Speaks For Baha'i Faith

Mrs. Marjorie MacCormick of Evanston, Illinois spoke last night at the Charlottetown Hotel, her topic being "The Holy Land of Many Faiths." She said in part "Today two and one half billion people have become your neighbors. Less than one quarter of these have white skins and less than one quarter are Christians. Now in an atomic age we are going to have to learn to live together or not live at all. "The uniting power is religion. Jesus took alien people such as the Greeks and Jews and united them in a common faith. In the Holy Land I visited the scenes of the Old Testament, Nazareth, Bethlehem and Jerusalem and finally, the headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith. "In closing Mrs. MacCormick said "Today is given to all men to know one Father-God, all men brothers and the world as one home."

Mrs. MacCormick's talk was illustrated by slides of the source places of all the faiths of the Holy Land. Her talk was held under Baha'i auspices. Mr. Willard MacKay of Vernon was chairman.

tion of Agriculture, said the United States could effectively disrupt the present balance of trade and make it very difficult for other countries to retain their proper share if its policies are to continue aid and barter programs for the purpose of disposing of the mounting volume of surpluses. "Canadian farmers could not afford a give-away program, Mr. Marler said. Any program of aid, barter or extended credit would have to be undertaken on a national basis, with farmers accepting their proper share. Barter trade had been suggested in the past by Canadian farmers but had been frowned upon by major governments.

FARM INCOME SHRINKS

E. A. Walton, economic adviser of the Bank of Montreal, said cash income of Canadian farmers from the sale of farm products had declined by 15 per cent since 1954. The average price received by farmers had fallen from five to four per cent, while prices they paid had continued unchanged. Prices received and prices paid by farmers were now almost exactly in the same relationship to each other as in the five years 1950-54, when prices were about 125 per cent above pre-war level.

Shepherd Dogs

son of Dearborn, Mich., is being conducted in her city of 120,000. "Instead of hiring two policemen on a beat we can send out a dog and an officer," she said. "The dog, if commanded, will jump through a plate glass window, flush out a suspect and disarm him, enter a burning building to search for victims, scale a 14-foot fence and stand guard."

Mrs. Johnson, only woman police commissioner in the United States, is attending the 62nd annual International Association of Chiefs of Police conference here. "So far," she said, "we think the experiment is terrific."

SAVE OILS - Lives. "The dogs, who also travel in patrol cars, could save many officers' lives. If a man is armed with a knife or gun or is holed up somewhere, the dog will find him, flush him out, disarm him and then guard him until the officer arrives."

"And officers get no sass when they are patrolling with a dog. Everybody respects them. "She recalled how a dog held four men at bay while an officer left him and walked down a long block to call for a patrol car. When he returned, the men hadn't budged an inch.

"By using a dog with an officer on foot patrol or in a squad car, many officers could be released for other duties," commissioner Johnson said.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Mary Sourette, Oyster Bed Bridge, wish to thank Father Clarence Pitre, the two missionary Fathers, Dr. Ian MacMillan, and all those who were so kind during their mother's illness. Deep appreciation is also extended to all who sent Mass cards, flowers, messages of sympathy and all those who helped in any way at the time of their sad bereavement.

MARITIME CONFERENCE CPAC DINNER MEETING

Describes Success In The Peautification Of S'ide

"The results of our determination to make Summerside the Flower Town of the Maritimes far exceeded expectation," Dr. Henry Moyle told the members of the Community Planning Association in the closing hours of a two-day session of the organization at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday. Dr. Moyle described how the Town had been divided into five zones and a house-to-house canvass made by interested citizens headed by members of the Lions Club. "Every phase of beautification was dealt with from the removal of unsightly piles in back yards, and improvement in neglected properties to the more pretentious lawn and garden effects prevalent on other home sites, 45 entries in the different types of contest were received and prize money and zone trophies became easily available."

Dr. Moyle paid special tribute to Mr. D.C. Schurman, for an exceptional job in follow-up during the summer months and also as an associate with Lieut. Col. Johnstone and Dr. Gallant in judging. He also referred to the support given the movement by the Summerside Journal and the full coverage given by The Guardian. "We hope to double the entries next year," Dr. Moyle said.

ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT
Mr. D.C. Schurman described the routine employed in the Summerside beautification program and the enthusiasm with which all classes of people entered into the project. He spoke of his periodic visits to the different zones. "The cleanup of back yards and the planting of a few flowers made an almost unbelievable change in the surroundings of many homes," Mr. Schurman said.

Keen interest was taken in the pictures shown, following the address. Municipal services were also dealt with at the meeting, touched off by Town Engineer Lieut. Col. Wightman of Amherst, N.S., who described the gradual increased requirement of water services and the difficulties and expense incident to the expanding uses. "While native lakes formerly were able to take care of pollution in moderation, the increased water consumption must be guarded against contamination." The necessity of storage, reservoirs, towers tanks and the transmission of water through mains and finally to the customer calls for careful planning which should be done early in the development of any area," Col. Wightman said.

Mr. Fred Leiderman of Halifax described the great difficulties with which the rapidly built-up areas in the County are confronted due to the rock formation which runs in places to 80 per cent of the excavation required, presenting a prohibitive cost situation. "The government should give the small town people more than a pat on the back and a wish you well," A long time re-payment credit arrangement would probably result in achieving the desired end," Mr. Leiderman said.

City Engineer MacQuarrie of Summerside congratulated Charlottetown on the quality of its water as she raised a glass of "sparkling and clear." He addressed the meeting on sewage disposal pointing out the absolute necessity of getting soiled water away from the source of its use rapidly.

TRUNK SEWERS
After describing the gradual acceptance of modern systems of drainage, he emphasized the need of trunk sewers being made large enough to avoid the plugging problem, which frequently appears in areas which have developed rapidly. "A well-made and adequate sewerage system should last 100 years. Sewerage is going into streams in tidal areas that can be properly carried off and the government should step in and stop it," he said.

National Secretary Eric Beacroft when called upon by President Dr. Frank MacKinnon said that the series of meetings had been most useful.

Several of the visitors from Atlantic Province points, Quebec and Ontario expressed appreciation and sincere thanks for the splendid and inspiring meetings of the conference. Special reference was made to the co-operation received from the City of Charlottetown, the Town of Summerside, Dr. Frank MacKinnon and Mr. Claude Smith.

The absence of Mr. J.J. Connolly through illness was regretted and the foundation work by him leading up to the conference was referred to with gratitude. In his closing remarks, President MacKinnon said he appreciated the kind references made in regard to the conference. He was convinced that an exchange of views on the scale and level of the assembly representing the Atlantic Provinces had many advantages over a larger meeting. A mutual understanding of problems and the different viewpoints brought to light should tend to close cooperation. "The experience here should be one of an educational nature, developing ideas which any government or city Council will be glad to hear about as they are constantly faced with the problems discussed." "It has been a great pleasure to have you with us, especially Mr. Bunnell from Ontario and Mr. Pelletier from the Province of Quebec," Dr. MacKinnon said.

The concluding session of the conference closed at noon.

Candidates will be drawn from all parts of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island and will represent Four Fourth Degree Assemblies in the two provinces. Making officers from both Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island will participate and the exemplification, only the second ever held in Cape Breton, is expected to draw some 500 to 600 Fourth Degree members. Nova Scotians Ship Fresh Salmon To Manager Of Dodgers To Boost Fish

HALIFAX (CP) - Sea conscious Nova Scotians are going all out during National Fish Week in an extensive campaign that even includes shipping a freshly caught Atlantic salmon to Walter Alston, manager of the world baseball champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Alston's salmon was packed in ice and sent to plane as soon as the result of Tuesday's world series game was learned.

But the campaign is just a highlight in a continuous program designed to get people to eat more fish and boost markets for the province's catch.

The fisheries department has introduced new packaging and shipping ideas to attract new markets and devised tantalizing recipes to whet the Canadian appetite.

