

CH'TOWN DRIVERS IN BIG RACE

JUNE BYRD'S JACK FERGUSON

HI JAY'S BUDDY CAMPBELL

Everybody loves to watch a parade

Everybody loves a parade, and this year, for the first time in Old Home Week history, Charlotteville will have its Gold Cup and Saucer parade in connection with the big race Friday night.

The idea is the baby of Guardian-Patriot publisher W. J. Hancock, and promises to be one of the largest and most colorful parades ever witnessed in Charlotteville.

The idea of parades goes back into Egyptian and Roman antiquity when returning victorious armies paraded through their home cities; the athletes of the first Olympic Games paraded before and after the games, a custom preserved to this day; circuses hallooed their entry into town with a parade, a preview of what is to come under the big top; for years in the southland the travelling minstrels were welcomed into town to the jazzed up beat of tall-gate trombones; soldiers, sailors, airmen, Boy Scouts, Shriners — everybody parades and everybody loves a parade.

That is why the Gold Cup and Saucer parade cannot go wrong. Because a parade brings a smile to the face, a lift to the step, a felling of goodwill among the viewers that is equalled only by Christmas.

The best of a drum, the compass-hop of the brass, the sound of marching feet — all these things are a rallying cry for youngsters of all ages, from two to 102.

In a week of geniality and carefree spirits, such as Old Home Week always is, no other single factor can serve so well to unify a crowd and give it a lift as a parade such as the Gold Cup and Saucer promises to be.
