Catherine Callbeck and Mary Murray of Saint John, N.B. visited the former's parents recently in Central Bedeque.

Walter Curley, formerly from Kensington RR4, P.E.I. and his wife, Lillian, are going to have a second honeymoon this spring. They have won an all expense trip to Europe — and all because Mr. Curley smokes a pipe! He took home an entry from some weeks ago, and his wife filled it out and sent it to a tobacco company. Mr. Curley received a phone call from Toronto after a some time had elapsed, and was asked to do an arithmetic problem — which he did correctly. Nothing more was said at the time by the company, but he recently received a letter advising him that he had won the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Curley expect to leave Canada during the last week of April and will spend six days in Holland during Tulip Blossom Time, two days in Paris and two days in London.

Mr. Gordon Arsenault of Saint John, N.B. who is on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Arsenault, Central Bedeque, recently.

The January meeting of the St. George's Parish Council was held in the vestry, with a small attendance. The highlight of the meeting was an interesting report by Mrs. William Christian the education convener, on research being done on the one-room school compared to the graded school. Mrs. Jerome MacDonald resigned from the sewing committee and Mrs. Joseph Morrison was appointed in her place. The meeting closed in the usual manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williams of Barrie, Ont. have returned home after attending the funeral of Mrs. William's mother, Mrs. Hazel Leard, held in the Baptist Church in Central Bedeque recently.

Alden Leard of Sackville returned to Mount Allison University, after attending the funeral of his mother at Central Bedeque.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacMurdo of North Bedeque returned home recently, after attending the funeral of Mrs. Richard Palmer, held in New Hampshire, Maine.

Wedding Vows Solemnized At O'Leary United Church

A candle light service in O'Leary United Church was the scene of a wedding between Bonita Emily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Burton Boates of O'Leary and James Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Frank MacNeill of Alma. Rev. David H. Hamilton officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Arnold Boates wore a floor length, tight fitting gown of white velvet. The gown featured a velvet train lined with white satin and long "tip" point sleeves fastened at the wrist. Her headdress of white satin and velvet petals held a shoulder length veil of nylon net. She carried a white Bible with red carnations, and her only jewelry was a white gold locket, a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was her sister, Mrs. Donna Coughlin of Coleman. Mrs. Coughlin wore a red velvet sheath dress with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her headdress was a pill box hat of red velvet and she carried a white velvet muff with red and white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Lois Ann MacLellan of Coleman and Iris Catherine Reid, RN, of Halifax, N.S. were identically gowned in red velvet sheaths with long sleeves and matching wedding ring hats of red velvet. They carried red and white carnations.

For a honeymoon trip, the bride wore a brown coat of sea otter with beige accessories. Before leaving, the bride visited her father, who was a patient in the O'Leary Community Hospital.

SHE DARED AND WON

Now 23, Anne Tyler of Montreal was 22 when she won critical praise for her novel, If Morning Ever Comes, about a man who returns home to North Carolina. It was written from a man's point of view — something a college professor had told her no woman writer should attempt. Miss Tyler (married name Madarress) is seen at home in Montreal, where her Iranian husband is in residency in psychiatry at McGill University. They will move to Iran in two years. AP Photo.

Mr. Ernest Johnson presiding at the UCW February meeting which was held in the Bedeque Church hall recently.

Mrs. George Henderson on led the devotions and opened the service with the singing of a hymn. Mrs. Charles Henderson read the scripture and a two minute silence was maintained in remembrance of Mrs. Percy Affleck.

The programme was on Trinidad and Brazil and was given by Mrs. Bruce Affleck and Mrs. C. Henderson. A letter was read from Dr. Catherine Whittier, medical missionary in British Columbia, giving an account of her work in that field.

The meeting closed with prayer.

Turkish leader Kemal Ataturk banned the dance of the whirling dervishes in 1925, but it was revived in 1962 as an annual attraction.
