

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

EVERY NOW AND THEN we pull a boner and have to make apologies for the same. Of course we'd be a lot happier if we never did such things but since they do occur occasionally we hurry to make amends to our readers.

However we don't appreciate the idea of another sports columnist taking us to task for something that was not our doing. That happened Thursday when a Summerside writer suggests that we coined the name 'P.E.I. Aces.'

INDEED he goes so far as to term us 'Charlottetown critics' We certainly haven't endeavored to set ourselves up as such but however if he wants to christen us as that we won't rush to our lawyer.

Our western friend maintains his paper received a letter asking why the Summerside team was being referred to as the 'P.E.I. Aces' but he was unable to give any explanation. That is quite an admission by our friend who is much closer to the Summerside team management than we are.

He apparently never thought of contacting anybody who might speak for the Aces. We are amazed he didn't give our mutual friend Charlie Hogan a ring and find out from him whether 'Charlottetown critics' had taken the liberty to give a name to the Summerside team. If he had done this, then he would never have pounded out on his typewriter when he did. Charlie would have given him the answer in quick order because it was this same Mr. Hogan that acquainted us with the fact that the team he was coaching was to be known as 'P.E.I. ACES.' His advertisement for last night's game read Parkdale Royals vs P.E.I. Aces.

IF THE GOOD PEOPLE of Summerside ever decided to ask our opinion on the choice of a name for their club, we would certainly be glad to make a suggestion. However, they felt quite capable of doing that themselves. Before the league got underway, we kept referring to the Summerside team as the 'Summerside entry' and we purposely avoided using any particular name until given the 'go ahead' by persons in charge of the western club.

Our friend, Norman MacDonald, who contributes Sport Echoes to this paper, came to our defence in his column yesterday. Norman resides in Summerside and he was quite aware the team was the 'P.E.I. Aces.' He had received his information apparently from an official source, a place our other Summerside columnist didn't bother checking.

And therefore we plead 'not guilty' to any and all charges that we had anything to do with putting a name on the Summerside team. We really appreciate friendly arguments among sportswriters in the province but we don't like accusations hurled around that have no basis in fact.

Undoubtedly by now, our friend has contacted the source he should have contacted long ago. If he has, he will have found out that the team is the 'P.E.I.' Aces and the author of 'Sports Front' wasn't consulted on the new handle.

WE WERE ALSO AMAZED when we read in the same column the lineup that Sandy Frizzell has for this year. We always found Sandy the type of fellow who didn't hide things from the press but after reading this lineup we thought Sandy had sold us 'down the river.' Then we got to thinking about how false the accusation against us was in the very same column and that made us very dubious about what we were reading.

As far as we can ascertain Ralph Shepherd is performing with the Amherst team this season, yet here he is listed as one of Sandy's stalwarts. Our friend was expecting to see Bert Steele perform Friday in Summerside against the Aces (P.E.I. version) but he never got an opportunity. Bert, although looking good in practice, tells us he finds it mighty tough to get in shape, and he was very doubtful if he could make it this season. We think, however, he will but our sports columnist need not look for him for quite a while yet.

As far as Bob Bowness is concerned, we just can't figure for a minute why he would sign a card with any team here. His work only takes him to the Island occasionally, thus making him likely to perform here pretty well out of the question. Our latest word is that he will be with Saint John or Halifax.

SUMMERSIDE EARL SMITH is the new president of the Prince Edward Island Basketball Association and he should be the right man in the right place.

Earl is one of the province's best known sportsmen and anything he tackles he will try his darndest to make it a success. Earl's selection came earlier this week when the association met to name a successor to Don Heppburn who resigned. Don MacLean of Charlottetown is vice-president and Tom Scantlebury also from the capital is the new secretary.

Flight Lieutenant Heppburn gave his resignation because of pressure of work at the airport. Don has recently assumed the duties of public relations officer there and he felt he couldn't devote sufficient time to his basketball post.

Heppburn showed a keen interest in the hoop game here and tried at all times to promote greater interest in the sport. He remains on the executive in an advisory capacity.

WE PASSED out a bit of advice to players in the Senior League yesterday. We were talking about rugged defencemen and their feelings with you players, some of them still eligible for juvenile ranks. We felt we had a point and feeling that why we expressed ourselves accordingly.

