AGRICULTURE.

[From the American Agriculturist.]

DEEP PLOUGHING SHOULD BE DONE GRADUALLY.

A correspondent, who has one of the finest and most productive farms in Western New York which he keeps in a high state of fertility by thorough cultivation and the growth of red clover, makes the following sensible remarks in regard to deep ploughing: "A sudden bringing up to the surface of many inches of heavy clay that has never been punctured by the roots of plants, and this too in the spring of the year, would probably injure the first crop. Clay subsoils are best brought to the surface two or three inches at a time, and that in the fall, so that the frosts of winter may mellow them down. The next spring plough, say twice as many inches deep as the clay subsoil is thick. This will mix things up so that even a crop of corn would be much improved by the deep fall ploughing. If we had the power and tools necessary to go on with this process of bringing up the subsoil, and mixing it with the surface soil, until we had one foot or more of mellow soil that had been enriched by turning under repeated clover crops and then under this foot or more of soil, we could run a subsoil plough two feet deep, and so break the clay to a depth of three feet, the clover roots would have a chance to bring to the surface the fertility that now lies dormant under the surface of our lands. This is the theory that I have constructed in the experience of a lifetime as a farmer; and I have no doubt of its applicability on our lands here. I do not think it would do on all lands but it is practicable here, or at least will be when we get the Steam Plough that can do the subsoiling for us. In the meantime we are doing the best we can in the direction I have indicated."

[From the American Stock Journal.]

CHEAPEST PLAN TO WINTER COWS.

Steam, or cook their food. Many farmers have dry cows to winter, with the expectation of them coming into profit in the spring. Cut straw or hay, with a little cornmeal or other mill feed added, and all steamed together, will bring a dry cow through the winter in good condition for coming into profit in the spring.

To apply steam to dry hay, only dries or burns it, and makes it worse—it should be first wet—and that is the reason that some have failed in steaming. There should be 2 gallons of water to every 5 bushels. Another advantage in steaming is in mixing hay and straw, which should be done before the operation, and we have found the mixture thus treated to be fully equal to unsteamed clear hay. Bean and pea straw, if cut soon enough, is still better, and may be thus mixed, and will prove extremely valuable. The manure from animals fed on bean and pea straw, has proved rich, and better than straw manure. We have found, by a long series of experiments that two quarts of middlings are equal to a quart of Indian meal, and that wheat bran, (which contains much gluten,) is one of the most valuable kinds of food if properly prepared. Steamed fodder is similar in its character to fresh pasture.

Cows coming in profit should not be permitted to fall away in flesh, neither should they be fatted, but kept in a good thriving healthy condition, and the practice above named will do it in the most economical manner. They may be kept alive on straw and other coarse matter, and be so poor in the spring as to require half a summer's pasturage to bring them up to good condition; but there is no economy in that—the most profitable part of the season is lost, and the health of the cow is injured; her cash value is depreciated, and the farmer pays dearly for his mistaken economy. A milch cow is a sort of machine for converting food into milk, so that the better she is fed the more milk she will produce; one well fed and cared for, is more profitable than two poorly fed and illy cared for.

Uninterrupted thrift, at all seasons, with all domestic animals, should be the motto; and this depends on constant care and oversight, with sound judgment in selecting the proper food and giving it in proper quantities and at proper times—and we might add, having in addition for each animal, constant access to a lump of rock salt.

TREATMENT OF HORSES WHEN HEATED

Men and horses are the only animals that sweat. So says the medical men whose business it is to investigate the wonderful living mechanism of both. The ox cools off by accelerated respiration; if heated in the furrow, he partially opens his mouth, drops his tongue, and by rapid respiration, or short breathing, throws off the excess of heat which has accumulated in the system. "Old Dog Tray" that runs panting by the side of the carriage through the immense heat of a July sun, dashes into the cold spring with impunity, and returns refreshed, having no perspiration to check, when men or horses, submerged in a like manner, would suddenly check perspiration, and if they survived the shock, it would be but to die with an acute or chronic inflammation. In violent motion the respiration of both men and horses is increased, but not sufficiently so as to carry off the heat that is generated; they perspire through the skin, the pores of which become opened or enlarged, and it is while in this condition that both are exceedingly liable to be injured, and when great care is necessary to preserve the health of either.

We saw a noble looking animal the other day standing by the road side of a public inn, (the owner evidently one of "my friends"—within talking politics with mine host—"or some other man"—) wet with perspiration, dotted with foam, and apparently highly heated. There he stood unchecked by rein or halter, faithfully waiting his master's return. The day was cold; the wind blowing a gale from the northern hills! Impatiently he pawed the frozen ground, champed the bit, and wildly flung his head from side to side, while his lips were contracted and nostrils collapsed, giving him a fierce and unnatural appearance. No blanket covered his wet and heated body, the cold wind was fast cooling him off, causing his moist long hair to stand on end like that of the porcupine. He was evidently suffering severely. And this is no uncommon sight. So little is still known of the phisology and functions of the horse, that the man who would refuse an extravagant price for a favorite animal, suffers him to stand in the condition which I have described. If the horse escapes an attack of colic or without inflammation of some shape, it will be his good fortune, and not from any wisdom or humanity on the part of his owner.

