Royal Couple Plan To Visit Australia And New Zealand Late Next Year

LONDON, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will leave on a six-month tour of Australia and New Zealand six months after her coronation next year, a Buckingham

Palace announcement said tonight.

The coronation will take place June 2, 1953. In December the royal couple will leave on the trip that was started this year but broken off by the death of King George VI.

They will stay in New Zealand for most of January and will then go to Australia, staying until early April. On the way home they will stop off in Ceylon.

The tour will mean a number of "firsts" for both the Queen and the Dominions. It will be the first overseas trip since the Queen's accession and will also be her first visit to the Pacific members of the Commonwealth.

For Australia and New Zealand it will be the first chance to play host to their reigning sovereign. Other British kings and queens have visited them, but before they had mounted the throne.

The announcement did not reveal how the royal couple will travel or what plans have been made for their children, Prince Charles, 4, and Princess Anne, 22 months, during their absence.

The visit was first arranged for the late King in 1949 but ill-health forced him to change his plans. Instead he decided to send his daughter and son-in-law. After further postponement, the royal couple left London by air Jan. 31, 1952.

Six days later news of the King's death was telephoned to the Queen at a jungle lodge at Nyeri, Kenya. She returned immediately to London as Queen.

Elizabeth, then Princess, visited Canada and the United States with Philip in 1951. She spent six weeks touring Canada from coast to coast.

The Duke of Edinburgh has been to Australia twice. In 1940 he arrived aboard serving as a naval officer aboard the battleship Ramillies. In 1945 he spent a leave in Australia.

Phillip, who became Duke of Edinburgh when he married the Queen in 1947, will be the second duke of the Scottish capital to visit Australia. Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, a son of Queen Victoria, travelled to Australia in 1867.

King George V, grandfather of the present Queen, visited Australia in 1881 and 1901 before his accession.

Warns Party Control From Moscow To Reach Into Every Corner Of U.S.S.R.

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP)—A leader of the Soviet Communist Party's Control Commission warned today that party representatives will be installed in republics, districts and counties, independently of local party authorities, to intensify party rule.

This warning came from the deputy chairman of the control commission, Matvei Shkiryatov, 69, a close associate of Premier Stalin. In a speech to the 19th all-union Communist Party Congress, he said:

"This measure will assist in the prevention of violation of party by-laws and intensification of the struggle against defects and unhealthy phenomena which exist in the life and work of party organizations."

Shkiryatov's statement, which may be regarded as the most important report on party discipline in a long time, was one of the highlights of the closing sessions of this congress, the first called by the party in 13 years.

The congress has named Stalin and 10 aides to a revision commission which will reshape the party program in line with changes in the internal and international situation and report back to a party meeting four years from now.

With Stalin on the revision commission are four other Politburo members, L. P. Beria, L. M. Kaganovich, G. M. Malenkov and V. M. Molotov, all deputy prime ministers. The Moscow press made public today the speeches of Shkiryatov, Mikhail Suslov, a central committee secretary and authority on ideology, and several others before the congress of 1,300 Communist leaders from the 16 Soviet republics.

Shkiryatov promised severe punishment to "bureaucrats and stiffeners of criticism, regardless of who is involved."

"It is our duty," he said, "to defend those persons who help the party to reveal defects."

Suslov's speech urged a continuing fight against "survivals of the past."

"Above all," Suslov said, "we cannot forget that capitalism's encirclement, headed at present by the most reactionary imperialist circles of the U. S. A. and Britain, is carrying on preparations—including ideological preparation—for a new war."

One of the great problems confronting the successful operation of the new street sweeper is in the parking of cars and the Street Committee last night asked for a by-law regulating the parking of cars between the hours of midnight and an early morning hour.

Councillor Storey felt that such a regulation was the only means of approaching the winter with assurance of keeping the streets open to traffic at all times.

According to the report presented by Councillor Storey there was a total street area of excavation of 23,862 square yards. The area of base replaced was as above with a total of 5,485 tons while the surface completed was 1,183,000 square feet. This was the work done by the Warren Paving Company.

Done by the City Plant was 165,500 square feet and a mileage of 1.25 or 6,620 linear feet. The tonnage laid down by the city asphalt plant was 374 tons of binder, 649 tons and seal, 343 tons chip seal.

He told of the work being done by city workmen on the sidewalks.
