

Lenten Meditation

From The Columns of The Times, London.

JOHN THE BAPTIST

The figure of John the Baptist is perhaps the strangest in the list of Christian saints. The honour of baptizing the Lord was given to him, yet the New Testament remains silent on the question whether he came eventually to accept him. All that is known is the message he sent from the prison to the one who had been condemned, a new Elijah, at the instigation of a second Jezabel.

Was this prophet who had risen in Galilee the Messiah of whom he had spoken in the wilderness, or was he but such another as himself, a forerunner? "Art thou he that cometh," he asked, "or look we for another?"

As was his wont, Jesus returned no direct answer to that question, it was for John himself to say whether in his works of healing and his preaching to the poor he could recognize the marks of one who had been sent by God. What decision John reached in his cell remains unknown, though it seems likely that he did not find it possible to see his hopes fulfilled in Jesus.

Wherein lay the greatness of the Baptist? In his revival of the prophetic message, the call to his people to repent. He was, as his great predecessors saw, that the evil from which they needed to be delivered was not in their circumstances but in themselves; and that Israel had a vocation to righteousness to which she must return. No privilege of birth could guarantee her in the hour of judgment that was at hand. Righteousness would be required of her then, and if righteousness were not forthcoming she would be swept away.

It was no light thing that he asked; the Jew must undergo as drastic an inner change as ever the Gentile did when he renounced his idols and acknowledged the one true God. His appeal was to fear; let each man search himself and ask how he would be placed in the coming judgment—with the wheat that would be gathered in, or the chaff cast into unquenchable fire?

Where did his weakness lie? Jesus came with a message that used the language of the Baptist but filled it with new content. His call was to repentance, and to repentance in expectation of the hour when God would act. But the power of God that was at work in his life was for mercy and not for condemnation; for the healing of the sick and the welcome home of the prodigal.

Jesus did not wait in the wilderness, an austere and solitary figure, for men to seek out; he made it his mission to seek them out, that he might save that which was lost. The Baptist was not capable of this, perhaps that was why it was so difficult for him to recognize in Jesus the one of whom he had spoken. He did not know that the strange perverse human heart often responds to the appeal of love as it never does to the threat of terror.

TRINITY W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting of Trinity W. M. S. was held in the Social Hall on Thursday, March 6th, with a large attendance despite the condition of the streets.

The president, Mrs. Lee Saunders led the worship service and the meeting opened by the members repeating the "Lord's Prayer" in unison. The theme of the service was, "Beginning the Day With God." Hymn 529 was read in unison. This morning hymn was written by Thomas Ken, chaplain in a boys' school in Winchester, who had the words of this hymn "Awake My Soul" etc printed and hung on the wall in each of the boys' rooms. This Thomas Ken was the author of "The Doxology" a verse sung more often than any other in the English language.

Mrs. Leigh Warren sang very acceptably as a solo, Hymn 539, "Still With Thee".

The minutes of the February meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. A. B. Bagnall and approved. The supply committee, Mrs. W. W. Mutch and Mrs. MacNair were asked to buy material and have it made up for the missionary hospital in Angola.

Mrs. Bustin read a very interesting letter from Miss Elman the missionary in Trinidad. The citizenship secretary, Mrs. Burgess then reported that ninety calls had been made during the month.

Miss Jessie Gillis, treasurer, announced that thirty-two annual members and sixteen life members had paid their dues at the February meeting.

A social half hour was enjoyed at the close, the hostesses for which were the B's and C's of the organization.

ZION W. M. S.

The March meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Zion Presbyterian Church was held on Thursday evening March 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Patterson, Edward St.

The Devotional Period, led by the president, Mrs. Rendle Larter, was conducted in the usual way. Psalm 89 "Thou Shalt Arise" was chosen followed by scripture reading and prayer.

The theme was "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the Gospel of Peace, and bring glad tidings of good things." The hymn "Father of Peace and God of Love" was sung followed by prayer by several members, and the "Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Roll was called, each member responding with a verse containing the word "Peace".

The treasurer, Miss Y. M. McDougall read her report and the secretary, Mrs. A. A. MacDonald read the minutes of the last meeting approved. The secretary also read the correspondence which included a letter from the pastor, Rev. G. C. Webster, who is ill in Toronto. All were glad to hear the words of cheer which it contained.

The report of the visiting committee was read and discussed and the members were requested to visit the sick and shut-ins as often as possible and to make more visits to hospital and sanatorium.

