Paine's Celery Compound The Only Medicine That Works Complete and Permanent Cures.

The ablest and best men of our country—doctors, clergymen, lawyers, bankers, merchants and literary women—highly praise and recommend Paine's Celery Compound as a sure cure for rheumatism and sciatica.

Remember well that disordered nerves, faulty digestion, and a slow and incomplete nutrition of the body invite rheumatism, just as they do nervous debility and neuralgia. There is no surer start for rheumatism than a run-down, nerveless condition.

You cannot cure rheumatism by outward applications. The disease is due to internal troubles and must be constitutionally attacked and got rid of.

Paine's Celery Compound gives a healthy tone to the stomach, increases the appetite, and regulates the bowels, liver and kidneys, so that they easily throw off poisonous matters that the sluggish system has allowed to lodge in the blood, causing rheumatism and like disorders.

Bear in mind that rheumatism neglected means increased sufferings and certain death. Be wise while you have a fair measure of strength left. Use Paine's Celery Compound and banish an enemy that has no mercy when it obtains the mastery. It solely remains with you to determine whether you will banish danger or remain in misery and wretchedness.

A Question of Locality.

"I'll tell you one thing," said Madpop to his long suffering wife, "it Willy does not behave himself, I'll give him the worst spanking he ever had. He'll get it in the neck."

"Do be serious, my dear," replied Mrs. Madpop. "The neck is no place on which to spank a child."—Harper's Bazar.

Which End?

Irascible Lieutenant (down engine room tube)—Is there a blithering idiot at the end of this tube?

Voice From the Engine Room—Not at this end, sir.—Punch.

LIFE'S SPRING IS POISONED

If the Kidneys do not Carry Off its Blood Impurities—South American Kidney Cure Keeps These Organs Healthy—Prevents Diabetes, Bright's Disease and Bladder Difficulties.

Every drop of blood in the body goes through the kidneys for the removal of its impurities—every three minutes—night and day—while life lasts. The kidneys are the filter—and it stands to reason that if the filter is out of order the impure matter in the blood goes to every part of the body a every heart beat. When the first indications of kidney disorder present themselves, resort at once to South American Kidney Cure, the tried, tested and proved specific for Bright's disease, diabetes and bladder complications. It never fails.

The Transformed Pythagorean.

Some undergraduates once wished to play a practical joke upon a man who was a disciple of Pythagoras, so one day when he was a little sleepy by reason of the amount of brandy and soda that he had imbibed his friends smeared him with honey and rolled him in the inside of a feather bed. When the disciple of Pythagoras got up in the morning, he looked in the looking glass at himself and said slowly, with a whistle, "Bird, by Jove!"—London Figaro.

The Tyrannies of The Stomach

How it Repays Those Who Wilfully Abuse it

Indicts the Tortures of Dyspepsia and the Agony of Neuralgia—How to Conquer It by Kindness—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the only Medium.

If a man abuses his horse, the Humane Society prosecutes him; if he abuses his wife, it kicks him; if he abuses his stomach it "turns on him," and tortures him.

The stomach is a faithful servant, but a very bad master. When it obtains the mastery it doesn't spare its victim. Night and day it tortures him, till he bitterly regrets having ever ill-used it.

It is bad to be a Slave to your Stomach. You needn't be, if you use it properly. Don't abuse it. Don't overwork it; give it a rest now and then, and it will serve you well and faithfully. If you don't it tortures you with Dyspepsia.

My Petition.

May every thought of mine this day Be pure as sunshine's clearest ray. May every word that I shall speak Be wise and gentle, true and meek. May every act be just and kind, From dross of selfishness refined. May thought and act and kindly word, Together bound, a threefold cord. Reach out to men and help me save Some sinking one from sin's cold wave. —Selected.

Two Kinds of Truth.

There is a certain class of people who take great satisfaction in saying unpleasant things. They call this peculiarity "speaking their minds," or "plain speaking." Sometimes they dignify it by the name of "telling the truth." As if truths must be unpleasant in order to be true. Are there no lovely, charming, gracious truths in the world? And if there are, why cannot people diligently tell these making others happier for the telling, rather than hasten to proclaim all the disagreeable ones they can discover? The sum of human misery is always so greater than the sum of human happiness that it would appear the plainest duty to add to the latter all we can, and do what lies in our power to diminish the former. Trifles make up this amount and in trifles lies the best and most frequent opportunities. It may seem a little thing to tell another what is out of place in her appearance or possessions, but the information is unnecessary, and makes her unhappy, it is clearly an unkind and unfriendly action. Would it not be well to cultivate the grace of saying agreeable things, even to the extent of dragging them up and dragging them to the light when they happen to be obscure? This power to say pleasant things—true ones—is an accomplishment which is generally overlooked or left as a merely worldly matter to light minded people. But why should it be counted more Christian-like to utter unpleasant truth than pleasant is a somewhat puzzling question.

Way he Went.

A missionary being asked what it was that directed his thoughts toward the foreign field answered:

"In coming home one night, driving across the vast prairie, I saw my little boy John hurrying to meet me. The grass was high on the prairie, and suddenly he dropped out of sight. I thought he was playing, and simply hiding from me, but he didn't appear as I expected he would. Then the thought flashed across my mind. There's an old well there and he has fallen in.

