

Like Discovering New World To Launch Satellites

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Man is about to break the bonds which, through all the eons, have imprisoned him within the earth's atmosphere.

There can be no doubt that, within the predictable future, the small instrument-bearing satellites which the United States is preparing to launch into outer space will be followed by piloted flight.

The announcement has been expected for years, ever since the world learned of Nazi Germany's plan for a war-making satellite.

Recently it became known that the necessary new metals were available, that the scientific information was available, and that only word from the government was needed to start construction.

LIKE FINDING NEW WORLD

The thrill, now that the world has been given, is similar to that of witnessing the discovery of a new continent, or even a new world. There will be great excitement next week at the International Aeronautical Federation's meeting in Copenhagen. Scientists from all over the world who have been working on the problem will renew their digging with increased zest.

And then, during the joint world-wide studies to be made during the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year, the instruments will start seeking out, and relaying back to man, the secrets of outer space.

This already has been done after a fashion by high-flying rockets, but their lives are too brief. The satellites to be launched are expected to last at least a day, perhaps several days, circling the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

NOT WAR PLATFORMS

These will not be the great space platforms envisioned by the Germans, but 12-to-18-inch balls, and there is no connection between them and the German idea of using the platform for war purposes. Everything the United States learns will go to the advancement of man's knowledge everywhere.

But there can be no doubt that the little balloons will be followed by carriers; that vehicles with boosters to prevent their slipping back into the atmosphere will stay up indefinitely; that man is rapidly approaching the attainment of his ancient dream, a trip to the moon.

It is only to be hoped that he will not mess up his new domain as he has the earth.

Farewell To Ambassador To Peru

Mrs. Cecil Stewart and Mrs. Graham Rogers and family had a hurried farewell visit from Mr. Ben Rogers formerly of Charlottetown, son of the late R. H. Rogers. They enjoyed a family dinner together at the Charlottetown Hotel the evening before his departure for Peru to which country he has been appointed Canadian Ambassador. It was a regretful farewell as he will not have an opportunity to visit his family here for three years.

Mrs. Rogers will leave Ottawa to join His Excellency in September. She will leave her young son David in a private school near Toronto.

Experimenting In N.B. With Fast-Growing Trout

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—New Brunswick anglers are reaping a bountiful harvest from an experiment that may someday make Canada's lakes and streams a fishing paradise.

Hundreds of the province's lakes and streams have been stocked with fast-growing trout, developed through 25 years of research by K. G. Shillington, superintendent of the Saint John, N.B. hatchery.

The trout, which reach a weight of one pound within a year of being spawned, are bred from selected strains. Most of the province's waterways have been filled with the new species whose rate of growth is seven times that of wild fish.

SUCCESSFUL PLANTINGS

James Catt, regional supervisor of the fisheries department's fish culture division, says: "Many barren lakes were planted with the quick-growing strains some years ago and continue to afford fine sport for anglers."

The experts begged off answering this definitely. They suggested that at 18,000 miles an hour—the estimated speed of the satellites—the border violation, if any, would be very fleeting.

Payoffs

"Horton said he had heard that I was doing well on gambling and as he was my inspector and in a position to help somewhat, he all he should get a share of the take of monies I was getting."

"He thought both he and Det. Insp. Ambrose should receive a share. I could see a lot of sense in what he was saying in one way—a lot of danger in another way."

Who Owns The Stratosphere?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's plans to send satellites hurtling around the earth has raised this legal question: Will the United States have to get permission from all foreign countries over which the spaceborne basketballs fly?

Russia, for example, gets angry if an American plane comes near its borders.

The earth satellites will fly a lot higher than any plane—200 or 300 miles up.

International law experts at the state department were asked just how, high up a country's sovereignty extends and whether the U.S. will have to get permits from other countries before it can launch the satellites.

Take Vows Following 8-Day Retreat

The conclusion of an eight-day retreat at Mount St. Mary's, Charlottetown, conducted by the Reverend J. V. Driscoll, S.J., was marked by a very impressive ceremony held in the chapel of St. Dunstan's College on Friday morning, the Feast of St. Martha. Ten novices pronounced their first vows of religion and two sisters their final vows in the congregation of the Sisters of St. Martha.

