most important lessons that all little folk have to learn. He had learned that he must be smarter than those he tried to catch. So the next Grasshopper he saw he approached very, very carefully. He crept through the grass. Eager as he was he didn't hurry. He caught that Grasshopper. Then afterward, he caught a fat Beetle. Presently he was startled. He was more than startled, he was really scared. He had come face to face with a giant. Never had he felt so small. The giant thumped the ground hard. He was trying to scare Little Jim. Did Little Jim run? He did not. He stamped his own very small feet right back at the big giant. He threw up his small tail just as he had seen Mother throw up hers. He twisted his small body around in the best Skunk manner and a surprising thing happened. That giant backed away hastily.

"I'm not going to hurt you," said Peter Rabbit.

"You better not try it," said spunky Little Jim.

MacDonald-Morrissey Wedding

June 12, St. Dunstan's Basilica was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Marian Ursula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendelin Morrissey, East Royalty, became the bride of John B. MacDonald, son of Mrs. MacDonald and the late W. A. MacDonald of Grand Tracadie. The ceremony was performed and nuptial Mass celebrated by Rev. P. F. MacDonald, brother of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length gown and train of cream colored satin. Her long veil fell in graceful folds from a white beaded coronet and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty Roses and maiden-hair fern with white satin streamers. To complete her costume she wore a strand of pearls.

The bride was attended by her sister Zita, R.N., who was attired in a floor length gown of blue sheer. Her headdress was a matching coronet with shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses with maiden-hair fern and pink satin streamers. The groom was attended by his brother Eugene.

During the Mass music was played by Mrs. Joseph Dougan, church organist, while Mr. Frank MacIntyre sang appropriate hymns. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Queen Hotel. Fr. P. F. MacDonald proposed a toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to North Sydney. For travelling the bride wore a navy suit with white accessories, and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

On their return they were tendered a wedding supper at the home of the bride for immediate relatives and friends. The dining-room was artistically decorated with white and yellow bells and streamers. The table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, which was later cut traditionally by the bride and groom.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a shower by the residents of East Royalty.

A little family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alban D. Arsenault on Saturday evening, when many of their relatives gathered for a social evening.

The sympathy of her many friends in Howlan is extended to Mrs. Fidele Arsenault of Woodstock and all other members of the family in the loss they sustained in the death of a loving brother on Sunday afternoon, June 25th, in the person of Rev. J. A. Gaudet, at the age of 78 years. The late Rev. Fr. Gaudet was a former beloved pastor at St. Anthony's. His funeral service and burial is to be held at St. Anthony's.

Bowness whose death took place at her home in Summerside on Sunday. The late Mrs. Bowness was formerly Miss Bernice Bell Lidstone of Cape Wolfe, and was 68 years of age. Sincere sympathy is extended Mr. Bowness and family in their sad bereavement.
