

SUB LIEUT. AND MRS. DAVID CLARK

Scottish Bride Marries Naval Officer At Trinity

Trinity United Church was the scene of a wedding ceremony on Saturday, May 7, when Anne Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wilson of Glasgow, Scotland, became the bride of Sub-Lieutenant C. David Clark, RCN, son of Mrs. C. Ronald Clark of Charlottetown and the late Mr. Clark.

Rev. John G. E. Ball officiated at the double ring ceremony. Joseph B. Herdman played the wedding music. Baskets of white carnations and pink and white daisies decorated the church and the guest pews were marked by clusters of lily-of-the-valley.

Given in marriage by Wm. R. Hamby, the bride wore a full length gown of corded silk designed with a scooped neckline and lily point sleeves, the full skirt and cathedral train further accented by a large bow. Her shoulder length, four-tier bouffant veil of illusion net was held in place by a single white rose with petals and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, lily-of-the-valley and ivy.

Mrs. H. Wayne Hamby was a patron of honor and wore a floor length brocaded blue satin gown with elbow length sleeves and matching headress. Her bouquet was of white carnations tied with blue.

The mother of the groom wore an ensemble of pink shantung silk dress with matching lace coat and hat to match.

H. Wayne Hamby was best man and the ushers were Sub-Lieutenant J. W. Loube, RCN and Sub-Lieutenant F. W. Chapman, RCN, of Halifax, N. S.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Roop, 66 McGill Ave. Kathy Hamby was in charge of the guest book. The bride's table was centered by the three-tier wedding cake encircled with clusters of fern and lily-of-the-valley.

Sub-Lieutenant J. W. Loube proposed to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. The best man read telegrams from the bride's parents and relatives of Glasgow, Scotland, who could not be present for the ceremony.

The bride travelled in a suit of oatmeal tweed with navy accessories and her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses. After a brief honeymoon spent in Moncton and Saint John, the young couple have taken up residence in Halifax, where the groom is a member of the crew of HMCS OTTAWA.

The groom is a graduate of Dalhousie University with a BSc degree and the bride has been studying nursing in Glasgow, Scotland.

Out of town guests included: Gladys Clark and Elvira Pike of Saint John, N. B.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Churchill Godard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Gower and daughter Elaine of Lancaster, N. B.; Mrs. P. R. Fowler and son Robert and David Norris of Windsor, N. S.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Colpitt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie and daughter Dawn and Susan of Moncton, N. B.; Sub-Lieut. J. W. Loube and Mrs. Loube, and Sub-Lieut. F. W. Chapman and Mrs. Chapman of Halifax, N. S. (Photo by R. B. Hamby)

WI Delegates Chosen For District Meet

The roll call was answered by twelve members and one visitor at a meeting of North Westshire Institute held at the home of Mrs. Harrison Balderston.

The president opened the meeting with the month's thought. Routine business was transacted and reports given by various committees. Mrs. Frank Stevenson's name was added to the entertainment committee.

Correspondence was read and discussed. One resolution adopted was to assist the North River fire dept., and members volunteered to collect for same. Other members offered to clean the community hall. It is of interest that the work on the centennial project in regard to the hall will commence in June.

Mrs. M. F. MacLean and Mrs. Ralph Nave were appointed to attend an executive meeting at Rose Valley to finalize plans for the district convention being held at Central Queens Regional High School, Hunter River on June 9th.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Campbell with slips, plants, hubs or seeds for community planting and refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. C. R. Campbell and Mrs. Baden Balderston. Mrs. Hency Godfrey and Mrs. Baden Balderston were appointed to attend the TB League meeting and resolutions for district convention were read and voted on.

The topic for the next meeting will be the district convention. Programme consisted of a reading by Mrs. Lowell Balderston, "Mothers Are People".

ELLEN'S DIARY

Spring Day Enchantment Lightens Farm Tasks

"What did the Indians call this moon?" one of the children inquired this evening, when we talked of the May-moon, new come.

