

The Daily Examiner

JUNE 29, 1885.

Civic Economy and Taxation.

A "Citizen" wants THE EXAMINER to advocate as well and successfully the interests of the city as it does those of the country.

THE EXAMINER has, however, done as well for the city as it could—under the circumstances. We have always held that the affairs of the corporation should be conducted with the most rigid economy.

The amount of taxes may, however, be large or it may be small, and it will be fairly distributed, or (as at present) unfairly distributed.

But it would be well for our correspondent, and other grumblers, to remember that there are expenditures which may be made with advantage to the taxpayers.

The Prize List of last year was then reviewed and some additions made to it. In the class for horses an additional section was added, giving first, second and third prizes to the best stallions for general purposes.

There were twelve hundred and fifty-four new cases of cholera, and five hundred and twenty-seven deaths in Spain on Saturday.

Mr. Errington's Reward. Mr. Errington, M. P., Gladstone's Ambassador to the Vatican, has been made a Baron.

Scott Act Victory. The Scott Act was carried in Guyaboro on Saturday by a large majority.

For Bermuda. H. M. Gunboat Garnet has sailed for Bermuda.

Russia Not for War. A VERY REMARKABLE STATEMENT ON GOOD AUTHORITY.

The following remarkable account of the state of feeling in Russia on the Afghan question during the recent excitement there agent in England is from the pen of "B," the authoritative contributor of Contemporary Life and Thought in Russia to the Contemporary Review.

"Home affairs and interests have been engrossing public attention within the last few months. Everybody is feeling in Russia that the present time is not opportune for an enterprising foreign policy and the very inadequate results obtained by the war of 1877-78 have cooled Russia's jingoism for a good while.

"AN ounce of prevention worth a pound of cure" is an old adage but true. In view of predictions that this country is liable to be visited by more than an ordinary amount of contagious disease this year, it behooves all to inquire about and practice every sanitary measure, especially cleanliness, which as a preventive, offers some one means of escape at least; and in this how important the article of Soap as to quality fit for use; certainly all inferior grades made so by foreign substances and adulterations of a questionable character, should be rejected, that there may be no taint left on the person or clothes which might in any way invite the germs of these various diseases.

Having lately given currency to a paragraph which was going the rounds of the press, respecting the Rev. A. Simpson and the Rev. Mr. Nelson, it is but just that we should publish the following from the Halifax Presbyterian Witness, and we do so, moreover, with very great pleasure.

"Our respected contemporary the St. John Telegraph was led to publish a telegram from Halifax which stated that Rev. A. Simpson and Rev. Mr. Nelson had preached the same sermon in Park Street Church, that Presbyterian circles were excited over the matter and that an investigation would be held. The implication was that both Messrs. Simpson and Nelson had stolen the sermon from a common source. The story was wholly false with respect to both these gentlemen. By a curious but not very rare coincidence Mr. Nelson preached on the 14th June on the text that Mr. Simpson had on the previous Sunday. Each treated the subject in his own way. Of course, as the text had to be explained, the explanations given by two thoughtful and studious men were somewhat similar. The story in so far as it involved plagiarism was without the slightest foundation, and was calculated to inflict serious injury on the gentlemen involved. Mr. Nelson took the earliest opportunity of instituting legal proceedings against the journal which published the falsehood. Mr. Simpson was not at home when the story appeared; but it is probable that he also will take measures to vindicate his reputation in the matter. We have no doubt whatever that the Telegraph will promptly make all the amends in its power, and that the Editor will regret most profoundly the use to which his columns have been prostituted by reckless malice. Mr. Nelson has placed in our hands the manuscript of the discourse which he is charged with having plagiarized; and we shall have the pleasure of publishing it in our next issue."

P. E. Island Exhibition, 1885.

A General Meeting of the Exhibition Commissioners for this year was held at the Law Courts Building, in this city, on the 26th inst., at which the following gentlemen were present:

Hon. Senator Haythorne, Hon. John Balderston, Hon. Lauchlin McMillan, G. W. DeBlois, Esq.; Edward Bayfield, Esq.; Hon. Donald Ferguson, Hon. T. Heath Haviland, H. Longworth, Esq.; A. McNeill, Esq.; Geo. Mason, Esq., Lot 48; P. J. D. Edmunds, Esq., Summersville, Lot 66; Thos. Lannan, Esq., Summersville, Lot 66; Isaac Clarke, Esq., Cape Traverse; Wm. Mutch, Esq., Hopeton, Lot 48; Albert Boswall, Esq., Lot 49; Capt. Jas. Wood, Esq., Lot 48; Edward Kelly, Esq., Lake Verde; Geo. Sinclair, Esq., Malpique; Jas. H. Cumiskey, Esq., Fort Augustus; Daniel Simmt, Esq., Morell; Frank Boyer, Esq., Bunbury, Lot 48; Geo. F. Owen, Esq., Cardigan; Thos. Vissey, Esq., Little York; Abraham Gill, Esq., Little York; David Landrigan, Esq., Covehead; David H. Auld, Esq., Covehead.

A letter was read from Judge Hensley, regretting his unavoidable absence from the meeting, owing to the sitting of the Supreme Court at Summerside.