In accordance with the traditional ceremonial, the Psalm Laetatus Sum was rendered by the Sisters' choir as the young religious, bearing lighted tapers, entered the chapel to assist at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass celebrated by His Excellency Most Reverend Malcolm McEachern, D. Bishop of Charlottetown. His Excellency was assisted by the Reverend P. F. MacDonald, and the Reverend Francis Ledwell.

The novices who pronounced their first vows were: Sister Edmund Teresa Roche, Iona; Sister Louis Marie Burge, St. Peter's; Sister Mary Carla Wood, Farmington; Sister Mary Consolata Shea, Tignish; Sister Frances Cabrini Roberts, Charlottetown; Sister Marian Atkins, Mount Stewart; Sister Raymond McDonald, Johnston, Bedouque; Sister Mary Dunstan Murphy, Cardigan; Sister Helena Corcoran, Piusville; Sister Mary William Sherry, Fernwood.

The Sisters pronouncing final vows were: Sister Thomas Marie Ledwell, (St. Peter's) and Sister Maria Joseph Kelly (Fort Augustus).

Taking as his text the words of the Psalmist, "I had rather be a servant in the house of my God than to dwell in the palaces of kings (Ps. 83, 11), Reverend Edmund J. Roche, brother of one of the newly professed, delivered an eloquent sermon which embodied a masterful survey of the meaning of the religious state. The reverend speaker congratulated the young Sisters whose heroism enabled them to lay aside what was dear in life to follow in the footsteps of their Divine Model. He extended sincere congratulations, too, to their parents, who in their holy lives had been a source of inspiration to their daughters, fostering in them their sublime vocations.

Seated in the Sanctuary were Right Reverend J. A. Murphy, S.S.J., and Right Reverend R. V. MacKenzie, Rector of St. Dunstan's College. Other clergy present were: Rev. Terence Campbell, Rev. R. F. MacDonald, Rev. M. J. Rooney, Rev. Walter MacGuigan, Rev. Urban Gillis, Rev. Basil Croken, Rev. J. A. Sullivan, Rev. G. Ellsworth, Rev. Harold Croken, Rev. Wilfred Keefe, Rev. George MacCormac, Rev. Leonard Ayers, Rev. William Simpson, Reverend David McTague, Rev. F. P. Aylward, Rev. Sylvère Gallant, Rev. Thomas MacLellan, Rev. Reginald Phalen, Rev. Clarence Roche, Rev. Claude Shea, Rev. John Cash, Rev. Edward Doyle.

Tryouts For Olympic Rifle

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's next Olympic rifle team will be chosen in part from results of the three-position match to be held Aug. 5, the Canadian Civic Association of Marksmen announced Friday.

The match will be held under international shooting union regulations at Connaught Ranges near Ottawa. It is the first time the CCAAM has sponsored matches under ISU rules. Differing from North American rules, these regulations govern all international matches.

The hand-gun team may also be selected on the basis of two matches to be held at the same time. The 1956 Olympics will be held in Melbourne, Australia.

Gilmer Bos of Toronto and Edson Warner, Lennoxville, Quebec, members of the 1952 Olympic team, are expected to compete again this year at the national matches for small-bore rifle and hand-gun.

CHIEF WAS AWAY

The witness said he talked the situation over with the police chief, "there was discussion—I don't think the chief was too much in favor," the chief said if I really thought it was a good idea, it could be done—but additional expenses of that nature must be taken out of my share."

"It was indicated $100 a month was a fair amount," Cuthbert said, but was unable to recall who mentioned the amount.

Cuthbert said he had never spoken to Insp. Ambrose and neither Ambrose nor Horton had received a cent from him.

R. C. A. C. Rifle Team To Come Home August 5th

OTTAWA, July 28—The Royal Canadian Army Cadet Rifle Team, winner of the Alexander Graham Bell Trophy at this month's National Rifle Association annual meet at Bisley, England, will arrive at Montreal aboard the Empress of Scotland August 5.

The Canadian team won by a narrow margin over the British cadets. The final score stood at 726 to 724 for the Canadians.

