Pearson Defends Stand Taken By Gov't In Sending Force To Korea

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—(CP)—Canada has nothing to apologize for in the way she responded to the United Nations call for help in Korea, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today in the Commons.

Accident At Hunter River

One woman was injured and two cars were badly damaged as the result of a collision at Hunter River corner about 7.15 Sunday evening.

Mr. Pearson said Canada "takes a proud place" among those who provided effective help in stemming Russian aggression in Korea. He told the House that in its special brigade, the Government believes Canada has "started something important" — the establishment of U. N. strength that will not only be used in Korea but will ensure that the U. N. will have forces in being to throw against the next aggression.

Mr. Pearson undertook a general defence of Canada's foreign policy — particularly on its Korean action — as the Commons moved into the late stages of the Throne-Speech debate.

The House was pointing towards an early vote on a Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence in the Government over its handling of defence and the cost-of-living problem.

During the day, Opposition speakers tackled the Government on both counts. They called on the Cabinet to take action against the rise in living costs and to give the public more information on how the defence dollar is being spent.

John Dieffenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) accused Ministers of "debauching from the truth" and said Canadians would be willing to pay higher taxes for defence if they were given facts to show that their money was being spent efficiently and effectively.

Stanley Knowles (COP—Winnipeg North Centre) asked the Government to couple military measures with economic and social action against Communism. On the domestic front, he demanded a rollback of prices.

Charges Evasion Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) taxed the Government with "evasion and hesitation" about sending ground troops to Korea and said its policy seemed to be to let someone else do the fighting there for the first six months.

Angus MacInnis (COP—Vancouver East) asked the Government to clarify Canada's position on Korea and declared Canada should "get busy building our defences all along the line."

Two French-Canadian members during the day expressed opposing views on Canada's participation in the Korean conflict. P. E. Gagnon (Ind—Chicoutimi) opposed the dispatch of a Canadian force to Korea, but Maurice Gervais (P.—Nicoret-Yamaska) defended the action.

Mr. Pearson told the Commons that the government rejects any suggestion that it has not done its duty with regard to U. N. obligations in Korea.

Concerning Mr. Green's demand for a Pacific pact, Mr. Pearson denied that he had ridiculed such an idea but said it would be "very rash policy at this time" to make the same commitments to all Asiatic states as had been made on the Atlantic side.

In reply to some suggestions that mediation should have been relied on in Korea, the Minister said these were "not realistic."

"We are trying to make clear this time that the aggressor will not be able to destroy his victims one by one," he said.

He hoped the lesson would be clear and that later "we will not have to take more drastic action against those who are behind the aggression in Korea."

Mr. Pearson denied a charge earlier in the debate by Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V. C. (PC—Nanaimo), Progressive Conservative military critic, that the Minister had "skated around" the question of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's "pathetic appeal" for ground troops in Korea.

Is Commended On Thesis Discussing Pan-American Union

Mr. Heath N. Macquarrie of Victoria, P. E. I., has recently received a congratulatory message from Dr. Alberto Fleras, Secretary General of the organization of American States at Washington. The message followed the reading of Mr. Macquarrie's M.A. thesis which dealt with the Pan-American Union and Canadian Foreign Policy, a copy of which has been placed in the library of the Pan-American Union at Washington.

The Organization of American States was founded (under a different name) in 1890 and includes in its membership all nations of the Western Hemisphere with the exception of Canada. It is thus the oldest and most successful regional agency for international co-operation in existence today.

Dr. Fleras, a former president and foreign minister of the Republic of Colombia, is the first Latin American statesman to head the organization.

Mr. Macquarrie is a lecturer in the Department of Economics and Political Science at McGill University. He is continuing his study towards a Ph.D. degree in international relations. He is at present vacationing with his wife at Victoria.

Board Meetings At the Board's first meeting on Aug. 23 the general scope of operations was explained by the Premier and by his minister, Mr. Cullen and the Director of Transportation, Mr. Graham Rogers.

It was the decision of the Board at the first meeting that the following day it make a careful and extensive survey of commodities necessary for the well being of people, poultry, livestock, industry, etc. in this Province and to assess the surplus commodities which the Province normally exports. The various Boards of Trade, the Farmers' Federation and the Federation of Fisheries assisted materially in making this survey.

At the second meeting, Aug. 24, it was found from the conducted survey that the situation could not at that time be considered serious as there were stocks of all necessary commodities on hand to last for a minimum of ten days in exceptional cases and two to three weeks in most cases. Animal and poultry feeds were the shortest supply and the Board recommended to the Government that immediate action be taken to procure at the earliest possible date 20 carloads of feeds plus certain poultry feeds.

The chairman who had visited the ferry wharf at Wood Islands during the day gave a detailed description of the conditions there and what action he had taken on behalf of the Board to control same. This evidence was corroborated by the Director of Transport.

The Board recommended to the Government that a controller be appointed immediately to direct and control traffic to and from the Wood Islands ferries.

It was further decided by the Board that the three Board members living in Charlottetown should be appointed to act as an executive committee. The Committee thus designated and appointed were the chairman of the Board, Mr. Storey with Messrs Likely and Burden.

The Executive Committee did meet however, on a number of occasions to clear up details dealing with the control of traffic and in particular the rendering of assistance to truckers in obtaining load-both leaving the Province and returning to same. Messrs Likely and Burden were appointed by the chairman and set up in an office in the Hertz Building to assist in the latter.

