Gov't Wants Kings Co. Designated For Help

By DON MACLEOD
Industry and Natural Resources Minister Leo Rossiter said in the Legislature Wednesday, the provincial government intends to press federal authorities to have Kings County declared a rural development area under the agricultural rehabilitation and development program.

The statement was made in reply to a question from Walter Dingwall, P.C. and Mr. Rossiter noted that Prince County had been declared a development area last year, why Kings County had not.

Mr. Rossiter said it was the government's intention to have the whole province declared a development area, but federal authorities would not permit setting a precedent to declare a whole province a development area.

These reports which will be summarized and passed on to the heads of the departments concerned, are now in the hands of the division of industry and natural resources.

In the mail is a report of a study made by Edward Tombs of the American Agricultural Institute. This report was mailed Feb. 17 and should arrive any day now, Industry and Natural Resources Minister Leo Rossiter said yesterday.

The Tombs report is said to deal with practices which could be implemented in the development of economic life in Prince County.

It has been suggested that when all reports of the survey are in, they could be used to draw up a master plan for the whole province.

Mr. Matheson asked Mr. Rossiter whether or not there has been any agreement between the Maritime Provinces on offshore mineral rights. Mr. Rossiter replied that no agreement has been reached.

HUNTER

I saw no helicopter could land.

Shortly before 11 a.m. Thursday when Mike's ice cake had divided to "a piece about 90 feet square" an RCAF Search and Rescue Albatross aircraft passed overhead.

He took off his coat, put it on the ice but was stopped by heavy seas.

The pilot attempted to taxi up to the ice but was stopped by heavy seas.

One member of the five-man crew put in a rubber dingy and paddled to within a few feet of Mike. He jumped into the water and grabbed the side of the boat.
