Queen, Admirals Observe Anniversary Of Trafalgar

GREENWICH, England (AP)—The Queen dined Friday night with a hundred admirals by the light of a vellum-shaded candelabra at the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar. "An ocean of admirals," she observed. More than 200 other naval officers, Prime Minister Eden, the Duke of Edinburgh, First Lord of the Admiralty J. P. L. Thomas, and the First Sea Lord Admiral Earl Mountbatten, were among the 350 in the vast painted hall of the Royal Naval College.

Admiral Nelson died as he gained his greatest victory, defeating Spain. "LIVING FORCE" Queen Elizabeth, in answering the loyal toast, said Nelson "is still a potent and living force." The Queen hailed the humanity of the one-eyed, one-armed admiral who destroyed Napoleon's fleet without the loss of a single British vessel, and thus shattered forever Napoleon's dream of world empire. "I believe that his resourceful mind and rare courage would immunize the problems which face you today as brightly as they did those of his own age," the Queen said. Earlier Friday, crowds braved a cold rain in Trafalgar Square to watch the Duke of Edinburgh place a wreath at the foot of the 170-foot monument from which a towering statue of Nelson surveys London. FAMOUS MESSAGE Flags hanging from Nelson's pillar bore his famous eve-of-battle signal: "England expects that every man will do his duty." In Portsmouth harbor garlands festooned the masts of Nelson's flagship Victory. On the deck of the Victory, at the spot where Nelson fell mortally wounded during the battle, a naval chaplain held a memorial service. Royal navy vessels in all British ports dressed ship Friday in memory of Trafalgar. Fifteen-gun salutes appropriate to Nelson's rank were fired at noon.

Canada Marks 20 Years Liberal Rule On Sunday

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada marks 20 unbroken years of federal Liberal rule Sunday, easily the longest single stretch any one party has formed the central government at Ottawa since Confederation in 1867.

But only 10 of the men who helped the Liberal party achieve its mid-depression election sweep Oct. 14, 1935, have sat in the Commons continuously since that date. And only one man—Trade Minister Howe—has been a member of the federal cabinet without interruption since Oct. 23, 1935, the day the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his Liberal government assumed office.

MISSISSIPPI BY A WHISPER Agriculture Minister Gardiner misses being in the select 10-man group by a whisper. He resigned the Saskatchewan premiership in 1935 and was appointed to the King cabinet Nov. 4 that year but was not elected to the Commons until Jan. 6, 1939.

Other members of the 10-man group are Joseph Blain, Compton-Frontenac, parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Campney; Stuart M. Clark, Essex South; Zellus Denis, Montreal St. Denis; Wilfrid Lacroix, Quebec Montmorency; Rev. Dan McIvor, Port William; William G. Weir, Fort Neepawa, government whip; and Henry B. McCulloch. The latter, who with 25 years' service has been around longer than any present government or Opposition member, has announced

New Regulations On Textiles

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has decided to bring regulations into force to protect consumers against any possible deception in the labelling of textiles, Trade Minister Howe announced Friday.

The new regulations, to become effective next Jan. 1, require that labels on textile goods be clearly marked and set out in order of weight predominance "all component fibres containing at least five per cent of the material content of the fabric from which the garment is manufactured." Mr. Howe said. "However, should the same garment contain less than five per cent of another fibre, say nylon, this fibre cannot be described in a label unless it is clearly indicated that it was used to reinforce particular parts of the fabric."

Expect Premier To Win Voting In So Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—Politicians of all parties concede that Premier Ngo Dinh Diem will win Sunday's referendum in South Viet Nam by an overwhelming majority.

The people of this Indochinese state—the non-Communist half of divided Viet Nam—go to the polls to decide whether to dismiss their playboy head of state, Bao Dai, and replace him with the Roman Catholic premier.

Some estimates give Diem 85 to 90 per cent of the votes. The referendum is being organized by Diem's interior ministry. Each voter will receive a double-sheeted ticket with a dotted line down the middle.

One half shows Diem's portrait, with the caption: "I depose Bao Dai and recognize Ngo Dinh Diem as chief of state with the mission of setting up a democratic regime."

The other half bears a portrait of the ex-emperor, and the caption: "I do not depose Bao Dai and do not recognize Ngo Dinh Diem as chief of state with the mission of setting up a democratic regime."

Arrangements call for the voters to enter a booth, unaccompanied, to enter a ballot, and he was happy to announce its completion by Mr. H. W. Lea, consultant engineer of Montreal. The survey, which was conducted from the air, is accurate to within a two and one-half foot error. The Premier points out that only a ground survey which would still allow for a one foot error would be any better than the one completed.

Mr. Matheson said yesterday that the Government, a year ago, had promised that his survey would be made and he was happy to announce its completion by Mr. H. W. Lea, consultant engineer of Montreal.

Not all the 3,600,000 eligible voters are expected to cast their ballots. Some are politically indifferent and others are opposed to both Diem and Bao Dai.