A committee was appointed to arrange plans to further the work of the W. M. S. A very interesting reading "Share His Suffering" given by Mrs. Ballingall was listened to with great interest. A chapter of the study book, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" was read by Mrs. Mutch and discussion followed.

The meeting closed with the hymn "O For a Closer Walk With God" and Mizpah Benediction. A social hour followed.

Farm Prices & Market Report

Following are excerpts from the weekly market report of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, prepared by Mr. F. Morris Deacon:

Dairying

Since the butter which was purchased by the Agricultural Products Board from New Zealand has come on the market, a change in price and demand has taken place on Maritime markets.

In the Province of New Brunswick, although the production is quite low, the price has dropped 1 cent per pound and is quoted as follows: Creameries to Wholesale, one and two pound prints—60c. Wholesalers to retail stores—62c. There is every indication that these prices will continue for several weeks in that Province.

In Nova Scotia there is no change in price announced officially as yet but in order to meet outside prices, a drop of one cent per pound is due for that Province. At present the price is quoted the same as last week, which is Factory Price—70c f.o.b. Halifax, Local Jobbing—72c.

In Montreal the wholesale price of No. 1 Solids delivered is 66c; Toronto—66c—68 1-4c.

In this Province, due to the lower price offered in New Brunswick and a weakening demand in Nova Scotia, the Creamery Manager and operators decided to lower the price one cent per pound this week. It is now quoted at 68 1-2c wholesale, f.o.b. Charlottetown, with Local Jobbing at 70c.

Livestock

At Montreal this week Good and Choice Steers are quoted at 27.50 to 28.50; with cows $1.00 to $2.00 lower; Good 20.00 to 22.00. Calves are $3.00 lower with Good and Choice 29.00 to 31.00. Hogs are steady, 25.00 for Grade A; Sows 14.00 to 15.00.

At Moncton this week hogs are steady. At Charlottetown hogs are down .50, and sows are steady. Cattle prices are revised slightly upward and live grade quotations on lambs are revised downward at Charlottetown.

The following are the quotations:

Hogs at Moncton: Grade A 26.00; Grade B1 25.00; No. 1 sows 14.00; No. 2 sows 13.00; not dressed weight delivered.

Potatoes

The potato market is still good but rather uneasy. The feeling is that the top price is being paid only for potatoes that are going directly aboard cars and not for those going into storage as the market may be easier before they can move them.

The following are the quotations at different centers on the Island as secured today:

Tignish: Tablestock—$2.40 per bus. A few moving. No seed moving and no quotations.

O'Leary: $2.25 per bus. for both seed and tablestock. Five cars tablestock shipped this week.

Wellington: Tablestock—$2.20 per bus. Potatoes coming in but not shipping due to scarcity of cars. Seed—None moving and no quotations.

Summerside: Tablestock—$2.20 per bus. Few moving. Potatoes coming in but no cars for shipping.

Kensington: $2.20 per bus. for both seed and tablestock. Very little moving due to scarcity of reefers.

Montague: Nothing moving.

Eggs and Poultry

Receipts of eggs are up to levels of other years for the same period. The demand for the product is fair at present prices but there has been a slackening off in the demand for Grade A Small and Grade B eggs in the Maritimes and this product is being routed to Montreal. It is reported that due to the smallness of the shipments, eggs are routed by express adding to the transportation charges resulting in lower prices to producer for these grades. This leads to the question as to why dealers and operators of grading stations do not arrange to pool shipments and ship by carlot, saving perhaps two cents per dozen in transportation charges.

Operators of grading stations are quoting producers for ungraded eggs Grade A Large 30-1, A Medium 27-8, A Small 22, B 22, C 17. Dealers are quoting station operators for the graded pack delivered Grade A Large 38, A Medium 35, A Small 28, B 28, C 23, and quoting retailers for the same pack AL 41, AM 38, AS 31, B 31, C 26. Eggs are retailing to consumers at AL 49, AM 45, AS 40, B 39-40.

Among The Farmers

Federation Of Agriculture News

Farmers, organization officers and Departmental officials during this coming week will have an opportunity of renewing acquaintances and taking a collective look at agriculture, past, present and future.

Farmers may roughly be divided into three classes: First, those who devote themselves entirely to farm work and take little or no interest in outside activities. Second, those who do not pay enough attention or devote enough time to their farm work; and third, the ones who manage to operate their farms at peak efficiency and also find time for study of the broad problems of the community and their industry.

