
A NEW CHAIR — designed for the handicapped by Miss Jacqueline Cummiskey, is tried out by Tami MacDonald, 3, of Charlottetown. It is hoped that equipment of this nature will enable handicapped children to be given more care within the family circle. The chair was manufactured at the woodworking plant of McAskill Woodworking Ltd., in Parkdale.

Furniture Is Designed For Handicapped Here

The combined efforts of Miss Jacqueline Cummiskey, the Junior Red Cross Society and McAskill Woodworking Ltd., Parkdale, has resulted in devising equipment by which handicapped children may be able to obtain more home care.

Miss Cummiskey is a social worker with the provincial department of health and national chairman of the home care committee of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children. Jobs at which she works long and arduous hours.

Recently she was able to interest the woodworking firm, headed by Daniel McAskill who is also greatly interested in the plight of the handicapped child, in the designing and manufacture of a special type of chair.

To carry out this project funds were needed, and Miss Cummiskey last fall heard that the fund for needy children at home and abroad sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, was looking for a provincial project.

Miss Cummiskey spoke to the organization of the special needs of the handicapped child, and as a result the Junior Red Cross donated $500 for the purpose of carrying out experiments with Bloomfield, for Requiem High Mass at 9.30. Interment in the church cemetery.

To obtain first hand knowledge on the subject, Miss Cummiskey contacted a number of leading manufacturers of special care equipment for children, and ordered a number of pieces of equipment. These ranged from feeding plates with suction cups on the bottoms to special baby carriages for older children.

From the information obtained Miss Cummiskey has been able to design a number of furniture items for the handicapped, all with the purpose of helping parents to provide greater assistance to these children.

Mr. McAskill was one of the first local firms to offer Miss Cummiskey full co-operation. But his interest does not end their. Both he and Mrs. McAskill frequently transport handicapped children from Sherwood Hospital each Sunday for church services.

various types of equipment.

Plane From Seal Hunt Lands In National Park

A light plane which has been taking part in the seal hunt off the Magdalen Island made a forced landing in the Prince Edward Island National Park area yesterday afternoon.

The plane owned and piloted by Alex Morrison, Chipman, N.B., landed on Covehead Harbor about 4 p.m. The ski-equipped plane landed on the ice and Mr. Morrison and his son, William are staying the night at the home of Harry MacLaughlin, Stannope. They hope to continue their flight to Chipman today.

Mr. Merrison told park superintendent, Eric Kipping, he was very glad to see land after flying over a very large expanse of open water. He said his carburetor was starting to ice and a landing in minutes was imperative.

The Chipman man said he had tried to reach Alberton before the storm struck but on realizing he couldn't, he sought the nearest P.E.I. shoreline which was at Covehead.

Mr. Morrison is the owner of a fleet of three planes which have been engaged in the seal hunt with Glen Matthews and his party from Alberton. He said last week's sudden storm which caught the sealing parties on the ice also forced him down on the ice field, but fortunately they encountered no great difficulty unlike the place from Newfoundland which cracked up with the loss of the pilot's life.

Mr. Morrison said the plane which he was flying yesterday will return to the seal hunt off the Magdalen Islands in a day or so. The pilot of one of the planes in the fleet had flown home last weekend and would be returning with this plane later, he explained.

The light plane was tethered to the park boundary fence last night by Mr. Morrison Mr. Kipling and Chief Park Warden Albert Murphy.

N. Y. Stocks Make Gains During Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market produced a surprisingly substantial gain last week, considering the general lethargy that prevailed most of the time.

Trading was at the dullest pace in more than four months and the market made a decisive advance on only one session, Monday. Throughout the week, however, despite cross-currents and an almost continuous irregularity, there was persistent demand for selected blue chips, the oils especially.

The result was that, even on two sessions when there was an excess of losers over gainers in the over-all list, the stock market averages edged upward steadily, thanks to advances by a number of the blue chips which compose them.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a substantial gain of 12.71 at 672.43. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks showed a net gain of 3.7 at 254.8.

