With mid-term examinations in progress, college students are now finalizing their days at Prince of Wales are numbered. Looking back one sees a new awakening of college spirit brought about by academic and extra-curricular success.

The outcome of the City Hockey League is still unsettled. Summerville Aces, who won the league, defeated the Welshmen in the final game of a two-game total goal series. The winner of the summerville-Prince of Wales College series is scheduled to meet the Saints some time soon.

Princess of Wales Welshmen won the City Basketball League last Monday night after a schedule of games with the Nomads, Trotters and Salts. The finals for this series will get underway shortly. The team also anticipating a game with Queen Elizabeth High, who had Prince of Wales College last year at Halifax.

The second Prince of Wales variety show, Follies of '54, was a definite success this year. Director Paul Cudmore is to be congratulated on coming up with such a fine show, which featured both a student body and faculty. As a result the Students Council is financially secure for the remainder of the year. Since these shows have proved to be popular, it is hoped that they will be continued as an annual event in future years.

At a recent meeting of the fourth year graduates, William McCannell was elected class president; Norris Mizuna, Life President; Virginia Coffin, Secretary; Clair MacLeod, Vice-President, and Lloyd Seaman, Froopie. Although a class party has been held, more serious plans are being laid for graduation, which is not far off.

Next week at the college is "Coed Week"—a time when the girls do the chasing. So far a film is planned for Wednesday night, with a Sadie Hawkins Dance set for Friday. All males are hereby warned beforehand.

Potatoes Lead Way In Exports During February

With potatoes leading the way exports from the Province last month slightly exceeded the imports on the Cape Tormentine to Borden run of the C.N.R., according to figures released by the office of superintendent C.T. Montgomery. There were 990 carloads of freight brought over to the Island in February while this Province shipped 1016 to various destinations on the mainland. Of the 755 cars were loaded with potatoes, an increase of 53 over the same month last year. The next largest single commodity shipped was turnips with exactly the same number of carloads moving as in March 1953 when 85 cars left here.

Other principal items included livestock with 62 cars, a drop of 10 from last year; meats with 24, up seven cars; and less carloads with 65. In all the 1016 car loads represented a 44 car increase over March of 1953. Of the cars shipped there were 581 originating at points between Charlottetown, Borden and Summerside; 226 from points east and south of Charlottetown, and 210 from west of Summerside.

Biggest Import Items Gas and oils represented the biggest import item on the list last month as 246 carloads were brought to the Island. The principal imports with figures for the previous February in brackets are: gas and oils 246 (147); coal 232 (184); flour and feed 101 (132); less carloads 195 (238); autos 51 (67). Of the imports there were 880 carloads destined to points between Charlottetown, Summerside and Borden, 48 for points east and south of Charlottetown and the remainder of 62 cars for points west of Summerside.

It is interesting to note that last year in the 12 month period there were 8,203 carloads of potatoes shipped with November being the busiest month when 1,444 cars left here. When the anticipated supervisor of music is appointed by the Provincial Department of Education, many of the difficulties connected with the work of the Musical Festival Association will be removed.

Not least among these will be the lack of confidence felt by some rural music teachers, who fear they may not be putting the correct interpretation to numbers being taught, or possibly are not using the best methods in their teaching. To these persons a supervisor will be of great assistance. In the meantime, the services of the Refresher Course Committee are available and any one who is preparing entries for the festival, while working on, should contact the convener of that committee, Mrs. V. M. Hudson, 27 St. Peter's Road, Charlottetown, or phone 5835, and arrangements will be made for them to meet with one of the qualified musicians, and have their difficulties straightened out.

Anyone needing this help is making a mistake not to avail themselves of it, particularly as it has served as a stepping stone to ward qualifying for the scholarships awarded by the Scholarship Committee, which enable one teacher from each county to study music at a summer school. Don't put it off, teachers, make your contact right away.

Third In Series S.D.U. Centennial Lectures Planned

Dr. Lawrence E. Lynch of the University of Toronto will deliver the third in the series of St. Dunstan's University Centennial Year public lectures at the College Auditorium on Monday evening, March 15. A renowned authority on the philosophy of education, Dr. Lynch will speak on "The Layman's Interest in Philosophy and its Role in Present-Day Society."

When Dr. Lynch completed his college course in Toronto he had to make a choice between playing professional football with the Toronto Argonauts or continuing his study of philosophy. He chose the latter and, though still in his thirties, he has already won for himself considerable fame as both a lecturer and a philosopher. He is a recognized specialist in the philosophy of education. As a lecturer he leans heavily to the layman's point of view in questions philosophical.

In 1950 Dr. Lynch headed the International Students Service Summer Internals in Paris, and in 1951 he directed a similar seminar in Ottawa.

From St. Dunstan's Dr. Lynch will go to Boston where he is scheduled to conduct a seminar in philosophy at Harvard University on March 29.

Bruce Marshall, well-known author, and Louis F. Budenz, former Communist espionage agent in the United States, have already delivered addresses at St. Dunstan's in the current series of Centennial Year lectures. The public is invited to this lecture also.

2-Day Conference Here Concluded

Mr. J. W. Lucas, Director Testing Laboratories, Federal Department of Public Works, Ottawa, last evening concluded a two-day round table conference with Acting District Engineer Clive W. Currie and his associates.

The conference was designed to familiarize the men in the field with the operations of the Laboratories and the equipment available there to deal with local problems and also to clarify local conditions for headquarters officials.

Primarily the Laboratories make tests of every conceivable nature for several departments of government to insure that materials purchased meet reasonable specifications.

Three main Divisions deal with such materials as concrete, Portland Cement, concrete products, bricks, metals and metal products. The soil division treats with soils for foundation purposes as distinguished from Agriculture, and decides on the physical properties with a view to erecting a safe and economical structure on it. Samples from the proposed sites of buildings are sent to Ottawa and carefully analyzed in order to eliminate the possibility of settling as well as to verify for drainage.

The Chemical Division deals with the chemical analysis of many materials offered the government, especially paints, soaps and detergents, paper products, petroleum products, fuel oil, greases, waxes and polishes. The variety of uses to which these items are applied by the government, requires an accepted standard up to which the Laboratories require the manufacturers to produce on all contracts.

This was the first of a series of conferences between Ottawa staff officers and Maritime representatives, which will be followed by others dealing with different phases of departmental work.

Mr. Lucas leaves on return to Ottawa this morning.

Assistance To New Ayrshire Breeders

A plan for assisting new breeders was approved by the directors of the P.E.I. Ayrshire Breeders' Club at a meeting held at the Experimental Station Thursday.

Under the plan, assistance will be given on the purchase of the first three purebred females in the herd. It will be $25 if the animal is under two years of age and $40 for an animal over two. It will also be paid to calf club members, buying purebred calves, if there are less than three registered females on their father's farm.

To be eligible for the bonus, the animal must have some R.O.P. backing and be approved by an inspection committee.

This inspection will be done before the purchase is completed. Also approved was a plan to provide more assistance on transportation to P. E. I. exhibitions when the breeder lives over 20 miles from the exhibition grounds. The increased assistance includes a bonus to breeders exhibiting at this exhibition for the first time.

The Ayrshire breeders made further plans for the sale of breeding stock; sale to be held probably the 28th of May. It is hoped to have about 20 females in the sale and a committee of Lloyd MacLeod, Bridgetown, J. H. MacPhail, New Haven, and Edward Boswell, Victoria, were appointed to solicit entries.

All animals entered must have some R.O.P. backing and be approved by a selection committee. A few top quality young bulls may be included in the sale.

Petroleum Reserves Up

EDMONTON, (CP)—Increases in Canada's established liquid petroleum reserves continue to outpace the annual production rate. New discoveries and extensions of known pools accounted for a 300,000,000-barrel boost last year.

The country's total underground petroleum potential is set at 2,044,000,000 barrels in the annual report of the Canadian Petroleum Association, issued Friday. Reserves consist of 1,845,000,000 barrels of crude oil and 196,000,000 barrels of natural gas liquids.

Production during 1953 was 81,000,000 barrels of crude and more than 1,000,000 barrels of natural gas liquid. New discoveries in Ontario and New Brunswick combined totalled

Eloquent Tributes To Late Archdeacon Harris

The following tributes to the late Venerable Archdeacon Charles R. Harris, representative of all sections of the community, appeared in the Parrsboro (N.S.) Record of March 9 last:

From Rev. J. P. Hayes, pastor of St. Bridgid's Church: "My profound sympathy and that of the parishioners of St. Bridgid's Church go out to the sorrowing congregation of St. George's church in the loss of their beloved rector, Archdeacon Harris.

"True to his character he worked until his fatal illness made it necessary for him to relinquish his duties, he carried out well and faithfully for over thirty years in this section of Cumberland County.

"In his passing, Parrsboro has lost a very worthwhile citizen who always had its best interest at heart. He was a man of great charity and we trust that God in His infinite charity will give him that reward his soul ever sought—a place in that Kingdom where all is at peace and rest."

From Rev. D. H. Gass, pastor of Trinity United Church: "The citizens of Parrsboro in all walks of life, and of all religious persuasions, are saddened by the passing of the Venerable Archdeacon Harris.

"Having served in this parish for over thirty years, he has shared in the joys and sorrows of many people, and has brought comfort, hope and encouragement to many more, who mourn the loss of a friend and beloved pastor. His familiar figure and cheery greeting will be greatly missed by all citizens.

"It is with sorrow I learn of his passing, and in behalf of the congregation of Trinity United Church I extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved of St. George's Anglican Church.

From Mayor George P. Graham: "In the death of Reverend Archdeacon Harris our community has lost an outstanding citizen.

"He served St. George's Parish for over thirty years and took a keen interest in the civic affairs of the town. He served on the school board and was active in the Legion and the Red Cross. He was also instrumental in establishing our local hospital. His outstanding work with the young people should be an inspiration to us all.

"His death was untimely, but I shall always be glad that I knew him personally, and I shall think of his passing in those immortal words of Tennyson.

"Sunset and evening star, and one clear call for me! And may there be no moaning at the bar, when I put out to sea . . . Twilight and evening bell, and after that the dark . . . And though the flood may bear me far, I hope to see my Pilot face to face, When I have crossed the bar."

From Rev. W. C. Smith, pastor of the Parrsboro Baptist Church: "St. George's Anglican Church suffered a great loss with the passing of their beloved rector, Archdeacon C. R. Harris. He was known to us as a devout Christian gentleman, strong and steadfast for the right, a willing servant of all who needed his counsel and help.

"Besides being a faithful minister of God in his charge, he invested his life freely in the promotion of projects done for the good of all. He will be remembered for his many and valuable years of Christian ministry among us, as an untiring servant of God with a fatherly concern for the right and genuine love for the welfare of man.

"The world is richer because he lived, worked and died in the faith of the Lord Jesus Christ."