Hon. Senator Haythorne was then appointed Chairman of the meeting.

The Exhibition will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 7th and 8th.

The Rules and Regulations of last year, as published in the Prize List, were unanimously adopted, with an amendment to the effect that live stock will be received at the Show Grounds on Tuesday, Oct. 6th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., and up to Wednesday, Oct. 7th, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

The Prize List of last year was then reviewed and some additions made to it. In the class for horses an additional section was added, giving first, second and third prizes to the best stallions for general purposes, and a prize of $10 for the best walking horse over three years old, Gelding or Mare to be shown in harness and tested under direction of judges. In cattle, sheep, and pigs the list to be the same as last year. Exhibitors of sheep and pigs, to produce to the Secretary in writing, when entering their animals, proof of pedigree, stating age, &c. Poultry same as last year, adding best pair of Guinea fowls. The prizes for cheese were increased to $10 for the first, $6 for the second and $4 for the third best, to apply to farmers' make as well as Factory cheese. Butter prizes same as last year. Buckwheat was added to the grain class, and the prizes for peas and beans raised to $5 for the first prize and $3 for the second prize. With these alterations and some additions and changes in the fruit class and in roots and vegetables, and in the miscellaneous class, the prize list for the year 1885, will not differ very materially from that of the year 1884. Several questions of importance in relation to the management of our exhibitions were discussed, after which the Board adjourned sine die.

A. McNeill, Secretary. June 27th, 1885.

New Acadia.

The settlers on Burk's Road, Lot 43, met on Tuesday, the 16th of June, inst., for the purpose of organizing a new School District, and after the election of trustees and other routine business, proceeded to select a new name for the District, and unanimously decided upon "New Acadia," as the future name of the place. Concluding the business of the meeting with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, Mr. Charles McCormack, to the Chief Superintendent of Education for his prompt attention to their application, and to Mr. J. C. Underhay for the interest he had taken in their behalf.

The settlers in the above District with a few exceptions, have lately moved there from Rustico, and are an industrious, sober and intelligent class of people, and although many of their houses are surrounded by black stumps, and are only partly finished, there is an appearance of thrift and neatness that indicates that New Acadia will soon rank among the best settlements in the eastern part of King's County. The settlement is located on the new road from Naufrage to Rollo Bay, near Rollo Bay Station, the name of which might with propriety be changed to New Acadia Station; and a small extra expenditure on the road between the station and Naufrage would afford accommodation to many in the vicinity of Naufrage, and contribute materially to the convenience and improvement of New Acadia.—Com.

"AN ounce of prevention worth a pound of cure" is an old adage but true. In view of predictions that this country is liable to be visited by more than an ordinary amount of contagious disease this year, it behooves all to inquire about and practice every sanitary measure, especially cleanliness, which as a preventive, offers some one means of escape at least; and in this how important the article of Soap as to quality fit for use; certainly all inferior grades made so by foreign substances and adulterations of a questionable character, should be rejected, that there may be no taint left on the person or clothes which might in any way invite the germs of these various diseases. A first-class article, made by known reliable manufacturers, is the only kind that can be safely used or recommended. In the use of a standard soap, like the "Welcome," made by Curtis, Davis & Co., there can be no risk, being the goods of a firm whose name on soap is a sufficient guarantee of its purity.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.]

Doutre's Advice to the Maritime Fishermen.

OTTAWA, June 29. Joseph Doutre, Q. C., the eminent lawyer, strongly advises the Maritime fishermen to grasp the Upper Province market for fresh and pickled fish heretofore supplied by the fishermen of Gloucester. He calculates upon last year's imports of American fish sent to Ontario and Quebec, would pay eight hundred thousand dollars duty per year. American competition, he says, cannot stand in the face of that duty, and now is the time for Canada to secure and control the Canadian market.

Russia Not for War.

A VERY REMARKABLE STATEMENT ON GOOD AUTHORITY.

The following remarkable account of the state of feeling in Russia on the Afghan question during the recent excitement there agent in England is from the pen of "B," the authoritative contributor of Contemporary Life and Thought in Russia to the Contemporary Review.

"Home affairs and interests have been engrossing public attention within the last few months. Everybody is feeling in Russia that the present time is not opportune for an enterprising foreign policy and the very inadequate results obtained by the war of 1877-78 have cooled Russia's jingoism for a good while. The Skernevitz meeting and its consequences have been accepted by general opinion, not with enthusiasm, of course, but as a necessary recognition of the real distribution of influence in Europe. On the other hand, the latest complications in Central Asia have not produced the slightest political excitement. A curious contrast to the agitation created in England is presented by the indifference with which the news of movements on the Afghan frontier, interpellations in the House of Parliament, and agreements by telegraph between the courts have been received in Russia. Even the most chauvinistic papers did not try to raise the war-cry against England, certain as they were that it would be met by general disapprobation. No man in his senses ever believed here that a conflict was imminent; but this does not preclude a feeling of uneasiness as to the possible arising of exceptional circumstances. At any rate, if the opinion of the country has any weight in any matters, the prevailing wish for peace and distrust of adventures which may lead to war, must be taken as a favorable augury at least for the immediate future.