Today we talk about the other side of the picture and it is a side that needs a bit of stressing. This is the behavior of these younger players in a hockey loop such as we have in operation.

These youngsters need not get the idea that because they are younger and smaller they can get away with anything. A few of them have a nasty habit of carrying their sticks at too great an altitude and are making themselves a bit too troublesome.

We can see trouble coming if these boys continue such practices. They may have the idea that this is one great way to protect themselves from the big 'bad men' but we can't go along with them in that.

We hope that none of them will take advantage of his lack of weight or lack of size to set himself up as a league upstart. Somebody may decide on the practice of putting them in place and the decision may be accompanied, by a bit of violence.

WE STILL BELIEVE the older players should lead the way but the younger ones must not get the idea that they should be allowed to get away with anything. Jack Ready and his band of referees will see to it that everybody gets a fair shake but there will be no catering to the younger fry.

They'll get the gate just the same as anyone else. And that's exactly the way it should be.

WE NEARLY FORGOT about our Grey Cup prediction. We pick the Tiger-Cats to emerge the victors and avenge the defeat of last year by the Bombers.

We fully realize that Bud Grant has a powerful outfit in today's battle but we also believe that Trimble's crew has the ability to take them.

IVAN DOHERTY, president of the Island Senior Hockey League, has called a meeting of his executive and team representatives for Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at The Charlottetown Hotel. Ivan wished it stressed that the press were extended a cordial invitation to be present.

Richard Is Out For A Month

MONTREAL (CP) — Hockey men predicted Friday that Medical great Maurice Richard will be lost to Montreal Canadiens for no more than a month.

The team made the announcement shortly before the 38-year-old right-winger underwent surgery to correct a depressed fracture of the left cheekbone.

He was injured Thursday night with 90 seconds to play in Montreal's 4-2 victory over the Red Wings in Detroit. A puck fired by Detroit rookie Murray Oliver struck him in the face.

It was at first feared that Richard might be sidelined for considerably longer than a month because of the problem of conditioning for an athlete his age.

SEES SHORT REST — But a Montreal spokesman said: "Chances are he'll be able to skate within a week. An injury of this type won't keep a man off his feet. After that, doctors aredict he'll be out of the lineup another three weeks."

The Canadiens left Detroit by train. They meet the Red Wings in a Saturday night fixture here.

Hoop Games On Tonight

City Basketball League action resumes tonight at Saint Dunstan's University gym.

All players are urged to be on time and those taking part in the first game are reminded that the starting time has been advanced to 6:30.

THE PRIZE AND OPPONENTS

49ers, Minus J. A. Tittle, Meet Browns On Sunday

By ED WILKS
San Francisco 49ers, who hit the road and found it a road to ruin, limp into Cleveland's Municipal Stadium Sunday to face the Browns. It figures to be a bust-up game for the loser's title hopes in the National Football League.

San Francisco was the surprise club of the season just three weeks ago, riding a four-game streak for a 6-1 record as the 49ers rolled east. But they now have lost two straight — 143 at Chicago against the Bears and 45-14 at Baltimore, a loss that cost them quarterback J. A. Tittle and left them tied with the Colts for the Western conference lead.

The 49ers and Colts, defending NFL champs, have 6-3 records with three to play. Baltimore could eliminate the 49ers in a return match at San Francisco next week if the Colts can couple a victory over Los Angeles with a San Francisco defeat Sunday. The Colts are 9½-point favorites over the tallied Rams (2-7) at Baltimore.

Philadelphia plays at Pittsburgh, with the Steelers (4-4) favored by four. The Giants are at home against Washington (3-6) and are 10-point favorites over the Redskins.

The Bears (5-4) and Chicago Cardinals (2-7) stage another meeting in their anything-can-happen city series in the only other game scheduled. The Bears are favored by seven.

Green Bay (5-5) and Detroit Lions (2-7) are idle after the Packers won their Thanksgiving Day game 24-17.

With Tittle out of action because of a knee injury, the 49ers have to go with seldom-used John Brodie at quarter against Cleveland's bruising Jimmy Brown, fleet Bobby Mitchell and passer Milt Plum. Brown, the NFL's leading rushing for each of his three seasons as a pro, has powered for 1,013 yards—a 112-plus average.