Even in mild weather, though it may be summer, men or horses should not remain quiet in a cold draft, when heated and wet with perspiration. Millions of the colds complained of would be prevented by observing this simple rule, and thousands of valuable lives preserved which are now annually extinguished.

But if you, who value the noble animal which you control, when you "rein up" for business or pleasure, let the "mantle of charity" come over your steed in the shape of a good warm blanket, depend upon it you will find it cheaper than physic, travelling on foot, or drawing your cart yourself.

VAN

WHEN TO SHUT UP PIGS FOR FATTENING—If the pens are furnished with shelter and with water, we should say begin in August. A pound of pork is made much more economically in warm weather than in cold. Little food is wasted in keeping up the animal heat, and many green articles are available which are out of season late in the fall. Swine enjoy fresh clover fed every day with their cooked corn or provender. Sweet corn ought to be raised for the purpose of feeding in the green state to swine. It greatly promotes their thrift, and, we have thought, makes flesh as economically as any food that can be given.

Some one, who was undoubtedly born in Connecticut, is manufacturing artificial eggs equal to the best hen fruit, which he sells for fifteen cents the dozen. His place of buisiness is Troy.

THE STANFIELD WOOLLEN MILLS at TRYON, having been thoroughly reconstructed and enlarged by additional Machinery and Steam Power, will continue to manufacture Cloth from custom wool as heretofore and at the usual rates. Having doubled their facilities for manufacturing, and procured skilful operatives for every department, the Company feel confident of giving their customers greater satisfaction generally, by manufacturing a better quality of Cloth and making quicker returns for wool left with them. In addition to the various kinds of Cloth previously made, they are manufacturing several new styles for men's wear and full width blanketing.

☞ Wool, which must be clean washed, free of mats and coarse locks, and of good quality, may be left at Hon. H. J. Calbeck's, Charlottetown, or at the Mill.

THE ROAD TO HEATH

AND LONG LIFE

SECURED BY

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Impurities of the Blood.

In selecting the most appropriate medicine for a particular ailment, there may be some difficulty, unless one can be found to purify, regulate, and improve the quality of the blood. These Pills possess and exert these three qualifications in an extraordinary degree. They enable the stomach to digest any ordinary food, increase the secretory powers of the liver, cleanse and purify the blood, expel all morbid matter, and throw into the circulation the purest elements for sustaining and repairing the frame.

Weakness and Debility.

How many persons suffer from debility without knowing the causes why they are feeble! In many cases the stomach is the aggressor. Holloway's Pills have long been famed for regulating a disordered stomach, and restoring its healthy digestive tone; they are, therefore, confidently recommended as a never failing remedy in all cases where the constitution, from any cause, has become impaired or weakened.

Disease of the Head and Heart

These formidable diseases are, unfortunately, frequent occurrence; for the most part they creep on gradually, but may be prevented by proper precautions. Holloway's Pills are the surest preservatives against all derangements of the brain, and are the speediest correctors of irregular circulation. If they be taken without delay, when tingling in the limbs, drowsiness, or giddiness comes on, the effect will be marvellous.

Females of all Ages & Classes

The fame of these Pills is partly based upon the beneficial effects they have upon the constitutions of females. From the domestic servant to the peeress universal favor is accorded to them for their invigorating and purifying properties, which render them so safe and invaluable in all disorders peculiar to the sex. Obstructions of every kind, either in young persons entering into womanhood or approaching the turn of life—the most critical period—may be radically removed by a recourse to these Pills.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach and Bowels

Whenever the stomach, liver, or bowels are disordered by high living, climate, over-indulgence undue exertion or other causes, these fine regulating Pills will soon rectify the evil, and speedily bring back energy, strength and cheerfulness to the frame where previously all was lassitude, gloom and dejection.

Despondency, Low Spirits.

The misery occasioned by a disordered digestion is unfortunately, felt by most. These famous Pills should be taken in appropriate doses to adjust the disturbed functions. They dispel headache, biliousness, nausea, lowness of spirits, and all similar ailments. A course of these invaluable purifying Pills never fails in removing the cause of such morbid affections, without subjecting the sufferer to any inconvenience.

Influenza, Diptheria, Bronchitis Coughs and Colds.

In our changeable climate few persons escape without colds, sore throats, influenza, diptheria, or bronchitis, for all of which these famous corrective Pills may be taken with the certainty of effecting a cure. While the Pills are expelling all impurities from the body generally, Holloway's Ointment should be well rubbed upon the chest and throat, it will penetrate the skin, reduce inflammation, and restore lasting soundness.

Holloway's Pills are the best Remedy known in the world for the following diseases:
