

Is the baby too thin?
Does he increase too slowly in weight?
Are you in constant fear he will be ill?
Then give him more flesh. Give him more power to resist disease. He certainly needs a fat-forming food. Scott's Emulsion is just that food. It will make the baby plump; increase the weight; bring color to the cheeks, and prosperity to the whole body. Thin children take to it as naturally as they do to their milk.

For The Children

A Mystery.

A-sailing and a-sailing
A-sailing far away.
This morning I saw my father's boat
Go sailing down the bay.

He said: my little Gretchen,
I'll fetch a gift to you
It does not weigh a single hair,
And not a soul can view.

It is not caught with net or line,
And yet it is to me
Worth all the store of shining fish
That travel through the sea.

Now suppertime is bringing
The hour that I love best—
When all the boats come sailing home,
And father, with the rest.

I think I've guessed the secret,
Perhaps it's only this—
The treasure father holds so dear
Is nothing but a kiss.
—Youth's Companion.

A Gentlemanly Boy.

A gentle boy, a manly boy,
Is the boy I love to see:
An honest boy, an upright boy,
Is the boy of boys for me.

The gentle boy guards well his lips,
Lest words that fall may grieve;
The manly boy will never stoop
To meanness, nor deceive.

An honest boy clings to the right
Through seasons foul and fair,
An upright boy will faithful be
When trusted anywhere.

The gentle boy the manly boy,
Upright and honest too,
Will always find a host of friends
Among the good and true.

He reaps reward in doing good,
Winds joy in giving joy,
And earns the right to bear the name—
"A gentlemanly boy."

In Dollyland.

In Dollyland where the dolls all live,
There are rich and poor like here,
And good little dolls, and bad little dolls,
And some dolls are mighty queer.

And the queer little dolls with the broken arms,
If they have any eyes they cry
And beg for money to mend their limbs
From the rich wax passersby.

A Nursery "Five O'Clock."

When mamma was giving a "tea" one time.

I couldn't go down stairs to that Nurse said I must stay
In the playroom that day
With her and my doll and the cat.
So I thought: "Well, then, I know what I'll do—

I'll just make believe I am grown.
I really don't see
With a party of three
Why I can't have a "tea" of my own."

Then dolly and I and the cat sat round
On the floor where my tea set was spread,
And I poured out tea
Nurse had fixed up for me
And passed about thin, buttered bread.

But doll didn't stir, wouldn't touch hers at all—
Her plate might as well have been bare—
Until I declared
While the stupid thing stared,
I'd certainly eat up her share.

And then I looked round, and, what do you think—
No wonder I gave such a scream
That naughty bad cat,
On the floor where she sat,
Had tipped over all of the cream!

I watched her lapping and licking it up
And said well I'm sorry to see
You troublesome two
Do not know what to do
When you go to a five o'clock tea."

—New York Herald.

Terrible Aches.

Jessie sat down by her mother to sew. She was making a pillowcase for her own little pillow. "All this?" she asked in a discontented tone, holding the seam out.

"That is not too much for a little girl who has a workbasket of her own," said her mother.

"Yes," thought Jessie, "mother has given me a workbasket, and I ought to be willing to sew," and with that she took a few stitches diligently.

"I have a dreadful pain in my side," said Jessie in a few minutes. "My thumb is very sore," she complained. "Oh my hand is so tired!" was the next. Then there was something the matter with her foot and then with her eyes, and so she was full of trouble.

At length the sewing was done. Jessie brought it to her mother, "Should I not first send for a doctor?" asked her mother.

"The doctor for me, mother?" cried the little girl, as surprised as she could be.

"Certainly a little girl so full of pains and aches must be ill, and the sooner we have the doctor the better."

"Oh, mother," said Jessie, laughing "they were sewing aches. I am well now."—Sunday School Evangelist.

NERVOUS... DEPRESSION

Means Impoverished and Exhausted Nerves—Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food Restores and Revitalizes the Nerve Cells.

People who suffer from Nervous Depression and Exhaustion frequently look healthy and strong. They alone know the thousand distressing symptoms which make their lives miserable.

The lack of nerve force results in a slow and sluggish action of the heart, impaired digestion, headache, despondency, and a fear to venture, loss of energy, sleeplessness, incapacity for mental labor or business.

With these symptoms there is usually melancholy and fear of death, which tends to increase nervousness, but there is every reason to be hopeful if the right treatment is used. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food contains all the nutrition required to create new brain and nerve tissue. It imparts to the nervous system that life-giving principle which sends a thrill of new strength and vigor through the system.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will cure by the building-up process, which enables the body to laugh at disease and weakness. Face cut and fac-simile signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on every box of the genuine. See a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Listowel, Ont., July 10—Mr. Thomas Tamblin of the firm of Tamblin and Clime, grocers, was lately a recipient of a communication from a gentleman in Toronto who is gathering statistics as to cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Some three years ago Mr. Tamblin was troubled with a weak back and severe pain in the kidneys. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and his trouble was removed. The Toronto enquirer asked if the cure had been satisfactory. Mr. Tamblin took the letter and wrote on the bottom in a firm hand, "The cure was quite satisfactory."
