Top Place Among Food Chains Is Won By Dominion Stores

TORONTO — Dominion Stores moved into the top sales position among Canadian food chains during the past year, President Thomas G. McCormack informed shareholders at the company's annual meeting this week.

Reporting all-time record sales by Dominion of $356,424,351, Mr. McCormack said: "This is the largest volume of annual sales ever reported by a Canadian food chain, including the Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. chains". The new record exceeds the former Canadian high by $31 million, he stated.

Ten years ago Dominion was in fourth place, behind Loblaws, Safeway and A and P, Mr. McCormack reported.

NEW STORES PLANNED

He attributed Dominion's advancement only in part to the addition of new stores, stating: "Almost a million loyal customers of long standing constitute the solid foundation on which we built the new sales record." He reported that a total of 90 million individual customer transactions were carried out during the year, and that an estimated 75,000 new customers were added.

During the next two years Dominion will open 75 new supermarkets, Mr. McCormack said. The rate of expansion, averaging more than three new units per month, will exceed even the most rapid growth rate of recent years he said. New units will be built in virtually every large Canadian city.

At present Dominion operated 342 stores from coast to coast, and has 13,700 employees.

"Continued immigration, high birth and marriage rates, the trend toward urbanization and the steadily rising standard of living give promise of a healthy environment for supermarket expansion in Canada for many years", Mr. McCormack said. He said that the constant development of new methods, machines and materials will evolve the more efficient supermarket of the space age, geared to low-cost mass food distribution.

Monument Commemorates 20 Years Powered Flight

BADDECK, N.S., (CP)—A monument commemorating 50 years of powered flight in Canada was unveiled on the grounds of the Alexander Graham Bell Museum here.

About 200 members of the Canadian Aeronautical Association watched as Nova Scotia Lieutenant-Governor E. C. Plow dedicated a stinless steel model of the Silver Dart, in which J. A. D. McCurdy made the first powered flight in Canada in 1909.

Mr. McCurdy, whose name appears on a metal plaque at the base of the monument, along with those of other aviation pioneers, was present at the ceremony. Attending also was Mrs. F.W. Baldwin of Toronto, widow of "casey" Baldwin, who flew over a New York state lake in 1908 to become the first Canadian to fly.

"Too often Canadians have underestimated or ignored the achievements of their countrymen," the lieutenant - governor said.

"If we are to become one of the very great and highly respected nations of the world, we must learn to honor and encourage our citizens who display outstanding qualities."