FAST MARKETING

Refrigeration is playing an increasing role in the race to get the produce on the market with its fresh Nova Scotia fish, clams and lobsters can be flown to the United States the same day they are taken from the water.

National fish week was officially opened in Halifax Monday at a flag raising ceremony in front of City Hall.

A recent boom to the industry was the introduction of "fish sticks" which found a large market in the United States.

Modern trawlers, draggers and longliners have all but replaced the schooners that once sailed 127 strong from Lunenburg. Now only a dozen remain.

SPOT FISH WITH RADAR

Many of the new vessels are equipped with radar-like machines designed to spot the elusive fish schools.

The provincial government's fisheries division has set up schools in various fishing centres where men can get instruction in engine maintenance and operation and navigation.

Floating research laboratories equipped with the latest electronic devices, have probed off Newfoundland and Nova Scotia looking for new fishing grounds.

The hard work has paid off. Last year's figures showed an increase in landed value of $947,540 compared with 1953.

In 1954 landed value was $22,729,028 and fisheries officials expect this year's value will be even higher.

PEARSON VISITS BERLIN EN ROUTE TO MOSCOW
(By C. R. Blackburn, Canadian Press Staff Writer)
BERLIN, (CP) - L. B. Pearson, here en route to Moscow, was met at Tempelhof airport Tuesday night by Gregor G. Pushkin, Soviet ambassador to East Germany, who assured him that he would have an interesting visit to Russia. The ambassador drew a broad smile from the Canadian external affairs minister when he told him he would see a soccer match and the opening of the ballet season. Apparently the ambassador knew of Pearson's interest in football and the ballet. The RCMP C-5 carrying Pearson and his party arrived in Berlin from Paris at 5 p.m. The minister was driven to the West Berlin city hall with Dr. Walther Klein, chief of protocol for Berlin, Charles Ritchie, Canadian ambassador to West Germany, accompanied them. At the city hall Pearson was presented to Dr. Otto Suhr, mayor of Berlin, and signed the visitor's book. Afterward Pearson and his party were driven about Berlin to catch what was possible of the scene before dark. SEES PROGRESS
At the city hall Pearson was greeted by leaders of the three main political parties in West Germany. He told them how pleased he was at the progress he noticed on this, his third visit to Germany since the war. Pearson repeated to correspondents here that his visit to Russia was primarily a goodwill mission. He said he would discuss

Urge Federal Action In Locating Potato Markers

OTTAWA (CP) - Two Maritime premiers Monday demanded federal action to help Atlantic coast potato producers find new markets. Premier F. LeMay of New Brunswick proposed that all tariffs on potatoes moving between Canada and the United States be abolished. Until that is accomplished, he said, tariffs on U.S. potatoes shipped into Canada should be as high as duties on Canadian potatoes going to the U.S.

Premier Matheson of Prince Edward Island said the present tariff arrangement "forces us to sell in a protected United States market on an unprotected Canadian market."

The U.S. now applies a tariff of 37 1/2 cents a hundredweight of a quota of 2,500,000 hundredweight of sweet potatoes and 1,000,000 hundredweight of table potatoes moving from Canada. Above these quotas, the duty is 75 cents a hundredweight.

U.S. potatoes enter Canada duty-free except between June 15 and July 31 when a tariff of 37 1/2 cents a hundredweight is applied. Mr. Matheson said Prince Edward Island produces three-fifths of Canadian potato exports. Yet the tariff agreement provided that potatoes entering the U.S. were liable to a substantial duty throughout the year while American potatoes came into Canada duty-free for more than 10 months.

He also said his province supports a recommendation by Premier Frost of Ontario that the provinces be permitted to set up agricultural products marketing boards. Several years ago P.E.I. established a potato marketing board but the Supreme Court of Canada ruled the legislation invalid. This "practically wrecked the Prince Edward Island potato marketing scheme."

MacLeod Of MacLeod Is Greeted By Cape Breton

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) - A white-haired grandmother and the first woman to head Scotland's age-old Clan MacLeod arrived here Monday to be greeted by scores of the clansmen she calls "my children."

