SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

THIS HOCKEY LEAGUE that has been arranged for folks in and around Charlottetown and Summerside received a real boost in stock when the Garrison Juniors and Summerside Aces clashed at the Sports Arena Tuesday night.

The night didn't exactly end on a pleasant note for the Charlottetown fans who had turned out hoping their Juniors would wallop the classy outfit from Summerside. However, the most disappointed Garrison fan was ready to admit it was a bang-up hockey game and a continuance of the same would soon attract larger crowds to the hockey rinks.

THERE WAS NO DISPUTING the fact that the better team won the battle on Tuesday. Juniors fought gamely all the way but the Steelemen had just too many answers for the moves of the Garrison boys. The western visitors appeared in the pink of condition and kept skating all night with the high-flying Juniors. The Aces had to come up with their victory the hard way, trailing 3-1 after one period of play. They were able to hold the locals scoreless the rest of the way while they themselves managed to beat the Garrison goalie on five occasions.

The Juniors never stopped trying and they missed several great chances to add to their total. A combination of fine goal tending by Thane Mann and erratic shooting by the Juniors, kept the Orin Carver-coached lads from getting their total above three.

WE THOUGHT the Juniors didn't shoot enough once inside the enemy line. On several occasions, they had chances at Mann but elected to get a more advantageous spot. That spot didn't come most of the time because the Aces had stolen the disc away.

You can't beat the law of averages and if you keep shooting on that net, a certain portion of those rubbers [are going to find their way behind the opposing goaltender. The Juniors appeared to want their goals to be of the pretty variety but they all count, pretty or ugly.

This is in no way a criticism of the scrappy Juniors who certainly are deserving of applause for their fine showing against the strong Summerside club. However, we do think that by shooting more they will score more goals.

And scoring goals is a mighty important item in any hockey game.

AFTER THAT FIRST PERIOD on Tuesday, you could hear grumbling among some fans about the officiating of Walter Lawlor and Joe Bernard in the first session. Lawlor and Bernard were right on top of every play and the slightest infraction was blown down and the offender shipped off to the penalty box. In all 14 penalties were called, seven to each team.

It's true that some of the penalties might have gone unnoticed but after the brawl these two teams staged in Summerside last week, Lawlor and Bernard weren't taking any chances. They wanted to show the boys that they mean business and the boys apparently took them at their word. Not a single penalty was called the rest of the night.

We wholeheartedly agree with the policy of Tuesday's referees. If you don't show these players in a real hurry who is the boss, they'll walk all over you. Lawlor and Bernard weren't in the mood to be scared Tuesday night and as a result, the game was never close to getting out of hand.

TORONTO MAPLE LEAFS are expected to ice a new player when they play Canadiens tonight in Montreal.

He is Larry Regan, former Boston Bruin who was picked up for the 15,000 waiver price by the tallent Leafs. The other three that Bruins put on the waiver list were not touched by the Toronto organization. They were Dutch Reibel, Norm Johnson and Real Gheverfills.

Regan had a great Stanley Cup series last spring and should have plenty of good hockey left in him. A change of scenery may be just what is needed by the young Irishman. Reports of dissension in the Bruins' camp give reason for the four players being cut loose.

There are numerous cases of players who, when traded away, found new life and went on to become top N.H.L. stars. This Regan, who plays centre and right wing, could be another such player. Two years ago he was voted the rookie of the year award.

Although missing eleven games through injury last season, he still managed to collect 39 points, 11 goals and 28 assists. In the Stanley Cup playdowns he had three goals and eight assists. It seems the Maple Leafs can surely use a chap like Larry Regan. It seems mighty good business picking him up. It would be hard to imagine a tallent club letting him slip by.

But we must say we are surprised that the Leafs decided to grab Larry. The way their front office has been operating lately you would almost expect Toronto to let him go by.

Perhaps they are beginning to wake up.

Man, it's been a long sleep.

DONNIE WHELAN, well known in hockey and baseball circles as a most able player, has been transferred to Moncton and will leave next week for the New Brunswick city.

Don, a C.N.R. employee, will be missed here in both these branches of sport. He was the type of young gentleman that made his calls without hesitation. He had a thorough knowledge of the rules of the game and this quality made him just about tops as far as Island officials are concerned.

This column joins with his many other friends in wishing him the very best in Moncton.