Thirteen British cadets, members of the Imperial Cadet Association's rifle team, are coming to Canada aboard the same ship to compete in the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual summer meet at Connaught Rifle Ranges near Ottawa.

The British cadets will enter every competition for which they are eligible, but their main purpose is to come to Canada to compete in the Michael Faraday Trophy. Competition rules for shoot against Canadian cadets in this trophy are almost identical to the ones which governed the Alexander Graham Bell Trophy shoot.

The Canadian team consisted of two adult officers and 11 cadets. These were Col. Donald B. Buell, DSO, CD, Director of Militia and Cadets, Army Headquarters; Lt.-Col. J. Neel Dow, (retired) team coach and experienced Bisley shot; Cadet Lt. G. R. Harper, New Glasgow, N.S.; Cadet Sgt. P. J.

Landrigan, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Cadet Major P. Nadon and Cadet Lt. A. Nadon, brothers, from Buckingham, Que.; Cadet Sgt. D. A. Donaldson, Hamilton, Ont.; Cadet J. H. Kaakee, Port Credit, Ont.; Cadet Lt. C.R.S. Ouellette, Windsor, Ont.; Cadet Cpl. R. Potter, Hamilton, Ont.; Cadet Sgt. R. Wilson, Ingersoll, Ont.; Cadet Capt. A. G. Flegel, Grayson, Sask.; and Cadet Sgt. E.K. Bell of Spirit River, Alta.

The Canadian team went to the United Kingdom specifically to compete for the Alexander Graham Bell Trophy, but prior to that shoot the cadets participated in preliminary competition shooting in which they made a good showing.

The Canadian team of eight, who had been chosen on their aggregate scores obtained at Bisley up to and including the previous day's shooting, started at the 200-yard range. They trailed the British team by four points early in the Bell competition, but at the 500-yard range settled down and gradually whittled down the UK lead until, with the last two competitors firing, the Canadian cadets moved ahead two points to win the match 726 to 724.

Individual scores of the winning team were: Wilson, 96, Bell, 92, Harper, 92, Kaakee, 92, Landrigan 91, Nadon P. 90, Potter, 87, and Ouellette, 86.

Securities Imported On Balance in May

OTTAWA (CP)—Balance of trade in outstanding securities between Canada and other countries shifted sharply in May, resulting in net purchases of $8,530,000 in contrast to net sales of $18,300,000 in April and $4,800,000 a year ago.

The bureau of statistics reported Friday that in the first five months of this year there was a net purchase balance of $8,530,000 compared with net sales of $30,600,000 in the corresponding period in 1954.

Net sales of Canadian stocks fell in May to $7,600,000 or to about 30 per cent of the $25,800,000 total in April.

Repatriation of Canadian bonds and debentures occurred on a somewhat larger scale than in April. Canadians also were net purchasers of long-term foreign securities for the first month this year.

For the first five months of 1955, the turnover has exceeded $900,000,000 and is about 60 per cent of the turnover recorded for 1954 as a whole.

Trade with the United States led to a purchase balance of $13,000,000 in May in contrast to a sales balance of $13,600,000 in April. There was a purchase balance of $3,000,000 with the United Kingdom.

Fish Story

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—All right, you fishermen, tie this! Walter Hudson landed a four-foot sturgeon weighing more than 14 pounds Friday while sitting on his verandah at nearby Grand Bay. His house is a quarter of a mile from the St. John river, the nearest water.

He was sitting there minding his own business when he heard a crash around the corner. Thinking his wife had suffered a fall, he hurried around and found the big fish, wet and wriggling, on the verandah. He subdued it with a stick and kept it alive in a tub of water for some time.

Best guess is that an ambitious eagle was the fisherman but couldn't hang onto the lively catch. There were small clam-marks in the tail.

N.B. museum naturalists support this view, surmising it was a northern bald eagle, the biggest in this area.

U.S. Copper Mills Close Supplies Cut By Strike

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Revere Copper and Brass Inc., Friday announced closing of its nine copper and brass mills throughout the United States due to a prolonged strike in the copper mining industry.