Flora MacLeod stepped from a plane at Sydney at 11 a.m. wearing a red and white bagpipes carried by the Gaelic College's MacDonal Hundred Pipe Band and spoke to a cheering crowd of a voice touched with a soft British accent.

She will visit other Maritime centres later this month. The 77-year-old chieftainess has maintained the traditional attitude of the degree. At the moment of exposition all of the 500 or more Knights attending will raise the swords in salute. A color guard comprising all available Knights in full formal attire with Capes and swords will be present and all members taking part will wear the traditional attire of the degree.

Those being initiated will include some 20 clergy of the Four dioceses covered by the N. S. P. E. I. Fourth Degree District. The bishops of all four sees have been invited to participate along with Most Rev. C. L. Landry Titular Bishop of Crossus, now resident in the Diocese of Antigonish.

CALL FROM AFAR
The bridge to her moated castle is always open to callers from the boundless realm of MacLeods. Visitors have come from Australia and South Africa, the United States and Cape Breton to visit the 28th chief of the clan has dispelled the doubts that surrounded her feminine leadership in 1934. She has visited many of the clan associations and kept touch with others by letter. Flora MacLeod was born in 1878 at No. 10 Downing street, the home of British Prime Ministers where her father, Sir Reginald MacLeod, was political aide to Disraeli. She lost her MacLeod name when she married a member of the Walter family, owners of the London Times. When the chief of the clan died she regained her MacLeod name and moved into the castle on the mist-shrouded Isle of Skye. VIKING ANCESTRY

Mrs. MacLeod traces her ancestry through 900 years of strict history to the Norse kings of the Isle of Man and through them to the fierce Vikings of Norway and Denmark.

In her 800-year-old castle lies the clan's greatest treasure, a flag that legend says was given to a chieftain's son by the elves. Supernatural powers have been attributed to the banner and twice it has been credited with saving the ancient castle from destruction.

Raised above a turret during a battle with an enemy clan, the flag is said to have turned the tide of battle in favor of the MacLeods.

Again when the castle was almost engulfed by fire, the flag of Canadian potato exports. Yet the tariff agreement provided that potatoes entering the U.S. were liable to a substantial duty throughout the year while American potatoes came into Canada duty-free for more than 10 months.

He also said his province supports a recommendation by Premier Frost of Ontario that the provinces be permitted to set up agricultural products marketing boards. Several years ago P.E.I. established a potato marketing board but the Supreme Court of Canada ruled the legislation invalid. This "practically wrecked the Prince Edward Island potato marketing scheme."

Disguised As Wife's Lover, Gets Jail Term
PURLLEY, England (Reuters) - A 33-year-old electrical engineer who disguised himself with a false moustache and dark glasses to pose as his wife's paramour and obtain a divorce was sent to jail here Tuesday for four years.

Montague Harris pleaded guilty to 10 charges, including forgery and perjury. The prosecution contended that Harris, masquerading as his wife's lover, and a Miss Hawkins, pretending to be Mrs. Harris, staged confessions necessary for Harris to obtain a divorce.

Later Harris persuaded Miss Hawkins to sign an acknowledgment in the name of his wife to make it appear that the divorce had been served on Mrs. Harris.

He was granted a divorce without his wife's knowledge, and married again. But his second wife left him when she learned how he had got the divorce.

Harris had asked his first wife for a divorce, but said that she did not approve and would neither help nor hinder him.

Final Today In N. S. Plowing

PARRSBORO, N.S. (CP) - Entrants from Cumberland and county Tuesday dominated the opening classes of the Nova Scotia provincial plowing match at new prospect.

Cumberland residents took top honors in three of the four classes. The championship will be decided today when five additional classes will be run.

Alfred Landry of Amherst topped the only other entry in the class for ex-walking plow champions Leon Taylor of Windsor, George Newcombe of Pugwash won the senior tractor plow and Allison Brown of Martock, Hants county, took the senior single furrow walking plow narrow bottom.

Today, Mr. Brown's plowing will be compared with the winner of the wide bottom class to decide the walking plow champion.
