New York: Market mixed; late improvement.

Monteral — Market mixed to higher; trading moderate.

CURRENCIES

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed Tuesday at a discount of 1 27-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 1-32. Pound sterling $2.76⅜, up ⅛.

TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market staged somewhat of a feeble rally Tuesday near the end of trading but it wasn't enough to pull the market on to higher ground.

Base metals recorded index-gains of one-half point but the number of losses held an edge over the number of gains. Golds and western oils had slim losses on index.

The speculative interest which featured trading last week was missing for the second straight day, although a few mines were more active. On the whole, however, traders seemed to be in a cautious frame of mind, such as they were until two weeks ago.

Mines and western oils were uninteresting, moving in a fractional or 10-cent range in most cases.Senior base metals were the stocks which received the biggest lift in the closing rally. International Nickel, which was down as much as ¾, closed with a ¼-point gain at 78¼.

Index changes: golds off .44 to 76.40; base metals up .54 to 148.70; western oils off .22 to 133.45.

TIMELY NOTES ON FUR FARMING

At the Oslo Fur Auction, Oslo, Norway, on January 8, a collection of 10,000 blue foxes was 100 percent sold. The average price was 130 kroner-equal to about $23.40. The top price was 200 kroner (about $36.00). United States buyers were the largest purchasers.

An offering of 3,000 silver foxes was about half sold at prices averaging about 60 kroner. France was the largest buyer.

KING MINK

An American who is a keen student of fur trends, predicts that mink will continue its reign as popular sovereign of the fur business in the United States. For those who like to be changing their fur wearing apparell, milady can have a mink wardrobe which will have anywhere from four to ten different types, such as natural mink, white mink, tourmaline, diadem, leutetia and several other types.

The mink "wardrobe" idea is being used in some of the top fur salons where displays are almost breath-taking in their beauty and variety.

The United States federal trade commission has agents that endeavour to see that retailers do not pass off inferior or wrong types of furs under labels that make them appear as the real thing. These agents are paid from a fund which Congress allotted for enforcement of the fur labeling act. It has made possible intensified inspection in the larger fur-selling cities of the United States.

In enforcing the fur products labeling act, the division inspected 104,710 fur products, examined 29,319 fur ads, and inspected 1,372 concerns. Where false labeling occurred, legal action was taken.

FIRST AWARD

A first award of a newly created "Order of Merit" for the Canadian fur industry was made last week to Michael Morris, managing director, A. Hollander and Son, Ltd., Montreal. Known as the Morris Memorial Award to perpetuate the memory of the late Maurice Moses, president and founder of Maurice and Marks, Ltd., Montreal, the presentation took place at the annual meeting of the Fur Manufacturers' Guild, Inc. In the absence of Mr. Morris, now in Florida, Ben Gold, director of Maurice and Marks, presented the award to Robert Sabler, Mr. Morris' son-in-law.

The Guild has instituted this annual award, in the shape of a wooden shield, to be presented to the person who, in the opinion of the trustees, has made the best contribution to the general welfare of the Canadian fur industry. The late Mr. Maurice, is is recalled, was a fur man whose contributions to the betterment of his fellow men in furs were widely acknowledged.

HELPED INDUSTRY

Mr. Morris, the first recipient of the award, is the accepted dean of the Canadian fur industry today and has been national honorary chairman of the Fur Trade inception of this corporate group. Association of Canada since the Closely associated with several welfare programs, he has "initiated numerous projects that have had lasting beneficial effects on the fortunes of the fur industry," the Guild says, in making known the award. Mr. Morris, who is also president of the Hollanderizing Corp. (Canada) Ltd., Montreal, was chairman of the Seamen's Fur project during World War 11, and from 1941 to the end of hostilities served as administrator of the skins and fur garments section of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa.

The Hudson's Bay Company general sales of furs are scheduled for January 20 and 21 in Montreal. On the first day, wild-caught furs will be sold, and on January 21, a total of 10,000 dark ranched mink and 50,000 mutations, the latter to include 20,000 pastels, 13,000 sapphires, 12,000 silverblue, and 5,000 miscellaneous, will go. Selling on both days will start at 9.00 a. m.

Under the old Roman civil law, arson was a crime punishable by death.