The work stoppage will affect 9,000 employees here and in nine plants in New York, California, Illinois, Baltimore, and Michigan. The two largest U.S. producers of copper—Kennecott and Phelps Dodge, have been on strike a month. The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.M.S.W.) called the strike after U.S. stoppages in copper mines in Chile and South Africa.

Crack Down On Disabled Lists

NEW YORK, (AP)—Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, cracked down Friday on what he called the abuse of the disabled list among the major league clubs and ordered that henceforth such applications must be accompanied by a doctor's certificate.

The commissioner said the list was intended to care for players hurt in the line of duty and "was not then and never intended to be used as a method of juggling the player limit."

Under the new edict, clubs before putting a player on the disabled list must get certification from a doctor and also must show that the injury occurred during play.

Trade Minister Howe Becomes Indian Chief

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Canada's minister of trade and commerce became an Indian chief Friday.

Rev. Hon. C. D. Howe, also defence production minister, was initiated into the kinaid, the honorary chieftainship of the Blood Indians.

Chief Pe-Ta-Pu-Tah, or Flying Eagle, was the name that head chief Shot-Both-Sides conferred on Mr. Howe. Indian braves in the fighting dress of their ancestors danced to the beat of ancient drums as Mr. Howe became a chief.

Chief Shot-Both-Sides, an 82-year-old warrior who only this year adopted Christianity, placed a full-feathered headdress on Mr. Howe to make the honor official.

At the same time the bloods, a branch of the blackfoot tribe, made G. H. Gooderman, a member of the kinaid, Mr. Gooderman, recently retired as supervisor of Indian affairs in Alberta and Northwest Territories.

Triplets Born

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Friday got its first set of triplets since Christmas Day, 1953—and they were born to an easterner, Mrs. Geraldine Day, formerly of McAdam, N.B.

She gave birth to a daughter and two sons. The girl weighed five pounds, 10½ ounces and the boys four pounds, 14 ounces and six pounds, 6½ ounces. All were doing fine.

Calvert Day, an air force man who now has eight young days to look after, came west to the RCAF base here as a mechanic.

Moncton Shops Win First Aid

MONCTON, N.B. — Word has been received from Dr. K. E. Dowd, chief medical officer for the Canadian National Railway system at Montreal, that the Moncton motive power shops team were successful, for the third consecutive year, in winning the Officers' Cup representing the championship of the Atlantic Region in the senior first aid competition with 441 points or 76.70 per cent.

The winning team consisted of F. J. Lloyd (captain), A. E. Wilson, S. M. A. Crossman, P. E. Godose, E. Byron and C. A. Melanson (spare). The team was examined by J. K. Tambling, general supervisor of First Aid, Montreal.

Vino Helps To Convict Of Wartime Killing

TURIN, Italy (Reuters)—Italian police, who disguised themselves as fishermen and piled a wartime Communist partisan with strong wine to get him to talk Friday charged him with murder: Giuseppe Faletto, 35, was accused of killing Enrico Codeca, manager of one of the Fiat automobile combine's truck and tractor plants, as he left his home here in April, 1952.

The killing coincided with a campaign by the gigantic Fiat company to weed out Communists from key positions in the industry. The next day slogans were chalked on the walls of the 22 flat plants here declaring: "That's one—others will follow."

After police had received an unsigned tip-off letter, a squad of detectives posed as fishermen to make contact with Faletto, who owned a fish stall in the Turin market.

After they became friendly with their suspect, they organized a dinner to which he was invited. The wine flowed freely.

A tape-recording from a concealed microphone was entered in the records of the court. It gave a conversation recorded at the dinner.

Killed On Power Line

NEW GLASGOW (CP)—One man was killed and another is in hospital following a powerline accident at Sunnyside, Pictou Co., Friday. Killed when his body came in contact with a high tension wire was Harvey A. Handren, 23, of Stellarton, N.S.

Francis Quirk, around 35, from New Glasgow, is in hospital with seriously burned arms and suffering from shock.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Alden Small and Laurie Compton who drowned on July 30th, 1953, at St. Eleonore Shore.
Always a silent heartache
Many a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory
Of the ones we love so dear.
Lovingly remembered by parents, brothers and sisters.
