

MISCELLANEOUS.

An heroic little girl named Mary Fahey, of Cincinnati, aged seven years, was locked up with a baby sister last week, while her mother went to market. She played with matches and set fire to her dress. She was burned badly from her neck to her feet, but was still alive when her mother returned. When asked why she did not cry out for help she replied: "I was afraid of waking the baby." She died in a few moments after.

HE'D JINE ANYTHING.—A New Hampshire woman has a husband who is addicted to joining secret societies. One of her exasperated outbursts is thus reported by the Manchester Mirror: "Jine! He'd jine anything. There can't nothing come along that's dark and sly and hidden, but he'll jine it. If anybody should get up a society to burn his house down, he'd jine it just as soon as he could get in, and if he had to pay to get in, he'd go all the suddener."

M. Claud, ex-Chief of the Paris detective police, is dead. He was the fourth incumbent of the position under the new regime, when a departure was made from Vidocq's practice of employing as detectives none but ex-convicts and rascals. Among the famous criminals run down during Claud's incumbency was Troppman. During the Commune he was arrested and locked up for sixty days by the insurgents, escaping with his life as by a miracle. He resigned his office in 1875, and was succeeded by M. Jacob, who in turn gave place last year to M. Maoc.

HE WAS RUNNING THINGS.—A preacher at Montville, Conn., recently read a hymn of eight verses. The chorister directed the choir to omit three verses. This was done, and every one seemed satisfied but the preacher, who, as soon as the audience had bowed to receive the benediction, arose, and, with quivering nostril and flashing eye, extended a finger toward the leader of the choir and said: "When I want the choir to omit any verses from a hymn hereafter I will mention the fact."

In 1840 the population of New York was 312,700, and the United States, 17,056,000, and the New York Herald was published as a four page paper. In 1880 the population had increased to 1,250,000 and 950,000 respectively, and the Herald, is published as a twenty-four page paper. The Herald of April 11th contained no less than 4,461 advertisements—2,219 more than the London Times of April 3rd. The Herald of Sunday the 18th inst. had a circulation of 130,000 copies, and contained 109 columns of matter, embracing 4,437 advertisements, or 19 columns of matter and 2,538 advertisements than all other New York Sunday papers combined. The people of New York do an immense business. They know how to advertise.

The Court of Appeal in England has just decided that a wife, living amicably with her husband, cannot pledge the credit of her husband, even for necessaries; that she can do so only as his agent, and there must be proof that she had his authority to act in that capacity. Lord Chief Justice Thesiger said: "If there had been prior orders or credit brought to the knowledge of the husband, his acquiescence might afford evidence of acquiescence, but in the case of a wife first dealing with a tradesman, what right had he to assume the authority? The tradesman must be taken to know the law, and to be aware that the wife's authority might have been withdrawn, and if he did not choose to make enquiries he must take the consequences."

PORTRAITS UPON WINDOW PANES.—We have heretofore published an account of a portrait supposed to have been photographed by lightning on a pane of glass in the window of an old farm house in this country. Another instance of the same curious phenomenon has been found in the Mansion House, on the "Mount Eagle" farm, more generally known as the "Gentry Place." The portraits of four persons are plainly discernible—two men, a woman and a child. The faces are not all on one pane, that of one of the men and the woman being on adjoining panes, the face of the other man on another, and that of the child on one of the lower panes, and the theory is that they were all looking through the window during a thunder storm, when a sudden flash of lightning, by some mysterious process, instantaneously fixed their features on the glass. The existence of the portraits is of comparatively recent discovery, and has attracted many visitors.—Washington paper.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.

G. DAVIES & CO.

Charlottetown, April 17, 1880.

CARD.

WE beg to thank our numerous Customers for the generous patronage hitherto extended to us. Although the past year has been generally one of great dullness and depression, we are happy to say our business was larger than in any previous year. We look on this result as a proof that our system of selling chiefly for ready cash and at very small profits is recognized and appreciated by the public generally.

Notwithstanding the recent great rise in all descriptions of Goods we are pleased to announce that our NEW SPRING AND SUMMER STOCK—part of which we are now opening—will be sold, with few exceptions, AS LOW AS LAST YEAR'S PRICES. The coming Stock having been selected by Mr. PATON in England early in the winter and bought for READY CASH, enables us to continue selling at our usual low prices for Cash.

WELLAND CANAL. NOTICE TO MACHINIST CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned (Secretary of Railways and Canals) and endorsed "Tender for Lock Gates, Welland Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on THURSDAY, the 3rd day of JUNE next, for the construction of Gates, and the necessary machinery connected with them, for the new Locks on the Welland Canal.

Plans, Specifications and General Conditions can be seen at this office on and after THURSDAY, the 20th day of MAY next, where forms of tender can also be obtained.

Parties tendering are expected to provide the special tools necessary for, and to have a practical knowledge of, works of this class, and are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque for a sum equal to $250, for the gates of each lock, must accompany each tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, the party or parties whose tender it is proposed to accept will be notified that their tender is accepted, subject to a deposit of five per cent. of the bulk sum of the contract—of which the sum sent in with the tender will be considered a part—to be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General within eight days after the date of the notice.

Ninety per cent. only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the work.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.