Mr. D'Am, who left Viet Nam last year and has been living in France, mostly on the Riviera—for 18 months, announced earlier this week he had dismissed Diem from the premiership. But Diem ignored the order.

OTTAWA (CP)—Weekly wages and salaries during August following an expansion in industrial employment, the bureau of statistics reported Friday. Per capita weekly earnings of industrial workers rose 22 cents to a new top of $61.09, higher by $1.92 than in the corresponding period last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles set out for the Big Four foreign ministers conference Friday, declaring that the Western powers are "ready to meet every legitimate Russian concern for security."

ASIAN STATES PLEASED SINGAPORE (CP)—Asian countries-beneficiaries of the 17-nation Colombo plan set up five years ago to help develop their backward economies. Friday were reported heartened by promises of increased aid from Canada, Britain and the United States.

PARIS (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure announced Friday night he will ask the National Assembly next week to approve its own dissolution so that a general election can be held early in December.

MEETS EDEN Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, called on Prime Minister Eden at 10 Downing St. Friday. Officials insisted, however, that their meeting concerned only clerical appointments, many of which are made in the name of the prime minister because of the church's position as a national church.

Although Margaret has won time, the pressures upon her for a final decision one way or the other are known to be increasing. Some English newspapers have said that continued speculation here and abroad could lower the dignity of the throne. Parliament reconvenes Tuesday after its summer recess, with legislators ready to hear an announcement.

Margaret, who has been reminded by London newspapers that her royal duty is to help unite the country rather than divide it and whose marriage with Townsend would bring divisions, Friday morning heard the Queen pay a tribute to her father George VI and his personal sacrifices. The Queen unveiled a statue of the late king in Carlton Gardens.

Townsend was not at the unveiling, though it was King George VI who took him into the royal court as an squerry during the war and he was said to be a favorite with the late monarch.

Margaret took up a full royal schedule on her return from Scotland but has still found time to see Townsend almost every day.

SURVEY COMPLETED

City & Fringe Areas Included

The Government of Prince Edward Island has completed a five-foot contour survey of the Charlottetown, Parkdale and Spring Park area and the data compiled is available to the three fringe areas of the City.

Premier Matheson said yesterday that the Government, a year ago, had promised that his survey would be made and he was happy to announce its completion by Mr. H. W. Lea, consultant engineer of Montreal.

PLANS SURVEY

Jan Hunter, artistic director of the famed Edinburgh festival, has arrived in Ottawa to make a survey of possibilities for an annual international festival of music and arts in the capital. The idea has been brewing ever since Governor-General Massey suggested it in an address at the Ottawa Canadian Club in 1952.

Druggist Foils Holdup Men

NEW WATERFORD, N. S. (CP)—Plus MacLeod, New Waterford druggist, foiled two would-be robbers late Thursday night with sheer stubbornness.

MacLeod said two men followed him into his store as he was making his late-night check. They warned him not to turn on any lights and demanded they open the safe. MacLeod refused to comply despite their persistent demands. Finally the exasperated pair fled with a camera.

The druggist did not say how much money was in the safe. He said he could not recognize the men in the dark and did not know if they were armed.

TCA And CPA Swap Services

OTTAWA (CP)—A swap of major air services between Trans-Canada Air Lines and Canadian Pacific Airlines involving domestic and international routes goes into operation Nov. 1, air transport board officials said Friday.

The publicly-owned TCA takes over two CPA franchises in Quebec and Ontario in exchange for TCA's operation between Canada and Mexico.

The deal, approved by cabinet last August, involves these moves: 1. Canadian Pacific gets the Toronto-Mexico City run which the crown-owned TCA operates by way of Tampa, Fla. CPA will fly it non-stop.

2. TCA takes over the CPA service between Montreal, Quebec City, Saguenay, Que., and Sept Isles, Que., the outlet for the Labrador iron ore development.

3. TCA also takes over CPA's operation between Montreal, Val d'Or, Que., Rouyn-Noranda, Que., and Toronto.

4. Quebecair, an independent firm, assumes CPA's operation from Quebec City to Baie Comeau and Forestville on the lower St. Lawrence river. Quebecair flies extensively in that area.

TRUCK DRIVES OVER THIS MAN

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Montreal transport driver Nicola Jaconelli took care of a pedestrian here Friday and drove right over him to save his life.

Police said Nelson Genereux, 40, of nearby Bayside was walking across Highway 2 near here when he tripped and fell right in front of Jaconelli's huge truck.

Jaconelli said he realized he could not pull the truck off the road in time so he aimed it straight at the fallen man. And all seven pairs of wheels passed on either side of him.

Genereux got up, brushed his clothes, and headed for home. "I guess I'm lucky to be alive," he said.

Dragger Catches Sunken Plane On Fishing Nets

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—The dragger Nelson Miles out of Glace Bay reported by radio Friday her nets had caught on a submerged aircraft.

Her owners, P. J. Cadeagan Ltd., said no further details were immediately available as the radio of the Nelson Miles cut a plane that went down during the war.

RCAF search and rescue in Halifax said they had no reports of a missing plane.