CHASE THIRD WIN
The Colts will be shooting for their third in-a-row since losing at Cleveland and Washington on consecutive weeks, while the Rams have dropped five straight. Quarterback Johnny Unitas has extended his consecutive game

Aces Invade Saints Rink

Saint Dunstan's rink is the scene of Island Senior Hockey League action this evening.

The Red White Varsity will take on Charlie Hogan's Aces and the college boys predict they'll give it a harder go than against the Penguins Thursday night.

Aces will be favorites to topple Father Ledwell's outfit but Hogan isn't taking anything for granted. He intends to ice his strongest squad in an effort to put this one in the win column.

Saints, playing an abbreviated schedule, can't afford too many losses if they expect to grab a playoff spot. They will try mightily hard to conquer their western visitors and make their percentage read an even 500.

Fan are reminded that tonight's game starts at 8 o'clock and should be over in plenty of time for folks to the National League, battle

CHAMPION SKIER DIES
TRONDHEIM, Norway (AP)—Anders Woldseth, Norway's champion ski jumper, died unexpectedly Thursday at the age of 25. He collapsed on the stairs of his father's dry goods store and died on the way to a hospital. Woldseth suffered severe head injuries after a fall on the Grakalen ski jumping hill near Trondheim last winter. Doctors said they believed the injuries received then was the reason for his sudden collapse and death.

Wet & Soggy Is Forecast For Grey Cup Clash Today

TORONTO (CP)—The field for today's Winnipeg Blue Bombers-Hamilton Tiger-Cats Grey Cup final will be wet and soggy unless the weatherman gives Toronto a break. But the forecasters aren't co-operating—their call is "partly cloudy with sunny intervals."

Under normal circumstances, this would be ideal, but the Canadian National Exhibition Stadium field, venue of the 32nd east-west classic, is slippery and could be churned-up into mud. The field was splattered with rain last week, again three days ago and each time CNE officials were caught with their newly-purchased tarp up.

The furor over condition of the field has exceeded the general cup excitement and the game itself. CNE officials have taken a verbal pasting and their comeback has been that they've done everything possible in efforts to ensure a dry field by the 2 p.m. AST game time.

"The soil is damp now and we need sunshine, a good breeze, below-freezing temperatures around 22 degrees or a combination of all three to dry it out," CNE general manager Hiram McCallum said in an interview early Friday night. "If we don't get these, I'm afraid we are helpless to do anything more."

COACHES DIFFER

The two coaches, Jim Trimble of Hamilton and Bud Grant of Winnipeg, held different views on condition of the field.

Trimble, who looked over the field Friday, reported he found it in reasonably good shape. "The field is a lot better than people seem to think," he said. "It will be quite reasonably fast."

Grant, however, thought it would be "greasy and slippery." "But," he added, "conditions can change quickly. We won't even know which footwear we'll use until just before game time."

The gamblers have established the west favorite for the first time since the west challenged for the cup in 1921. The west, which has won four of the last five years, has been beaten 23 times.

The odds on this game are: 6 to 5 and Winnipeg to win by at least four points. Conversely, to bet on Hamilton, you lay 6 to 5 and get the benefit of the four points.

There is also a straight "price line." It's 8 to 6½, Winnipeg favored, regardless of point spread. A Winnipeg supporter puts up $8 to win $6.50. A Hamilton supporter puts up $6.50 to win $8.

RUBBER MATCH

Bombers are the defending champions, winning 35-28 over the Tiger-Cats last year at Vancouver's Empire Stadium. Ticats won the previous year 32-7 over Winnipeg at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

Winnipeg teams have won the Grey Cup on four occasions—1935, 1939, 1941 and 1956. Hamilton has been successful six times—1928, 1929, 1932, 1943, 1953 and 1957.

Trimble said the condition of the field does not lead him to change his view expressed earlier this week that he expects a high-scoring game.

Grant said bad footing will hurt Bombers more than the Tiger-Cats. "Our advantage was supposed to be our outside running, with halfbacks Leo Lewis and may going straight ahead, but he'll also have trouble making the turns. "It shouldn't create too much of a problem for our fullbacks, Charlie Shepard and Gerry James, but similarly it won't hurt Hamilton's Gerry McDougall and Ralph Goldston, so it's a saw-off there."
