Souris Member

(Continued from page 2) as my name is in it'. Mr. Acorn stressed the need for a veterinary doctor in the east and of the province. He said he had been assured that a veterinary would be coming this spring and hoped he would be stationed at either Souris or St. Peters.

DEALS WITH CRITICISM

Mr. Acorn termed the opposition criticism during the draft address as petty and inconsistent. He said the opposition leader last year seconded a resolution asking for a new car ferry but this year seems to think there is nothing serious the matter with the existing facilities. "Last year, when this resolution was drafted, we had two boats, this year we have only one. The Abegweit is having a hard time at Borden and the SS PEI is stuck in the ice off East Point with the most powerful ice breaker in the world trying to free her. Mr. Acorn felt that it would take at least 7-10 years before a causeway would be built at the earliest. In the meantime he noted that pressure is being exerted to have a ship built for the Yarmouth to New York run. "Why not give us this boat and when we get our causeway we can turn it over to them for this Yarmouth-route," Mr. Acorn suggested.
