Four Members Of RCAF Stationed In Turkey

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Four members of the RCAF still are stationed in Turkey to assist the Turkish air force in operation of Canadian - built Sabre jet fighters, informed sources said here.

Authorities said they have no definite knowledge that Canadian - made Sabres took part in Turkey's air attack on the northwest coast of Cyprus a week ago but that this was a possibility.

The Sabres which participated in the attack on Greek-Cypriot positions in Cyprus reportedly flew from Eskisehir, where two of the Canadian airmen are stationed. The two other RCAF members are in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

Under Canada's mutual aid program to NATO allies in Europe, this country gave Turkey 107 Sabres and the same number to Greece. Up to 1958, Canada had supplied 30 per cent of the materiel strength of the Greek air force and 17 per cent of the Turkish. In money, these contributions amounted to $153,000,000.

SUSPENDED SHIPMENTS

External Affairs Minister Martin announced in the Commons July 9 that Canada suspended indefinitely all arms shipments to Turkey and Greece when the Cyprus crisis arose.

The RCAF announced at the same time that its logistics liaison office in Athens was closed June 25 after 16 years of assisting the Greek air force in maintenance of Canadian - made Sabres.

The counterpart liaison office in Turkey still is functioning, however, mainly because Turkey is continuing to use Sabres while Greece is replacing its Sabres with more modern planes.

The United States, meanwhile had delivered to Greece and Turkey Canadian - made F-104 jet fighter - bombers during the Cyprus crisis.

Canada, though sharing in the costs of this program, has refused to make direct F-104 deliveries to the two NATO nations involved in the Cyprus situation.

MADE IN MONTREAL

In 1961, Canada and the U.S. agreed to produce 140 F-104s at Canadair Limited, Montreal, for their NATO mutual aid programs. The U.S. put up $150,000,000 for this program, Canada $50,000,000.

When the Cyprus crisis broke in March, Canada and the U.S. agreed that all early deliveries of F-104s should be in the name of the U.S. only. Production is scheduled to continue until October, 1965.

When the United Nations force in Cyprus began operations March 27, the reconnaissance squadron of the Royal Canadian Dragoons began to patrol with British units the northwest coast area in the vicinity of Kokkina and Mansoura, villages held by encircled Turkish Cypriots.

However, the Swedes later took over this area which was hit a week ago by Turkish air force jets in support of the beleaguered Turkish Cypriots.

MOBY DOLL TALK TO GO IN TAPE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. William Schevill, a marine biologist to whom whale sounds make some sense, has come to Vancouver to listen to Moby Doll.

He'll make tape recordings of the captive whale's squeals, adding them to a collection 19 years in the making, covering 20 other species.

Dr. Schevill of Harvard University and the Wood's Hole Oceanographical Institute in Massachusetts, said the study of whale sounds still is in its infancy.

"We still can't interpret what the whale's sounds mean, except for a few distinctive sounds, which can mean something like 'ouch'," he said.

Dr. Schevill said he hopes to be able to trace communications between Moby Doll and killer whales at large in Georgia Strait. Moby Doll squealed excitedly a week ago when two of the whales swam by her pen into English Bay.

NORAD And U.S. Aircraft Plan Exercise On Aug. 21

OTTAWA (CP) — RCAF fighter aircraft in the North American Air Defence Command will join U.S. air force bombers in exercise Top Rung V in the early morning hours of Friday, Aug. 21, defence headquarters announced here.

The exercise will take place over central Canada from James Bay to Alberta, and over the U.S. west of the Great Lakes and southward to the gulf of Mexico. There will be no suspension of normal civil air traffic.

The exercise, the fifth in a series, will involve subsonic B-47 and B-52 multi-jet bombers flying toward simulated targets at high and low altitudes close to cities in 20 states and near several cities in four provinces, the announcement said.

Canadian and American aerospace defence forces will exercise interception and tracking techniques employing all elements of the defence system. Bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command will simulate attacks and will be tracked by ground and airborne radar units. Canadian and U.S. fighter units will practice interception missions.

The announcement said Nordel's Nike-Hercules ground to air missiles will be exercised but no missiles will be fired.

Chrysler Corp. Drops Plans To Buy Mack Trucks

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp. here dropped plans to acquire Mack Trucks, Inc., after a court injunction was filed in anti-trust opposition to the acquisition.

Federal Judge Reynier J. Wortendyke in Newark, N.J., issued a preliminary injunction barring the acquisition at the request of the U.S. justice department, which contends the acquisition would tend to reduce competition in the truck field.

Chrysler and Mack immediately stated that while they disagree that lessened competition would result, they have terminated their agreement rather than keep plans suspended pending a final decision.

Shortly after the news broke, Mack stock was off $6 at $41.25 and Chrysler stock was off 25 cents at $53.63.

Chrysler, whose headquarters are in Detroit, announced plans to acquire Mack, of Montvale, N.J., last May 12. Chrysler said the transaction would involve between $138,600,000 and $164,300,000.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

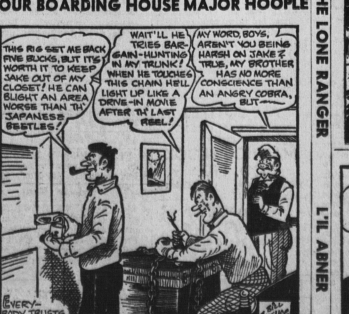
CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER



The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♥	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♥	Pass	4♥

Opening lead — ace of diamonds.

Ask any player to tell you his favorite bridge hand and the chances are that he'll tell you about some hand where he bamboozled the opponents out of their eyeteeth.

It might be a deal like this one where South was in six hearts, which he couldn't possibly make... except that he wound up making it!

Of course you might say the bidding wasn't good, since, for practical purposes, there was no way of avoiding two losers. But in defense of the bidding you could argue that the K-Q of diamonds and the A-K of clubs turned out to be practically worthless, since declarer could take eleven tricks without them. The wasted values were hard to discover during the bidding.

West led the ace of diamonds and shifted to the queen of spades. Declarer saw there was no way of making the hand legitimately, so he undertook to try to steal the contract. Ignoring the A-K of clubs completely, he took the ace of spades and cashed six hearts and the king of diamonds. When he then played the queen of diamonds, this was the position:

	North
	♥ AK8
West	East
♠ 10952	♠ K
	♥ QJ8
	South
	♠ J53
	♥ Q

West discarded a club, dummy a spade, and East was now faced with a crucial decision. Rightly or not, he parted with the King of clubs, and the outcome was that South took the last three tricks with the J-5-3 of spades.

Apparently East reasoned that his partner's early play of the queen of spades showed the Q-J, and East therefore decided to keep the clubs guarded. This reasoning was not entirely sound, but still South should be credited with having paved the way to the mistake.
