

A Lost Opportunity.

Mr. George Washington Cole, of Chicago, didn't come home at the usual time, nor the next day, and Mrs. Cole becoming alarmed, began a search for him. She was not successful, and after seven days, as a last resort, visited the morgue. The keeper listened to her description, and then said he thought he had a subject that answered to it. The wife desired to look at the body, and she was shown into the dead-house.

After viewing the subject pointed out to her very intently for several minutes, Mrs. Cole burst into tears and declared that the body was that of her late husband. But in order to assure herself that she had made no mistake she requested the keeper of the morgue to turn the body over, and see if there was a large scar on the back of the neck. As he proceeded to do so, a set of false teeth fell out of the mouth of the corpse upon the marble slab.

"Stop!" exclaimed Mrs. Cole, wiping away her tears; "George never wore false teeth."

"You blamed fool!" growled the keeper of the morgue, addressing the corpse, as he roughly threw it back to place and picked up the false teeth; "if you had only kept your mouth shut you might have had a decent burial."

A Distressing Occurrence.

Train men from the north bring an account of a most distressing occurrence which happened near Weldford on Tuesday last. It appears that while a farmer's wife in that locality was on her way to visit a neighbor she was attacked by a savage bull dog owned by the party on whom she intended calling. The animal was driven off by the women of the house, no men being around, but not before the dog had bitten the woman's hand badly. The brute was then shut up in the barn and the injured woman taken into the house. They had hardly got in, however, before the infuriated dog had bounded through the window and again seized the unfortunate woman's hand, lacerating it so badly before he could be driven off that when medical aid was called in it was necessary to amputate the whole hand. The dog was shot as soon as the male members of the house returned home, and at latest accounts the woman was doing well, though her nervous system received a terrible shock.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up, disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, indigestion, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle, 10 cts. Try it.

Y. A. GOODENOUGH, 168 East St., New York City, states that in October, 1884, he suffered so with pneumonia that his physicians advised him to leave this severe climate, which he did. In the following year, 1885, he was taken with another attack and feared he would have to go away again and give up business, but by advice he tried Adamson's Balsam, which has entirely cured him. It is with his permission that we publish this. Trial bottles 10 cts.
