

BITTER NOTES

Thanks to all the 110 students, faculty, and staff who were kind enough, and concerned, to complete the SUN survey that was circulated last week. A special thanks go out to Jane Ings and Joanne MacKinnon who helped in their spare time. Thanks Jane! I would also like to take the opportunity to mention a good word and thought to all of the people who used the survey for, notepaper, napkins, garbage contributions, and airplanes. I'm happy to see that you found the survey of some use.

The Engineers were a real help with this matter. It must be pointed out that 15 to 17 Engineers completed two and three survey's each, it should have been noted that you were only to complete one. Next time, if there is a next time, I'll type it in large BLOCK LETTERS so you will know. I am so happy to see that you have finally convinced me of your stupidity, at least I know what you are capable of!!

I must say that I was not shocked with the results, but am only glad that I have tried my best to circulate interest in the paper. Unfortunately I will not publish the results of the survey but will say that out of 160 surveys passed out and with the surveys page in last weeks paper, only 110 were received or returned. This does not even constitute 10% of the population at the University. Please don't complain about the paper unless you are willing to contribute (in anyway at all). Out of all the surveys completed 70% were from students, 16% were from staff, and 14% were from faculty.

If I sound depressed or upset with it, well you're certainly right about that Every week four or five people put the paper out with a dedication many of the students and the university body as a whole, either don't realize or unable to understand. Well, we all take full course loads and half of the staff hold other jobs, but we still put in the hours (20) and get the paper out on time for the wednesday noontime deadline.

If I sound a bit redundant then that is what I intended to do. I am not looking for pats-on-the-back, but only some help!!! Most people on Tuesdays at the late hour of lam are at home and in bed sleeping. A few dedicated students are up in the SUN office finishing the paper so it gets out on time.

We all know that its four flights of tough walking to get to the SUN office, but after two or three times you won't even notice the effort it takes to get there. Oh, by-the-way, our ghost The Great Cadre is a friendly one. Although it is shy it helps us when we are in need of it.

The survey was not all that bad. If anyone has any questions concerning the results please feel free to contact me at the SUN office. This monday night at 7:30 pm we are having a seance. Why not come and HELP.

GHOST REVEALED

After numerous attempts the ghost of Fourth Floor Main, The Great Cadre, has finally been photographed. This shy and harmless apparition that haunts the building after all, (except a few SUN staffers,) have left, was caught by an intrepid staff photographer, late Sunday night. His lovely visage was finally recorded for prosperity when he was caught unawares in the SUN office's darkroom, Since then, the Great Cadre has refused to return to the office, causing the staff great distress, as we miss him.

Our resident ghoul proves to be a friendly, yet often capricious comrade. We will be having a seance Monday night, at 7:30, to coax Cadre to return. Anyone interested in meeting The Great Cadre or even helping produce the SUN is urged to attend.

Cadre is quite lonely!!!
