign mail arrives on that day, is so ridiculously absurd and stupid that nothing more need be said at present. But if this thing occurs again I shall not be so mild. R. B. C.

DIED. At his residence, Fort Augustus, on Sunday, the 24th inst., James E. Kelly, Esquire, land surveyor, aged sixty years, eldest son of the Hon. Francis Kelly.

Are you all tired out, do you have that tired feeling or headache? You can be relieved of all these by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

NOT WHAT WE SAY, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla Does, that tells the story of its merit and success. Remember HOOD'S CURES.

The ladies of Charlottetown are asking for Priestley's dress material, for they are learning that no other black dress fabric will give the same satisfaction. They drape with a softness and grace that gives perfect delight to a lady of taste; and being made of silk and wool so artfully interwoven, a garment of Priestley's dress goods has an air of refinement about it as long as there is anything left of it.

THE MODERN INVALID. Has tastes medicinally, in keeping with other luxuries. A remedy must be pleasant and acceptable in form, purely wholesome in composition, truly beneficial in effect, and entirely free from every objectionable quality. If really ill he consults a physician; if convalescent he uses the gentle family laxative, Syrup of Figs.

For Over Fifty Years. AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea or looseness of the bowels. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wily—y

LETTER FROM AN OLD FRIEND

In the Great Northwest.

Work at Rat Portage and Vicinity.

Dear Mr. Editor,—How the years are going by. Twelve years ago now I was in Prince Edward Island preparing to come to the Northwest. Manitoba was then regarded as a very far away "terra incognita." Some of my friends regarded my appointment as venturesome to myself and hazardous to my family, and predicted that when the six years of disciplinary appointment had transpired that a transfer to the old land down by the sea would land me on your shores again. Twice that period has gone, and as you see, I am still in the far West. And, much as I would like to revisit old scenes and old friends, yet I have not lost faith in the West. The fertile prairies are as capable as ever of producing the finest wheat in the world, and that in quantities unlimited quantities; and right here at Rat Portage is the place to grind it, for we have perhaps the finest water power on the continent. Here the Lake of the Woods pours its vast volume of water through three canals, cut through solid rock, precipitously into Winnipeg River. Two of these falls have been utilized, but the third and largest until now has gone roaring over the rocks, rather on a grand, unharmed since creation. But now a company of capitalists has had employed about one hundred and thirty men for the last fifteen months in constructing a dam with numerous flumes, and mill seats. When this work is completed, flouring mills and many other industries, I judge, will give employment to a great many people here. This place has quite a snug water lock every week and I write I can count a dozen steamers, some on the slip for repairs, one in building, and some fast in the ice awaiting the spring. Besides these there are many others on the lake. Fishing and game industry here. During the winter several ear loads per week of frozen fish are despatched to the American market. Great quantities of pine lumber are manufactured here each summer. Six large steam, and two or three water mills cut the logs that are brought down from the numerous islands that stud this lake, and Rainy River beyond. This lumber has heretofore been sent by C. P. R. to the prairies, but I hear that there is now a scheme on foot to ship large quantities to Fort William, thence by lake to Chicago. Should this succeed, for some time to come, it will be a great boon to lumber here. Traces of gold are found in the rocks all about us. Seven miles to the south east of the town is the Sultan mine that is turning out its gold brick every week and is believed to be paying well. Several other claims are being improved, shafts sunk, quartz taken out, and miners are looking hopeful. A fortnight ago I was out with the gold brick every week and I put Arthur, some three hundred miles from here. I was greatly interested in those great elevators where is stored the millions of bushels of prairie wheat that is awaiting the opening of navigation to continue its journey east. These towns are finely situated on Lake Superior and must in the near future see a great deal of prosperity. With the increased facilities for navigation that the opening of the splendid canal at Sault Ste. Marie, and the deepening and improving of other canals, vessels from the sea may come to the dock at Fort William with such cargoes as are needed on the prairies, and take in return wheat or flour, the best in the world. Indeed we may look further than that. The C. P. R., by its rail and boats, may take up merchandise and passengers, and put either or both down in Vancouver or the Orient. This is the highway of the Nations across the Continent.

At Fort Arthur, I was nearer my old eastern home than I have been in many years, and as I looked out at Thunder Cape, I thought that some day before long I may sail around it on my way to greet the friends of other years. Permit me to add what may not be unacceptable news to some of your readers at Pownal and Murray Harbor, and other places as well, that Mrs. C. hopes to enjoy P. E. I. hospitality this summer during the season of open navigation. With kind regards to yourself and many old friends, I remain yours, as ever, W. W. COLPITS.

THE PORTUGUESE CAMP SURPRISED.

LONDON, Feb. 25. The Cape Town mail received at Plymouth, says a panic prevails at Lorenzo-Marquez, East Africa, in consequence of a disaster to the Portuguese forces. The Kafirs entered the Portuguese camp at dawn, pretending that they were friends. Most of the soldiers were sleeping, many suffering from fever. The Kafirs began killing them with assegais. Eventually the troops were cut off and were formed in a hollow square, and with the aid of Maxim guns repulsed the natives, killing 500. It is reported that 200 Portuguese and 3 allies were killed and 60 wounded. The fight took place Feb. 2nd. The Transvaal Artillery has been ordered to be ready to proceed to the frontier.

A MURDER CASE IN ONTARIO.

St. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 25. South Granville has a sensation in the shape of an alleged murder case, the alleged murderer being a thirteen year old girl named Lulu Lacy, who lived with the family of Mr. Peirson. The victim is the eighteen months old child of Mr. Peirson. Lulu was employed to nurse the baby. Yesterday Mrs. Peirson went to the barn to do some milking and when she returned the baby was suffering greatly. The doctor was sent for. The child, however, shortly afterwards died from the effects of supposed poisoning. Suspicion at once rested with the hired girl and she has been placed under arrest.

RAILWAY MAN INSTANTLY KILLED.

He was coupling cars when his foot became caught in the frog, throwing him beneath a moving car. It is thought his neck was broken.