I hurried up to him, reached down into the well, and lifted him out; and as he looked up into my face, what do you think he said?

"Oh, papa, why didn't you hurry?" "Those words never left me. They kept ringing in my ears until God put a new and deeper meaning into them and bade me think of others who are lost, of souls without God and without hope in this world, and the message came to me as a message from the Heavenly Father, 'go and work in My name'; and then from the vast throng a pitiful, pleading cry rolled into my soul as I accepted God's call, 'Oh, why don't you hurry?'"

It is one of the severest tests of friendship to tell your friend his faults. If you are angry with a man, or hate him, it is not hard to go to him and stab him with words, but so to love a man, that you can not bear to see the stain of sin upon him, and to speak painful truth through loving words, that is friendship. But few have such friends. Our enemies usually teach us what we are, at the point of the sword. —Henry Ward Beecher.

Life is short; we must try to do one another a good turn.

He who is most slow in making a promise is the most faithful in the performance of it. —Rousseau.

No man can do much for the world unless he also does a great deal for himself.

To rejoice in the happiness of others is to make it our own; to produce it, is to make it more than our own. —James —God never does anything for us that we can do for ourselves. If we could have saved ourselves Jesus would never have come.

—All the possible charities of life ought to be cultivated, and when we can neither be brethren nor friends, let us be kind neighbors and pleasant acquaintances.

Do all the good you can, By all the means you can, In all the ways you can, In all the places you can, At all the times you can, To all the people you can, As long as ever you can.

—John Wesley.

Catarrh of Long Standing Relieved in a Few Hours.

It is not alone the people of our own country, and prominent citizens like Urban Lippe, M. P., of Joliette Quebec, and other members of Parliament, who have used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, pronounce it the most effective remedy they have ever known, but the people everywhere are expressing their gratification at the effectiveness of this medicine. C. G. Archer, of Brewer, Maine, says: "I have had catarrh for several years. Water would run from my eyes and nose days at a time. About four months ago I was induced to try Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and since using the wonderful remedy I have not had an attack. I would not be without it." It relieves in ten minutes. Sold by Dr S W Dodd and Geo E Hughes.

A dollar-and-a-half saved is a dollar-and-a-half made, is it not? Well, to save this dollar-and-a-half collect McLean's Stamps. Every good house wife collects these stamps, don't you? If you don't it is not late to start now. Every merchant who is in our little book we give you free, has McLean's Stamps. Why not deal with them. They sell as cheap as any one else, ask them for the stamps and they will only be too pleased to give them to you and when your book is full bring it to our office at R-vere Hotel, Kent St., and get your money. Ask for McLean Stamps, and see that you get them.

—Sir Samuel Baker is being credited with showing rather extraordinary foresight regarding Lord Kitchener. It seems that fourteen years ago he wrote to General Gordon as follows: "The man whom I have always placed my hopes upon is Major Kitchener, R E, one of the few very superior British officers, who with a cool and good head, a hard constitution, combined with untiring energy." But even more precise was a letter which Sir Samuel wrote to Gen. Kitchener himself in 1892. It is printed in Baker's Memoirs, and is as follows:

"My dear Kitchener,—As I feel sure that the task of regaining the Soudan will fall to yourself, and by its success will sustain the good fortune which, I trust, will ever favor you through simple merit alone; I send you some remarks on 'Military Routes Towards Berber.'"

"The memoranda may be of service to you some day when active operations shall be determined upon. My opinion is very strong upon the necessity of quietly preparing for the event beforehand, so that when the moment shall arrive the success may be accomplished without loss of time."

"In all our recent expeditions one not a general absence of military science. You will have the opportunity of preparing for a blow, and delivering it with undoubted result, which will bring honour upon the force you command and to yourself. Ever sincerely yours, Samuel W. Baker."

Excessive Coffee Drinking.

The Moors are inveterate coffee drinkers, especially the merchants, and they sit in their bazaars and drink continuously the whole day long. It has been noticed that almost invariably, when these coffee drinkers reach the age of 40 or 45, their eyesight begins to fail, and by the time they get to be 50 they become blind. One is forcibly impressed by the number of blind men seen about the streets of the city of Fez, the capital of Morocco, and this is invariably attributed to the excessive use of coffee. —New York Ledger.

Don't imagine," said General Kitchener with great politeness, "that you are an entire circus callope just because you can howl." And the discomfited dervish chief stalked gloomily away. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Diamond Dyes give the newest and most beautiful colors that will not fade, crock or wash out, and are the only package dyes that have stood the test of years of use. Never risk your goods with any of the common adulterated dyes.

Long Lived Germans.

It is interesting to recall the extraordinary longevity of the three founders of the German empire. William I was 91, Moltke was also 91 and Bismarck was 88, but indeed all the most illustrious Germans of the latter half century have been long lived. Ranke was 91; Curtius was 72; Mommsen is 81. The poet Geibel was 70, Wagner was 70, Liszt 75, and the present chancellor is 77.