Volume for the week sank to 16,744,920 shares from 19,057,800 the week before. This was the lightest for a full, five - day trading week since the week ended last Oct. 20, when 16,682,390 shares changed hands.

RAILS RALLY

The week began with a big rally by rails on Monday. Buyers were drawn to rail stocks by news that the supreme court had upheld a lower court ruling which permitted the rails to change work rules.

At the same time, steel production advanced for the fifth straight week.

Meanwhile, the economic background remained mixed. One disconcerting item to Wall Street was news that the unemployment rate had risen in February to 6.1 per cent, the largest proportion in fourteen months.

Quiet investment demand for blue chips continued right to the end however.

Most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Chrysler, up ⅛ at 88¾ on 264,800 shares; Sunday DX Oil up 3⅛ at 32¾; Avnet Electronics, up 2⅝ at 23½, General Motors, up 1¾ at 62.

Most active issues on the American Stock Exchange were:

Reinsurance investment, up 1 at 7⅝ on 128,600 shares, Perfect Photo, up ¼ at ⅜; Lefcourt Realty, up 1-16 at 7-16.

PROVINCIAL TYRO CURLING CHAMPIONS

Shorthorn Ass'n Backs Beef Producers Ass'n

Strong support was voiced for the P.E.I. Beef Producers Association here Friday, when the Shorthorn Breeders Association met in annual session and voted $100 to help the new association's finances.

Keith Parrett, Belmont Lot 16 was named president and Stanley Hurry, Winsloe is vice-president. Sterling Wood, Mt Herbert was re-elected secretary treasurer. The members expressed disapproval of selection of Shorthorn sires for the artificial breeding unit serving this province, and moved to ask for representation on the sire selection committee.

The breeders agreed to support the idea of a Lassie Queen and one Princess for the coming season's activities and agreed to hold a field day late in June. The time and place will be selected later by the directors.

The Shorthorn regional show will be held at the Crapaud exhibition, the bonus at the provincial exhibition is the same but the amounts to boost the Rural Youth Fair has been increased as have the special prizes for the Easter Beef Show and Sale.

The money from the association for the Rural Youth Fair has been doubled and the special prizes offered to the champion Shorthorn steer and the reserve will be $25 and $15 respectively. The Canadian association offers special prizes if a Shorthorn steer hits the grand championship circle or the reserve.

Red Wings Nip Boston Bruins

BOSTON (AP) — Norm Ullman scored his 20th goal of the season after he stole the puck from Murray Oliver for the winner as Detroit handed Boston a 4-3 National Hockey League defeat Sunday night.

Already assured of a Stanley Cup playoff berth, the Red Wings stormed back from a 2-0 deficit and took charge in the second period against a crumbling Bruins defence.

In that middle session Thorburn, N.S. native, Lowell MacDonald got his second tally of the season, then Ullman struck on his unassisted play.

Boston got one back in the finale when Guy Gendron botched his 21st of the season but it was too late.

START QUICKLY

Johnny Bucyk and Dean Prentice got Boston off to a quick start, the Bucyk tally at one minute 56 seconds ending a scoring drought for the Bruins of 144 minutes, 11 seconds.

The Red Wings started their comeback in the final two minutes of the opening period with Gordie Howe getting the equalizer at 19:18. Howe's 34th goal pushed his league-leading point total to 76.

Much of the credit for the Detroit victory belonged to goalie Hank Bassen, subbing for Terry Sawchuk, who is being given a rest. He had 39 saves. Boston lost the services of centre Murray Oliver during the second period with a pulled ligament in his left knee.

SUMMARY

First period: 1. Boston, Bucyk 25 (Oliver, Williams) 1:56; 2. Boston Prentice 18 (Leiter) 4:33; 3. Detroit, Smith 9 (P. MacDonald, Ullman) 18:10; 4.