"The planting moon" we replied.

"Why, so it is!" he smiled. "Spoon now, Monday perhaps, will bring it to light in a brave bow above a hilltop to wish upon, and know there will not fail to come for us a succession of lovely things: sunsets and dew-falls, the magic of new mornings, the peace of the dusk; buttercups and daisies, clovered winds and roses; winding summer lanes, and the face of quiet waves washing on the warm sands."

The leaves on the birch tree this morning were the size of a squirrel's ear. "We must get to the sowing" James said. But not today. From field to field the tractor and gearing moved, breaking down, fining, smoothing, preparing the seedbeds.

"By the first of the week" the younger farmer offered, "if things go well, we should get first seed in the ground."

Today too saw the fencing continue, and more of the herd were let from the stables to the grass. These, we remembered were the days farmers longed for when lofts bared and winds were cool and there were night-frosts. Here now was its green rolled, once more over the pastures and haylands.

"There'll be no hay left gathered this summer, I'm thinking. Every straw will be saved" a visiting farmer who had felt the pinch of circumstance offered today.

"And the straw too of the harvest—that's for sure!" one of ours added with a grin. And the Saturday's work was ours: a woodbox to heap for Sunday, kindlings to speed the fires; loaves to mix and bake, empty cookie jars to fill. "And now" Peter called from the sandpile when the afternoon sun was smiling down, and we came to a door to look out at the heart of the Maytime, "couldn't we take a walk? We'd like to show you that waterfall up the stream."

In the heat, lads' shirts were discarded, and presently "just to try it" bare feet tested the warmth of the flow. The ripple—how musical it is, now that May sets the measure. We stopped to enjoy it, and admire the gold of the cowslips rooted close by. Chips were set asail to happy young laughs and chuc-hies. And all the time, but how enchanting is a May day, which, birds, sunshine and bird-song and other loveliness together and gives them to humans to enjoy!

And our week was but a breath a rustle of sound in a stillness, comprised of pretty dawns and gentle twilight and days that slipped quickly away.

Today was good. Tomorrow, As someone has said, "I know not if tomorrow's way, Be steep or rough. But when His hand is guiding me, That is enough. And so, although the veil has hid Tomorrow's way, I walk with perfect faith and trust, Through each today."

The love of God has hung a veil Around tomorrow, That we may not its beauty see, Nor trouble borrow. But, oh, 'tis sweeter far to trust His unseen hand, And know that all the paths of life, His wisdom planned, Until Monday—Diary— Good-night.

The Baltic Women's Institute met on Monday evening, May 23 at the home of Mrs. Bruce Riley. In the absence of the president, Mrs. David Cousins conducted the meeting. Plans were made for the district convention to be held in Spring Valley.

Kensington UC Dedication Service Held

At the beginning of the service at Kensington United Church on Sunday morning, May 29, the recently installed organ which had been presented by their family, was dedicated in "Loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. William Caseley," by the minister, Rev. G. D. MacBeth, BA., BD. The accompanying tonal cabinet which was also dedicated at this time, had been purchased through memorial gifts given in loving memory of George H. Brookins, Mr. and Mrs. George Davison, Mrs. Preston Kennedy, Harold Laird, Mrs. Alvin Glover, Bruce Paynter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Casey and James E. MacKinnon; through U.C.W. memorial gifts; and through donations given by members of the congregation. Also dedicated was a book of remembrance which will preserve a permanent record of memorial gifts given by the congregation. This was presented in memory of George H. Brookins by Mrs. Brookins and family. The cabinet, on which the memorial book rests was constructed by Floyd Caseley.

A total of 200 communion service books also dedicated at this service was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Walford MacEwen. The organist, Margaret Walker accompanied the choir "as they sang the anthem, "Teach Me to Pray," and led in the service of praise. For his sermons the minister chose for his theme, "Sacrifice and Song" taking for his text the words found in the 27th verse of the 29 chapter of 2nd Chronicles, "and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began also"