From this latter group of public minded citizens will come the largest representation at next week's meetings. This type of citizen, or farm organization, makes in public life, be it either political or social, a valuable contribution to the welfare of the province.

Those Hog Premiums

We would like to repeat the suggestions made last week that hog shippers should closely watch the shipping weights of their hogs. It is important to realize that hogs dressing under 150 pounds either A or B are not eligible for premium while those over 170 pounds will suffer the usual discount in price. Therefore, to get the best price and also obtain the premiums from 150 to 170 pounds are the best weights.

Aid For Education

The British North America Act provided that the provinces should individually have control of and be responsible for education.

Recently the feeling has been developing that such a system imposed a hardship on the people of the poorer provinces and relieves the Dominion Government of a responsibility in which it should be actively interested.

A province such as Prince Edward Island from which large numbers of people have migrated has had to bear the expense of their education, while the larger and wealthier provinces have benefited by the influx of people taking with them their educational investment on the part of the province.

Specifically, the Dominion Government has benefited from the education of thousands of persons educated by the provinces. There is also just grounds for the belief that eleven different educational systems may not foster the desired growth of National thinking in preference to a purely provincial attitude.

Florida Tests

The Potato Marketing Board is to be commended for its efforts to provide potato growers with an opportunity of taking part in the Florida seed tests and demonstrating the superiority from a disease standpoint of Island stock.

The farmers who submitted samples have received information of value and collectively their initiative has done much to uphold the reputation of Island seed.

Marketing consists of far more than loading potatoes and sending them to market. Promotion, advertising, and disease control are highly important and can only be carried out if funds are available and these funds should properly be provided by the industry itself.

In the one cent levy now in dispute is bound up much of the future development of the potato industry.

Population and Income

Statistics are usually dry reading but we have just noticed a table which speaks volumes and explains much of the unrest in the world today.

It is not difficult to understand and to justify the very large exodus of the rest of the world should look with envy at North America and the United States and Canada are called upon to help.

Silage Survey

The information on the Federation's silage survey is practically all tabulated and the report will likely be made available at the Dairymen's meeting and perhaps discussed at other meetings as well.

The protein percentage in the grass silage samples runs as high as 16.6 while in corn the highest percentage is 9.4. The percentage of fiber is slightly less in the corn but not significantly so.

Of the twenty eight samples submitted for analysis only two were classed as inferior which indicates that Island farmers did a good job in mastering the technique of storing good silage.

Peanut Oil

In India peanut oil has been successfully used as fuel for diesel tractors. However, peanut oil cost eight times as much as diesel oil and will, therefore, be only used in times of extreme emergency.

World Grassland Congress

An indication of the importance attached to Grassland farming is the fact that in August scientists and technicians from various parts of the world will meet at Pennsylvania State College to exchange information on progress to date.

The developing of more balanced agricultural economies with more effective production of livestock products will be considered in relation to grass.

Herring For Feed

A farm forum member from Cape Egmont East has written this office some interesting material on success achieved in raising hogs with 35 pounds of starter each, and a ration made up of chopped red clover, mangels, and herring bait as the main part.

With less than four months feeding in this way (the pigs were bought when small) they weight from 200 to 220 pounds. This member suggests that farmers could cut down feeding costs of both hogs and cattle by the use of herring.

We would be interested in the opinions of others on this suggestion and whether there are any disadvantages to be considered.

Against a background of political and economic tensions, Richard A. Butler, British ambassador to Canada, unfolded Britain's new budget.

Farm Forums studied this question from all angles and came up with the following conclusions. Asked which they thought offered the best long-term market for Canadian Farm Products—Great Britain or United States, P. E. I. Forums gave this picture: Belmont Farm Forum said they felt that, "this was not a reasonable question. We feel that too few markets are now available to our Canadian products and it would be ridiculous to suggest losing either our U. S. or United Kingdom markets. The British market is our only market for our wheat and the U. S. our main potato market...so we must try and hold both of them."

Darnley Farm Forum favoured the U. S. "we feel the U. S. A. market, as U. S. A. needs more food products to feed their large population. There is more manufacturing there so more people, with dollars to feed."

Next Monday night, March 17th will find Farm Radio Forum discussing the question, "Are Hunger and Poverty the Real Causes of War?" Sir Norman Angell, British author and winner of the Nobel Peace prize, 1933 will take part in the national broadcast. The broadcast will center around the work of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.
