Wheelhorses In Robbery Flee England

LONDON (CP) — Scotland Yard has sparked a Europe-wide hunt for 10 men on the run with possibly £100,000 ($300,000) each in their pockets—representing almost half the loot still missing from the £2,600,000 ($7,800,000) royal mail train robbery staged at Cheddington Aug. 8.

Underworld sources were reported Tuesday to have told police that these 10 "wheelhorses" of the massive crime fled with their booty to the continent.

Scotland Yard imposed a news blackout on the hunt for the gang ringleaders. Chief Supt. Thomas Butler, directing the search, cancelled two press conferences and clamped a lid on news of police movements.

Earlier, another Scotland Yard detective said more arrests are "imminent."

Profumo Affair Record Released

NEW YORK (CP) — A long-playing record satirizing the Profumo affair and other features of British life will be issued in Britain and North America this weekend despite initial rejection by one recording company.

A spokesman for Anthony Newley, British stage star, said here the record, called Pool Britannia, is to be issued Friday by a company set up by Newley and associates.

The record features Newley, currently starring here in the Broadway hit Stop the World I Want to Get Off, his wife, Joan Collins, and British comedian Peter Sellers.

A sketch poking fun at the British Royal Family in which Daniel Massey, son of Canadian actor Raymond Massey, took part, has been deleted from the record.

London Records Incorporated, U.S. subsidiary of British Decca Limited, had said earlier that it would release the record in the U.S. and Canada. Decca and London Records announced last week, however, that they would not handle it. They gave no reasons.

Sellers had said earlier that "only a prude could be offended" by the record.

DART MISSES, SPARKS TROUBLE

LONDON (AP) — Taking careful aim, John Moffitt flicked a dart at the dartboard in his favorite pub.

He missed and hit an electric light bulb.

The bulb short-circuited the lights and a fuse blew.

In the darkness, pub-keeper Bruce Newton went to the fuse box downstairs.

Groping for it, he lost his footing and fell down the stairs.

This frightened Bilko, the pub watchdog, and Bilko bit him.

Newton let out a yell, causing a bartender to accidentally smash a glass and cut his hand.

When he finally got the lights back on he came upstairs and found someone had stolen the dartboard.

Fewer Russians Remain In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said here the number of Russian troops in Cuba has decreased since April and the emphasis among those remaining has changed from combat to training.

At the same time, Kennedy told a press conference that Soviet soldiers still are in Cuba and that is "a matter of concern to us."
