BULLER IN HIS OWN DEFENCE.

NO GENERAL EVER FACED MORE DIFFICULT SITUATION.

The Pietermaritzburg correspondent of the Daily Mail wires as follows: "In his speech returning thanks for the sword of honour Sir Redvers Buller made a spirited defence of his strategy. He said that he did not believe that any general had ever faced a situation so difficult as that which confronted him when he disembarked at Cape Town without an army, and with no hope of one for another seven weeks or longer.

"I found Mafeking and Kimberley beleaguered," continued he, "and the two main avenues across the Free State, Bethune Bridge and Norval's Pont, in the hands of the enemy, with Ladysmith nearly surrounded. If I had waited for the army and then advanced on Bloemfontein it would have been at least twelve weeks before I could have exerted any influence on the situation.

"In that time the Boers would have completely overrun and occupied Natal, and what would have been the effect of that on Europe and the British people?"

"General Buller then proceeded to make the interesting announcement that Sir Evelyn Wood had wired asking to be allowed to come out to serve under him. He said he was never so tempted in his life to take a man at his word, for he had begun to look upon Natal as a forlorn hope, but it would have been cowardly to have let Sir Evelyn come to take the risk.

"I new that if I failed to relieve Ladysmith," he exclaimed, "I should lose the supreme command. I lost it and rightly, I think. But I had taken on the task, and was bound to see it through to a conclusion."

"Sir Redvers paid the highest compliments to the loyalty and gallantry of his troops under the tremendous strain, a strain, he believed, such as no soldiers in the history of the world had ever to undergo before."

TO AN OLD CLOCK.

Old clock, if you've come here to give advice

About Time's flight,
And think to scare us with your wheels
think twice—
—Go slow to-night.

Dull preacher of one dreary, weary creed
By Death inspired,

The limits of our patience you exceed
And make us tired.

No need for you to tell the lapse of life
With tick and chime,
Who made you Umpire, bidding us to strife,
By calling "Time"?

You stand there, like a Pharisee of yore,
Proclaiming grace,
With two admonitory hands before
Your snug, flat face.

Although you know the time of day at home,
Beware mistakes;
It's yesterday in China now. In Rome
To-morrow breaks.

And somewhere off in Mars or Mercury, no doubt,
If it could speak
For us to hear, some clock to night bawls out,
" 'Tis Tuesday week!"

While one on 't'other side of space (maybe You'd call it slow)
Is marking time at "half-past twenty three Six weeks ago!"

So don't get gay with humble sons of men,
As some clocks do;
One day your wheels will slacken up, and them
Good night to you!
—James Jeffrey Roche in Saturday Evening Post.

Eczema in Its Worst Form.

Back Covered With Blisters—Terrible Itching—No Sleep Possible—Dr. Chase's Ointment Simply Marvellous in its Curative Powers.

Mr. John Kelly, 79 Trinity street, Toronto, in an interview, made the following verbatim statement:—
"I have been troubled with eczema in almost its worst form for the past three years. At times my back and shoulder blades were literally covered with patches like water blisters, and these, accompanied with terrible itching on my legs, put sleep out of the question. I tried various well-known ointments (names mentioned), and did everything possible to obtain relief, but with little success. I had frequently heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but meeting with so many disappointments, I had not tried it. Seeing the advertisement one day I concluded to get a box. Since using Dr. Chase's Ointment, I am like a new being. Its soothing and healing properties are simply marvellous, and I am honestly grateful to Dr. Chase's Ointment for the release from long suffering."