The third and final meeting of the Board assembled Sept. 1 and was brought up to date on the ac-

Right Long Accepted "The right to strike has long been accepted as labour's right. Legislation, acceptable by management and labour, has in recent years attempted to prevent wherever possible this drastic move, equally costly to the strikers and management. However, no voice of authority has ever suggested that this right be withdrawn. The workers in this instance used this legal weapon in a legal way.

"They do doubt realized full well that their weapon was much more powerful than the same weapon in the hands of any other industrial workers in the country, and had they had any other instrument of adequate, but less drastic, power no doubt they would have used it instead. However, such was not the case, and the full weight and force of their weapon struck the nation with awful impact.

"These facts should be clearly understood by all responsible citizens so that one great source of strength in our Western democracy is not weakened in these days when we can ill afford any loss of strength anywhere. The worst that could result from this matter would be a weakening of public confidence in labour.

"The bill which was passed by Parliament was designed solely to protect our economy. It was not designed to coerce either parties of the dispute into an unfair settlement. It was not designed to set a precedent in future labour management relations. Labor retains its right to bargain. The Government retains its confidence in organized labour.

"As Minister of Labour, completely endorse this stand."

market. "The Island potatoes were of better quality," he stated, "but the people did not know it."

The two men will leave Charlottetown for Nova Scotia on Wednesday morning. They will visit Digby and continue on to Saint John, N.B., by boat, where they will spend Friday and Saturday.

PLEA FOR IMMIGRATION There are about 110,000 vacant jobs registered in Australia.

ECONOMIC

Continued from page 1 rail and, even more serious, the loss of carryover services to the Province, notwithstanding the importance to the economic life of this Province of the ferries operating at Wood Islands, the aircraft of the Maritime Central Airways and the bus travel within and to points outside the Province," says the report, "the Board concluded that:

"(a) Every possibility which in itself or together with other factors which could result in isolation of this Province from the mainland should now be averted.

"(b) That precautions be taken to safeguard the wellbeing of people, livestock and industry in the event of isolation now or in the future resulting from causes beyond control of governments or peoples."

Appointed by order-in-council on Aug. 22 at the outbreak of the strike, the Board comprised Messrs F. J. Storey, Charlottetown, chairman, R. S. Hinton, Summerside, Louis Poole, Montague; Louis O'Connor, Clinton; James Burden, Charlottetown; Andrew Likely, Charlottetown; J. Frank Arnett, Summerside. Its duty was "to survey the economic situation of the Province and more particularly to advise what are necessary imports and exports, and to arrange priorities in traffic on all available means of transport."

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. LLOYD CARLTON There passed peacefully away at the Prince Edward Island Hospital on August 9th, Mrs. Lloyd Carlton (nee Marion MacDonald).

Although not having enjoyed the best of health for the past couple of months, her sudden passing came as a shock to all who knew her. Doctors and nurses gave of their best but to no avail as God called one of his flock to be with Him in Glory.

A member of Trinity United Church, she was visited by her pastor, Rev. Dr. Rice, on many occasions and his contact gave the assurance of a most loveable and Christian person who has left this earth to be a child of God.

Her home was always open to her friends and all enjoyed her kindly hospitality. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband, a sister, May, Mrs. Harry A. MacDougal, a brother Earl who resides in Shrewsbury, Mass., also several cousins and aunts in the United States. Among her near relatives on P.E.I. is a cousin, Mrs. Hector MacDonald, Wood Islands, and a niece, Mrs. L. E. Welner, junior, Charlottetown.

The burial took place from the MacLean Funeral Home, service being conducted by Rev. Dr. Rice and prayer being offered by Rev. Joseph MacDonald, a friend of the family. A favorite hymn of the deceased, "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult," was rendered. Burial was in the People's Cemetery. The lovely flowers, also letters and cards of sympathy received, fully testified to the esteem in which she was held.

The husband and near relatives wish to convey their appreciation to all who in any way helped to relieve the sufferings of the deceased.

Assistant Manager At Maritime Electric

An Alberton man, Mr. E. J. MacLeod of High River, has arrived in Charlottetown to take over the position of assistant general manager of the Maritime Electric Company.

Stepping into a position left vacant by Mr. Albert Ley, who joined a Windsor, Nova Scotia concern last winter, Mr. MacLeod is no stranger to the job as he has been engaged in electrical work since 1929.

Graduating from the University of Alberta in 1939 he went to work for Calgary Power Limited until 1941. He took time out for a four year hitch in the Navy as a radar officer in the electrical branch after he returned to his old company in Calgary.

In 1946 he did a distribution survey in this Province for the Montreal Engineering Company. He spent several months here in the fall of that year.

Mr. MacLeod's wife and young son have accompanied him to the Province. His father was Mr. Brent MacLeod of Kensington who moved to High River years ago.

MILTON, Ia. Sept. 4.—(AP)—Ever hear of a potato with teeth? That's what one potato found in the garden of S. P. Evans had. Evans said a set of false teeth was embedded in the potato. His potato patch is located in the rear of a dentist's office.

ivities of its Executive Committee. The Board approved all actions of the Executive Committee.

At this meeting the precarious position of the Island in the event of a strike, was discussed and recommendations drafted as above given.

The report expresses the Board's appreciation of the prompt action of the Government in implementing the recommendations made during the strike emergency.