A spokesman said "we've asked the RCMP to pass along the serial number if the plane is beached. Apparently the fishermen are trying to save their nets by dragging the object to shore."

Search and rescue said it was not known if the object was a plane or just part of a plane. "The details we've received are very brief."

"It might be part of a Constellation which crashed in the Gulf of St. Lawrence earlier this year but we believe it's probably a plane that went down during the war."

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's automotive reports said Friday the United States car industry will build 13,182 cars and 26,928 trucks in its U. S. plants this week. The total compared with last week's 101,581 cars and 24,888 trucks. The like 1954 week brought 45,649 cars and 18,653 trucks.

Period Not Yet Set Definitely

OTTAWA, (Special)—It was learned here Friday that Prince Edward Island Lieutenant-Governor Hon. T. W. L. Prowse will be asked to continue his duties until a date to be determined later.

Unlike certain top-ranking posts in the gift of the Federal Government, the office of Lieutenant-Governor is not rigidly limited to a term of years. All such appointments are for five years minimum during which time His Honor may not be removed from office except for cause. In a number of cases in recent years, terms of the Lieutenant-Governor has been extended at pleasure of the Government instead of a definite re-appointment.

Sir Leonard Outerbridge, Lieutenant-Governor of Newfoundland has served for more than six years as official head of that Province, and in Manitoba, former Lieutenant-Governor R. F. McWilliams served two terms and a third with only one re-appointment. Ample advance notice is invariably given to a Lieutenant-Governor when Federal authorities have a new appointment in mind.

Police Have Leads For Bandit In N.B. Holdup

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—RCMP said Friday the pasty-faced bandit who got away with $11,150 in hospital funds and bonds apparently used both gun and knife to kill one man and seriously wounded a second.

The search broadened throughout New Brunswick for the thin nervous fugitive who shot and wounded Howard Cunningham, 65-year-old business manager of the Saint John Tuberculosis Hospital, then plunged a knife 15 times into the body of ambulance driver Allison Graves, 40.

The bandit left both men sprawled on a lonely roadside 10 miles out of town Thursday after an eerie cross-town ride at gunpoint during which Cunningham tried desperately to "talk some sense" into their captor. Police said he was about 26 and "very pale."

Cunningham was being treated for bullet wounds in the neck. His condition was favorable.

The killer slid swiftly into the front seat of the ambulance on the heels of Cunningham when the latter returned from a King Square bank with the money and bonds. He rammed a gun into Cunningham's ribs and ordered the startled Graves to head out of town.

He was reported to have said he had only three months to live and nothing to lose.

Police found the truck-like ambulance little more than an hour later in the Saint John east end. The chassis was punctured by bullet holes and blood was splashed across the front seat.

TOLD TO "GET GOING" The statement by RCMP inspector Jules A. Couillard said in part:

"The assailant entered the ambulance of the Saint John TB Hospital at approximately 11.15 a.m. Thursday and ordered the business manager of the hospital, Howard W. Cunningham, and Allison Graves, the driver, to 'get going.'"

"He directed them to the scene where the body of Graves was found, shot Mr. Cunningham through the neck and then apparently attacked Graves who received 15 stab wounds. There is no indication at present that any bullet entered the body of Graves."

TOOK AMBULANCE "Cunningham was removed from the ambulance and the assailant departed with the ambulance, taking $6,000 in cash and $5,150 in Dominion government bonds."

"The bonds were registered in the names of various hospital patients. 'We are at present following several leads but would, however, appreciate any information the public may be able to afford in respect to the individual who forced his way into the ambulance...'" the statement added.

Mrs. Cunningham said earlier Friday that her husband tried vainly to "talk some sense" into the bandit but the latter refused to listen.

Saarlanders Are Warned To Keep Voting Orderly

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (AP)—The European commission for the Saar warned Saarlanders Friday night to maintain order and calm during Sunday's plebiscite on Europeanization of the rich valley.

The warning followed a commission announcement that the Saar's borders will be sealed tight on Sunday to keep out any foreign troublemakers during the voting and counting.

Senator Fernand Dehousse, the commissioner's Belgian chairman, told a press conference the recent relative peace of the hotly-contested plebiscite campaign "might change in the last days or on Sunday itself." He said the voting must be conducted with "order and calm worthy of a democracy."

Temperatures are running high as the campaign for approval of the statute placing this coal and steel-rich territory on the French-German border under Western European Union control nears an end.

mean that the territory will go to Germany but that the status quo will be maintained.

The statute provides a firm economic and customs union with France, internal self-government and supervision of the Saar's foreign relations by a high commissioner to be appointed by the seven-nation WEU.

As the plebiscite campaign hits its climactic phase, pro-German elements made two new efforts to interfere with rallies addressed by Hoffmann. A crowd halted his French limousine with a road block on a dark highway and surged toward him. Police turned on fire hoses to clear a way for the premier. A hidden loudspeaker drowned out the last part of Hoffmann's speech at Querscheid. Police finally found it, attached by a long wire to a microphone in the cellar of the building.
