HALEFAX (CP) — The weather office says clear skies and light winds prevailed over the Maritimes late Tuesday.

Sunny skies are expected in all regions today, although clouds should begin to spread across New Brunswick in the evening. Winds will remain light in most places, and afternoon temperatures will be close to the values experienced Tuesday.

Somewhat more cloud is expected Thursday especially in New Brunswick. At the same time, a trend to milder night time temperatures is indicated.

Regional forecasts:
Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island: Clear; cold, with afternoon temperatures about the same as Tuesday; light winds; low-high at Halifax 20 and 40, Yarmouth 28 and 36, Kentville 20 and 40, New Glasgow, Goshen and Sydney 15 and 40, Charlottetown 12 and 36; outlook for Thursday, mostly sunny; a little milder.

High tide today at Charlottetown 12.12 a.m. and 12.44 p.m.

SDU Professor Is Appointed

Rev. Edmund J. Roche, professor of mathematics at St. Dunstan's University, has been named Executive-Director of the Canadian Catholic Conference Education Department. He will be given a leave of absence for one or two years.

The announcement was made yesterday by Rev. Faber MacDonald, vice-chancellor of the diocese of Charlottetown.

Father Roche was born in Iona, P.E.I. to Joseph Roche and Emma Mooney. He received his primary education there and graduated from St. Dunstan's in 1941. He studied Theology for four years at Holy Heart Seminary in Halifax. He was ordained in 1945 by Most Rev. James Boyle, Bishop of Charlottetown. He did post graduate work at Notre Dame University in Indiana.

He has been associated with the Math. department at SDU since 1948. During that time he has held the positions of Dean of Studies and Registrar. He has also been extremely active in alumna work.

Father Roche has also held the position of secretary of the Canadian Catholic Education Council. His new position will take him to Ottawa where he will re-activate the office of Christian Education within the Canadian Ca-

Former Businessman Dies In Charlottetown

Aben MacLean, retired Charlottetown businessman, died in the Prince Edward Island Hospital yesterday. He was 70.

Mr. MacLean was born at Grandview, P.E.I., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLean. He moved to Charlottetown when a young man and engaged in the construction business with Parkman and Son. He was later employed with the firm of DeBlois Bros. Limited. Mr. MacLean became associated with the late J.M. MacFadyen in the grocery business. He opened a store on Upper Queen Street in the early 1920s and successfully continued in the trade until his retirement in 1956.

For a period in 20 years, Mr. MacLean served as an elder of the Kirk of St. James. He was keenly interested in the work of the congregation and its various organizations. For many years he was an active member of both the Caledonia Club and the Y's Men's Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Hettie May Wood, and a sister, Mrs. George A. Tweedy of West Royalty. A brother Alex pre-deceased him.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon from the Kirk of St. James, service starting at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the People's cemetery.
